FRAGMENTS.

S. J. LYNN, Esq., goes east to-morrow.

The Central Pacific train was four hours late to-day.

The Brigham Young College opens at Logan on Monday next.

W. H. BANCROFT, Esq., of the D. & R. G. W., left Denver for Salt Lake to-day.

A PRIMARY Association fair is to be held at Richmond, Cache County, shortly.

The earnings of the Denver & Rio Grande for August, amounted to $614,680.

PROF. GEORGE CARLERS opens his School of Music this evening, at 38 w., Second South Street.

The sale of tickets for "Saints and Sinners" commences at the Theatre box office to-morrow morning.

JAMES DALY was the only individual arraigned in the police court to-day. He was fined $5 for being drunk.

A. M. PALMER's company appears at the Salt Lake Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week.

J. H. BENNETT, Esq., general freight and passenger agent of the D. & R. G. W., will arrive from the east this evening.

The excursionists from Bear Lake and Cache Valleys to this city will arrive at 7:30 p. m. to-day, at the Utah Central depot.

Those voters who were registered for the city election only should be again registered for the November election for Delegate to Congress.

The sale of seats for all three performances of A. M. Palmer's Company at the Theatre, will commence to-morrow (Friday) morning at 10 a. m.

The examination, before Commissioner McKay this morning, revealed the fact that there is a crook on Vine street that ought to be abated as a nuisance.

Messrs. B. W. DUFFIN and B. C. SMITHSON and an 11-year old boy, of Woodruff, Arizona, narrowly escaped drowning in the Little Colorado river, a few days ago.

MEMBERS of the family of Mr. Cottam, of the Fifteenth Ward, were subpoenaed yesterday to appear before the grand jury, in some case to be investigated by that body.

The pieces to be sung by the congregation at the next meeting of the Sunday School Teachers' Association are, "Give Us Room that We May Dwell," and "Let Love Abound," from the Union Tune Book.

ALL members of the Primary Associations of this city, who can sing, are requested to meet at the Social Hall at 8 p. m. on Saturday next, the 11th inst., for singing practice. They should bring hymn books and copies of the Sunday School Union song book with them.

LOCAL NEWS.

Pamphlet by Gladstone.—We are in receipt of a pamphlet written by the Right Honorable W. E. Gladstone, M. P. for Midlothian, in which he makes a personal criticism of his position regarding home rule for Ireland. Persons interested in British politics will take great pleasure in reading this little work. For sale at Dwyer's.

His Last Song.—We have been made the recipient of a copy of the latest song by Evan Stephens, Esq. It is entitled "Dear Old Happy School-days," and is published by Stephens and Sons, Cleveland and Chicago. It is an easy piece, much after the style of the many popular songs of the day, and will probably be more widely sung than other pieces by the same author, on account of its style.

Eat Sparingly.—It frequently happens that immigrants arriving in Utah in the fall of the year, when fruit is abundant, secure cases of illness result from eating too freely of it. From instances of the kind that have lately come under our observation, we are led to offer a word of caution in this regard to our newly arrived friends. Eat sparingly of the tempting fruits until you gradually become accustomed to them.

The Last Issue.—The Woman's Exponent of Sept. 1 is a good number. It contains a poem, "Thou and I," by Augusta Joyce Crocheron, which contains passages of unusual merit; an essay by "M. A. T." of Smithfield, entitled "An Udd Home," a good article by "A Plural Wife," entitled "Prejudice Blind to Facts," "An Emphatic Protest," by a Salt Lake lady; and an interesting array of communicated editorial and selected matter.

More Proof that it was Spite Work.—A gentleman familiar with the facts, states that a mother and daughter, who were among the immigrants detained at New York, had passage money sent to them by two of the mother's children living in Utah, and two boys who were held had been sent for by an aunt in Utah, who furnished their passage money.

The more fully the facts are made known, regarding the detention of the immigrants, the more clearly does it appear that at least some of the officials having to do with it, were actuated by a spirit of spite, rather than by a love for the law in its spirit and intent.

Thief Arrested.—W. H. Clark, Sheriff of Sevier County, arrived yesterday on the D. & R. G. from Scodell, having in charge a man named Charles Brown which had been arrested in Iron County for stealing. According to Mr. Clark's statement the prisoner came to Scodell on the 13th of August and was seen first making his way out on a freight car. He loitered about town during the afternoon, trying on several occasions to trade with the salaried diner. Finally on observing the U. C. stables open and no person in sight, he walked in, took possession of a saddle, bridle, halter, overcoat and gun which he found there and a horse that was hobbled in the yard. He then, with an outfit of traveling accoutrements and a horse willing to accommodate him with a ride, he put out in the direction of Iron County. Mr. Wilcox, the owner of the stolen horse, rode at once to Richfield and swore out a warrant, when he and Sheriff Clark started out on the trail of the criminal. The fellow had kept in the two of the mountains, stopping occasionally at the feed stores, until he discovered that the pursuers were on his track when he started across the valley and was overtaken by Sheriff Clark. Besides the articles taken from Scodell they found in his possession a rifle and two pistols which had been stolen from ranchers on the way. He had also exchanged horses. The prisoner was brought to Scodell where he was examined and was committed to the sheriff of Utah County to await the action of the grand jury. Sheriff Clark pronounces him a tough looking customer and says he has met nothing like being a deer from justice. —Prov. Engineer.

An Unusual Nest.—Yesterday a complaint was filed with Commissioner McKay, charging a woman named Josie Reese with threatening to kill a neighbor, Mrs. Jennie Hicks. The accused was arrested last evening by Deputy Marshal Greenman, and an examination was conducted by the Commissioner to-day. The witnesses for the prosecution were Mrs. Hicks and Sydney Harrison, who for the defense were Josie Reese, Violet McIntyre and Christina Clark.

The testimony adduced by the prosecution was to the effect that Mrs. Hicks resided on Vine Street, on Arsenal Hill, Seventeenth Ward, and the house belonging to Mr. Hudson. She is very deaf, and is also easily annoyed. She was further in the habit of singing when in the house, and of playing on the harp. This latter action on her part called forth the ridicule of the Reese and McIntyre girls, who are engaged in and respectively. The latter reside next door, in a house belonging to E. P. Austin, nephew of Mr. Hudson. The frequent quarrels between the two girls and Mrs. Hicks culminated in a fight on Tuesday evening, in which rocks and glasses were thrown at the latter, and the Reese woman made threats of killing her. In his testimony Mr. Hudson said the house was frequented by a great many young fellows, and gave the names of three who are members of respectable families in this city. They stayed there nearly all night, reveling in the most unbecomingly orgies. The owner of the house was now in Idaho, engaged as an assayer, and was an astro-nomer, and furnished items for the United States Nautical Almanac.

The witnesses for the defense claimed they kept a respectable house. They said they were employed by Mr. Austin who gave them what he could afford for their services. The Reese girl said her parents live in Provo. The McIntyre girl came from Iowa, and was a relative of the disreputable Mrs. Carrie Bockwell Stewart. They admitted that they were visited by young men, but denied that they were prostitutes. They claimed that Mrs. Hicks always started the quarrels, and assumed the air of injured innocents. Their appearance and conduct, however, was decidedly of that "brassy" character which indicated beyond a reasonable doubt that they were anything but respectable.

After hearing all the evidence, the Commissioner said he would adjourn the matter over for the grand jury's investigation, and the accused was released on her own recognizance. If the Commissioner will have this case of keeping a disreputable house vigorously prosecuted, he will receive the approval of the respectable portion of the community.

There is no doubt that the place is a vile den, and that the quicker the residents and resorters thereto are made to feel the hard of the law the better it will be for the public morals.

The "Habemus Corpus" Case.—This morning the matter of the application of Hyrum Goff for discharge from custody was taken up before Justice Zane. The petitioner was sworn and testified that his homestead was worth about $800. He had ten children under 21 years of age. He had sold his interest in Goff & Co.'s store for $1,500, giving $1,000 to his first wife and $500 to his second, for their support. Mrs. Goff was also called as a witness and corroborated the above statements. She had worked for the support of herself and children, and had placed the $1,000 out at interest. Messrs. Richards and Rawlins appeared for the applicant. It was argued in his behalf that the transaction was a valid one; that he had not had the property required by law and should be released; it was not an act of justice to compel his family or friends to pay the money, and send him to jail, when the total sum was so small. Mr. Varian started to reply, but Judge Zane stopped him, saying it was unnecessary, as he would not reverse the Commissioner's decision. Mr. Goff's fine was paid by his friends and he was released. The amount was $394.45.

Trouble Brewing.—For some time past there has been blood exhibited between the cattle men and sheep-owners in the western part of Wyoming. Quite a number of the sheep-owners are Utah men, who have kept their flocks in the vicinity of Billings, Wyoming, because of the fine pasture afforded there. The cattle men in that district have complained for some time that their winter ranges were rendered almost valueless by the sheep, and recently have posted notices in various parts of the locality, referring to warning sheep herders to keep off the ground. The notices are couched in emphatic terms, and contain the information that the cattlemen mean to have their own way, and if that is not obtainable by fair means they will resort to foul. The herders are determined to remain on the ranges with their flocks, and from present appearances it is not unlikely that some rash act may be committed before the dispute is settled.

House Searching.—At half past nine o'clock last night several deputy marshals, headed by Captain Greenman, surrounded the house of Joseph H. Ridges, in the Nineteenth Ward, in order to gain admittance warrants of arrest were presented for Mr. Ridges, on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, and his daughter Florence Ridges, as a witness in the case of the United States vs. J. H. Dean. Neither of the persons wanted were present, but a search was made of the house, barn, garden and every nook and corner about the place were subjected to a close scrutiny. The deputies had been informed that Mr. Ridges and his daughter were at home, but went away claiming that such was not the case at the time of their visit.

Going to Provo.—The Provo Enquirer announces that Brother Henry E. Giles, of the Fifteenth Ward of this city, is about to locate in the capital of Utah County, where he will preside at the organ in the meeting house, and at the large one to be erected in the new Tabernacle. In the removal of Mr. Giles to Provo, Salt Lake loses a talented musician and a good citizen. The Enquirer pays him a well merited compliment in saying that he is one of the finest piano players and teachers in the Territory. He will also open a school of instruction in music on the piano and organ.

Corrections.—A correspondent from Wallburg, Washack County, writes some corrections of statements made by a correspondent from the same place, which appeared in the News-Exponent some time ago. The flood which the town had experienced did, he says, much less damage than the first writer reported. The flood did not cover it all. The new meeting house at Wallburg is 45 x 28 instead of 90 x 45 feet in size.

Bonds Filed.—Before Judge Zane this afternoon, the bonds of $100,000 required from Mr. John Beck, in the Burke-Beck suit, were accepted and filed. This opened the way for the Burke-Beck & Champion Mining Company, represented by Mr. Beck, to resume operations.

Canvassing Trip.—William R. Jones will shortly start out on a canvassing trip, through the northern counties of the Territory in the interest of Parry's Monthly Magazine.

Lively in Ogden.—The deputies seem to be pretty active in and around Ogden lately. Yesterday they arrested Henry Tribe on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, who, on being taken before Commissioner Black, waived examination and was released on a diving ball in the sum of $1500.

Court Reporter.—Judges J. B. Rosborough, R. Harkness and J. G. Sutherland, the committee appointed to examine into the qualifications of applicants for the position of Third District Court stenographer, made their report this afternoon. Mr. Frank E. McGurran, of Michigan, received the unanimous endorsement of the committee and was appointed to the position. He is about 23 years of age, and the work done by him in the center shows him to be a stenographer of marked ability.

FLOODS.
 DAMAGE DONE BY DISTURBANCES OF THE ELEMENTS.
 KANAB, Sept. 2nd, 1938.

Editor Desert News:
 Our usually quiet burg, has been somewhat disturbed of late, by a series of floods, from which a slight amount of which our town is located. The first of the series, came thundering down upon us on the 18th of August, and amongst other capers, burst in the cellar door of the tidling office, and filled the cellar in a few seconds. A number of the citizens turned out and dug a drain, and drew off the water on the following day, but now ever, before the building had settled somewhat out of shape.

THE NEXT FLOOD
 came 2 upon us about noon on the 28th ult., and piled up considerable sand upon several town lots, and caused considerable uneasiness to families. Several of the next in order, was the flood of the 31st ult., which occurred soon after noon, and principally damaged Stewart, J. L. Bunting, and J. G. Brown. Also another rush of waters between 3 and 9 that evening, not quite as heavy. On the 1st inst., during the forenoon, the

HEAVIEST RAIN STORM
 known for some time, passed this way, and the result was, the largest and last flood of the series. Not so much damage was done this time as might have been expected. Several of the houses were picked up by the water, and the flood turned where it did not do as great an amount of damage. Some of the houses were picked up by the water, and the flood turned where it did not do as great an amount of damage. Some of the houses were picked up by the water, and the flood turned where it did not do as great an amount of damage.

THE QUESTION WITH US NOW, is, how we can control the large amount of water that now flows through the town. We have a large quantity of excellent land, and as good a climate as can be found anywhere, but we need more help, and some capital to develop our resources. Our town ditch has behaved very well this season, and the fruit crop is very good, as also are the gardens. The grain crop is nearly a failure, owing to the lateness of getting water upon it. Stock men are doing well, as the range has been better than usual for the past few years. Several of our citizens are investing in sheep, as this country is well adapted to that branch of industry; it also furnishes much labor in herding, shearing, freighting wool, etc. Some attention is being paid to the raising of turkeys, and cattle, which will soon tell its own story. Respectfully,
 ALLEN FROST.

PACIFIC COAST NOTES.

CULLED FROM WESTERN EXCHANGES.

E. M. BARNARD, an old Californian, attempted to jump off a moving train at Towles, Cal., Sept. 2, and fell on his head, receiving fatal injuries.

A destructive fire occurred Sept. 2 in the grain fields near Ogden, Utah. Cal. Two dwellings, 300 cords of wood and 120 acres of grain were burned.

Two British sealing schooners arrived in Victoria, B. C., Sept. 4th, with about 4,000 skins, having evaded the United States revenue cutter.

At Stockton, Cal., Sept. 3, Thomas Sedwick, 91 years of age, attempted to cross in front of a railway train, and was struck and killed by the locomotive.

William Elsner and Jacob Bates, employed on the Cascade branch of the Northern Pacific, were instantly killed by a falling tree one day last week.

At Virginia, Nevada, September 4th, William Thomas, convicted of an assault upon his eleven-year-old daughter, was sentenced to ten years in the State prison.

A terrible and fatal accident is reported from Jordan, Oregon, on Sept. 4th. At the east end of the Northern Pacific tunnel through the Cascades a mass of rock and earth fell, burying nine white men.

At Visalia, Cal., Sept. 2, two brothers, Luther and Worth Brown, quarreled over a disreputable woman, and Worth shot and killed his brother. The woman took poison in an attempt to kill herself.

At Los Angeles, Cal., September 4th, three trams were killed on the railroad by falling from brake-beams of a train in the city. A locomotive, owned by James Oscar, of Charleston, S. C., the others had nothing on their bodies from which their names could be learned.

On Sept. 4, Geo. Siebe, a merchant of San Francisco, was driving alongside of the railway track in one of the streets of that city. A locomotive came along and frightened his horse, which sprang on Siebe's track. Mr. Siebe was caught by the engine and crushed beyond recognition.

At Petaluma, Cal., Sept. 1, Pearl Holmes, a nine-year-old girl, was burned to death. A can of coal oil that was burning on the stove in the kitchen exploded and the child was burned to a crisp before the flames could be extinguished. The house was burned to the ground.
