

Snell, Judge McCarty officiating. The rooms were bright with flowers and greens arranged with charming effect, and a large number of the relatives and friends were present to enjoy the pretty affair. The bride wore a handsome gown of cream crepe de chine with trimmings of real lace, and carried white roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Cora Snyder, was daintily gowned in white and girle of pink and carried pink carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Snyder will be at home after Oct. 1, at 231 D street.

Among the pretty weddings of the week was that of Miss Clara B. Gilson and Samuel N. Randolph, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Gilson, Rev. P. A. Simpson officiating. After the ceremony a supper was served, the families and intimate friends being present, and following a reception was held, a large number of guests filling the rooms. The home was beautifully decorated, and refreshments were served during the evening. The bride wore a becoming costume of white peau de sole over taffeta, and carried roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Kate Gilson, was gowned in tan grenadine over pink silk and carried pink asters. Mr. F. M. Macy acted as best man. Assisting were Mrs. C. L. Gilson, Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. E. B. Stewart and Mrs. Ethel Gilson. Mr. and Mrs. Randolph

The wedding of Miss Irene Dickson and Russell R. Schuller on Wednesday night, was one of the most brilliant in local social annals. St. Mark's cathedral was the scene of the ceremony, and was beautifully decorated for the occasion in the chosen colors, white and yellow, with greens in palms, ferns and smilax as a complement. Palms flanked the altar and chancel, and ferns and smilax with great clusters of yellow chrysanthemums made a house of the whole. Down the center aisle stretched ropes of smilax festooned from pew to pew and at the end of each pew was a bunch of chrysanthemums tied with bows of white satin ribbon, while a broad band of white satin ribbon closed the aisle till the entrance of the bride party. Eight o'clock was the hour set for this event, and the opening strains of "The Bridal Chorus," played by Mr. Peabody, announced their approach. The ushers, Messrs. Cannon, Shoup, Satterlee and Richards came first, followed by the bridesmaids, Misses Jessie, of Cleveland, Ohio, Miss Alice Farnsworth, Mr. Phil T. Farnsworth, Jr., and the younger brothers and sisters of Mr. and Mrs. Lund with a few of their intimate friends, completed the gathering. The

A second interesting bridal event took place on Thursday night at St. Mark's church, when Miss Winnie Welby and Mr. Frederick M. Earls were married in the presence of a throng of friends. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock, and the entrance of the bride party was announced by the strains of the "Bridal Chorus," played by Mr. Peabody, the ushers, Dr. F. C. Chisholm and Messrs. A. B. Sawyer, Frank Roberts, and Mark Clark, coming first; and the bridesmaids following. These were Miss May Crenshaw and Miss Elsie Dickert, and following them came the maid of honor, Miss Lena Welby, while the bride came next, walking alone. They were joined at the chancel steps by the groom and his best man, Mr. O. P. Overfield, where the betrothal service was read by Dean Edlie, and then the marriage ceremony was performed by Bishop Leonard. During the two services "Cavalieria Rusticana" was played, and at the close of the second, the Mendelssohn march. The bride wore a charming costume of white crepe de chine over taffeta, with long veil of tulle, and carried bridesmaids. The maid of honor was in pink crepe de chine, and carried pink roses, while the two bridesmaids wore white mull, and held bouquets of white roses. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, palms and clusters of white roses, and at the home of Bishop and Mrs. Leonard, where the wedding supper was afterward served to the bride party and intimate friends, autumn leaves, sunflowers and asters were used with artistic effect. Later Mr. and Mrs. Earls left for Glenwood Springs, and after a short stay there will return to make their home at 1271 east South Temple street.

On Thursday night the wedding of Miss Margaret Snell and Barnard Snyder took place, the ceremony being performed at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Messrs. Will Eall and Frank Judge were hosts at one of the prettiest luncheons of the season on Thursday at the Country club. There were 25 guests, and the party sat at a long table beautifully decorated with pink roses and ribbons, the centerpiece being a large candelabra surrounded with roses and pink ribbon bows, these last having long streamers which reached to the corners of the table. At either end were smaller candelabra also surrounded with pink roses the whole being most effective. After the luncheon a putting contest was enjoyed. The guests were Mrs. David S. Murray, Mrs. Sam Porter, Mrs. Harris K. Masters, Mrs. Robert G. Smith, Mrs. Thompson of Helena, Miss Dorn, Miss Goodale, Miss Salisbury, Miss Woodward, Miss McGrath, Miss Dooly, Miss Noble, Miss Burke, Miss Young, Miss Emily Read, the Misses Miller, the Misses McIntyre, the Misses Kinney and Miss Laura Sherman.

Today was the last of the social program at the Country club, Mrs. Russell Tracy being hostess. Tea was served, and an approaching and putting contest was engaged by a number of the members. Tonight a table d'hôte dinner will be served.

A very enjoyable family party was entertained at dinner on Sunday, September 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Lund, 59 West street, the occasion being the fourth wedding anniversary of the host and hostess. Four generations took part in the celebration, the guests of honor being the well known Utah pioneer, Bishop John H. Murdock of Beaver, grandfather of Mrs. Lund, and great-grandfather of her two little sons, Conrad and Philo. The party also included the children's four grandparents, President and Mrs. Anthon H. Lund and Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Farnsworth.

Among the out-of-town guests were Prof. Anthon Lund and wife of Provo, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lund of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. E. E. C. Glasier and daughter, Miss Jessie, of Cleveland, Ohio. Miss Alice Farnsworth, Mr. Phil T. Farnsworth, Jr., and the younger brothers and sisters of Mr. and Mrs. Lund with a few of their intimate friends, completed the gathering. The company was delightfully entertained by music from Prof. Lund, after the following toast given by Miss Glasier:

Four happy years have fled,
Since the golden September day
When brown-eyed Julia with heart of gold,
At love's behest left the sheltering fold
Of her girlhood's home for aye.

Her sweet face all alight
With tenderest prophesy,
Dear eldest daughter, her parent's pride,
She pledged her faith as a trusting bride.
No fear of the future had she.

Four years of shade and sun,
And a life that has richer grown;
For a mother's cares bring her joy unalloyed,
No mine could buy it with its hoard of gold.
Those two bonny boys of her own.

And the husband, stalwart, true,
With life's best gifts endowed—
If over the whole wide earth you roam,
Of wife and babies and cosy home,
Will you find a man more proud?

So here's a health today,
To our gladdest group of four,
May peace and happiness never depart,
And length of days but prove each heart,
Pure and true to the core.

May many times four years,
This glad anniversary bring,
Encircled with kindred and friends so dear,
May your joy increase with each passing year,
Complete as the wedding ring.

Mrs. Gilbert McClurg was guest of honor on Thursday at a delightful tea given by Mrs. Loyd Bailey, a large number being present to meet the distinguished lecturer. The rooms were prettily decorated, the parlors, hall and library in sunflowers, and wild clematis being used in the dining room with artistic effect. White shaded candelabra lit the room which was darkened, and the appointments were most effective. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. F. D. Blackford and Miss Stirling.
