Admitted -We learn that Amelius Mnet, Eeq., was recently admitted

Miner, Esq , was recently admitted to practice at the bar of the Supreme Court of the U.S., on motion of Judge Black.

A Green River correspondent in s Cheyenne journal wrote under date vs. F. D. Richards (appellant) being "Corticelli," the matter of the Weber County dissenting.

In asserting his dissent, Judge Hunter said:

"I dissent from that opinion, so far as this branch of the case is concerned. The discussion on the question of jurisdiction has not been of such a nature as to satisfy my mind one way or the other; so that on that point I have not arrived at any conclusion. Upon bind stall, when it would resume the question as to whether or not a vacancy is created by the Hoar Amendment, I am clearly of opinion that the act of Congress conferred the power upon the Governor only to make an appointment in case of a vacancy occurring, and I hold that

The stage coach above mentioned the subsequently heard from. Be-fore reaching Big Sandy, the driver, George Rider, lost the road. There were on the coach besides himself, W. J. Stewart, superintendent of the stage line; W. V. Clark, J. Scott and Miss Maggie Sherlock, passen-gers. Rider got off the box, and though a blinding snowstorm was raging, started out to look for the road. The rest waited a while for him to return, and then started out to look for him, leaving Miss Sher-lock bundled up in the coach. Meanwhile the people at Big Sandy became somewhat alarmed at the non-arrival of the stage, long since due, and fearing that they had got off the road, organized a search party and started out to look for them. The stage was found about one and a half miles from the station and black is Sherlock reased. sustain the position that when there is a tenure of office, as in this instance, for two or more years, or until a successor is duly elected and qualified, a failure to elect does not create a vacancy." Judge Williams asked that an appeal be allowed to the Supreme Court of the U. S.; whereupon a discussion arose upon the question as to whether or not a supersedeas bond might be granted. After having heard parties on the point, the Court stated that, inasmuch as their was a difference of opinion on the subject, it would prefer to hear argua half miles from the station and ments in relation to it on a day to be mutually agreed upon.
