TONIGHT'S BIKE RACES.
Three Professionals Will Compete in Five-Mile Motor Event.

A five-mile motorcycle race between J. E. Ayers, Saxon Williams and O. L. Stephens will be the principal event at the Salt Palace track this evening. The race will be run on the new track, which was built for the purpose of holding the Olympic games.

The amateur event will be a two-mile open lap race in which all the pros will be entered.

The amateurs will compete in a mile handicap race, and those who fall to get a place in this race, will be given a place at the prize offered for a half-mile consolation race.

CHANCE FOR SAMUELSON.
Will Be Given an Opportunity to Race Against Frank Kramer.

Billy Samuelson will be given a chance to show his speed and endurance when he races against Frank Kramer, the man who lost to him at the Salt Palace.

Manager Heagren of the Salt Palace announces that Kramer has wired him, asking for a match with Samuelson for the middle of August. Samuelson at once accepted, and the date of the race will be decided later.

The champion is now at St. Louis, competing in the races there, and if possible, will bring home with him some riders from the circuit. He will likely remain here until September when he will sail for Australia.

AN OLD IDEA
Shown to be Absolutely False by Modern Science.

People used to think that baldness was one of those things which are handed down from generation to generation, from father to son—just like a family heirloom.

Science has shown the fallaciousness of this belief by proving that baldness is not a constitutional disease, but only the result of a germ invasion of which the hair follicle can effectively rid the scalp.

Washing only cleans the scalp of Dandruff, it doesn't kill the germ. Destroy the cause you remove the effect.

Neuro's Herpicide will do this in every case. It is also a delightful dressing.

PUGS WHO CARRY MARKS OF BATTLE

They Are the Old Time Fighters Who Fought With Bare Knuckles

THOSE OF TODAY DIFFERENT.

Majority of Them Show No Scars, Although Some Have Broken Nose Or "Cauliflower" Ear.

In former years, say a decade or so ago, the pugilist who did not wear the badge of his profession in the shape of a broken nose or an enlarged joint of a "cauliflower" ear was a rarity. A man was not considered the proper sort of a fighter unless his countenance bore traces of the battles he had engaged in. Now, however, very few of the prominent fighters are so conspicuously marked that their calling is recognizable to the casual observer.

There are several reasons for this, one being that boxing has improved tenfold since the time when John L. Sullivan, Jack Dempsey and Jack McAuliffe were the kings in their respective classes. Pugilists of the present day are admittedly cleverer, quicker and better boxers than their brethren of just past years.

They have learned to keep their heads down and to receive a punch without flinching. It is not at all unusual to see a fighter who has been in the ring for years without a mark on his face, and who is as good as new when he comes out of the ring.

But there are still some pugilists who carry the marks of battle on their faces. These are the old time fighters, who fought with bare knuckles.

ENTER BATTILING NELSON.
What a Prominent Sporting Writer Thinks of Chicago Lad.

That Battling Nelson of Chicago has fought his way to a prominent place in the annals of pugilistic stars. There can be no doubt that Otto Fiore of the Denver Post has to say about the boy who really got his start on the road to fame, here in Salt Lake City:

Enter Nelson. He has paid the admission fee. Henceforth when making up the state as to who shall sit at the head of the featherweight table, the poundage of which runs all the way from 125 to 135 pounds, Battling Nelson must not be left out of the calculations.

That Nelson, Canole, Hanlon are scamps that are dangling at his belt. He is now eager to annex that of Young Corbett. In fact, he is now a contender for the title of Terry Murphy, his manager, will camp on the trail of the champion until he surrenders.

In last night's fight Nelson proved to be all that has been claimed for him. The further the battle went, the better his chances.

A boy who can live under fire that would put other fighters away. Game as a pebble and like the gruel-

All these things have been said about him, and all are true. The question now is, can he stand up to the test of a real fight? This would almost be a question of opinion. At any rate, he has fought Young Corbett.

There is all the world in the world between Hanlon and Corbett. The former ties himself up in a "crouch," a position from which he cannot deliver a blow that is effective against a contender like Nelson. Corbett stands erect and every time he swings his right, there is something behind it that makes "pay day" today.

Still it must be admitted that in late fights Nelson has not shown that he is the punch of early days. He hit Britt on the jaw ten times, and never brought him down. This would almost have been impossible a few years ago. We here remember how Eddie Santry, Jimmy Kelly and others went down when they got the punch.

If Nelson and Corbett ever fight, the latter will be a contender for the title of the Battling Nelsons who can get in the line of the champion should a contender be off, the Chicago fighter will win against him the same as against any other man.

That's what means a great deal to a fighter.

Here is Nelson, who six months ago was classed as a preliminary fighter around Chicago. His first prominence was gained when he fought Charlie Neary at Milwaukee. Then his manager, Teddy Murphy, picked up a paper and saw that they wanted a lighter of about 135 pounds in Salt Lake City. He wired there and secured the bout.

That was his opportunity.

His victory over Neary drew the attention of Billy Roche to him. Billy has a club in San Francisco, and was looking for a contender in the middleweight class. He wired to Roche and secured the bout.

There was opportunity again.

The showing Nelson made against Canole, who was a contender for the title of the Frisco fight fans and they wanted more of it. About this time Eddie Hanlon, who was a contender for the title of the Frisco fight fans and they wanted more of it.

There was opportunity again.

"PENNY" GOSSIP.

John the Honest, and his band of swiftpickers, from Boise, are due to swoop down upon us tomorrow for a series of games with the locals. Considering the crippled condition of the home team, the outlook for Salt Lake is not very encouraging.

If Frank Kramer will meet Samuelson in a three-mile race at the saucer, local cyclists will be given a rare treat. In a half or one-mile race Billy would have to go down upon his lap race for professionals, but in a three-mile event he is as good as the best.

Manager Heagren of the saucer track has arranged for a big meet for next Friday evening. The main events will be a 10-mile open lap race for professionals, and a trial for the mile record for motor-cycles. In the lap race, in the event of a breakdown or spill, the unfortunate riders will be allowed two laps.

E. H. Heagren will attempt to lower his record of 1:14 on a double cylinder motor cycle. There will be a two-mile open lap race for amateurs, and a half-mile open lap race.

Weed, Muller and Tozer still belong to the Salt Lake franchise and they cannot be forced to go where they do not wish. In spite of the state of their release, to Shreveport, in the Southern league. The decision is rendered by President Lucas of the P. C. C. league will not stand for it," says President Lucas.

The evident intention of the Salt Lake club was to weaken the team, and according to the wire I have received from Seely, Farrell, the players belong to the franchise and they shall stay with Salt Lake.

FINNISH ALLIANCE.
Declaration on Finland's Attitude Towards Russia.

New York, Aug. 1.—The Finnish National Alliance of the United States has issued a public declaration concerning Finland's attitude toward Russia, in which they say:

"We regard it as our duty to assure the American people and the entire world that the Finnish people are not a respectable woman or man in Finland, excepting fortune seekers, who do not grieve in despair over the downfelling of her most sacred human and civil rights, the ruin of her educational institutions and the destruction of her peaceable system of civil government for
