

LIBERAL PROGRAM OF LEGISLATION

Disappointment That Cabinet's Policy is Not Sufficiently Definitely Radical.

BALFOUR MAKES CRITICISMS.

Government's Policies Cannot be Carried Out Without Violent Use Of the Guillotine.

London, Jan. 29.—Big as is the Liberal program of legislation for the session of parliament which opened today, and earnest as the government leaders have shown themselves to be in their endeavor to meet the views of all factions constituting the present radical majority in the house of commons, there is a well defined feeling of disappointment among the ministerial supporters that the cabinet has not been more definitely radical in its proposals.

The speeches of the cabinet representatives since the last session of parliament have led to the expectation of more definite proposals with regard to the government's Irish policy, old age pensions and education, to mention only a few subjects references to which the king's speech did not satisfy the respective elements especially interested therein.

Rumors from Dublin had forecasted another Irish councils bill, but there has been substituted for this a measure which, if it passes, will only deprive the landlords of their grazing lands in certain sections. Similarly, forecasts with regard to educational and old age pensions proposals promised much more than is indicated by the references to these matters in the speech from the throne. There is an inclination to believe that the king was able without overstepping the constitutional bounds, to modify the more sweeping proposals with which the cabinet is credited by those usually in its confidence.

A WHITTLED PROGRAM.

Even the whittled program, however, strikes old parliamentarians with astonishment. "Stupendous" was the word frequently heard in the lobby of parliament applied to this program.

Mr. Balfour, leader of the opposition party, in the course of the address in narrative, assumed the leadership in the debate that it could not be carried through without an unprecedented violent use of the guillotine, which practically would stifle free debate.

Herbert H. Asquith, chancellor of the exchequer, who, in the absence of the premier, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, assumed the leadership in the house of commons, admitted that the measures mentioned in the king's speech constituted a long list. Nevertheless, he added, the government not only purposed to carry them but "a great many others" are necessary to translate the platform professions into the pages of the statute books.

OPPOSITION CRITICISM.

The criticisms of Mr. Balfour in the commons and Lord Lansdowne, the opposition leader in the house of lords, on the government proposals, apart from the length of the program, was directed against the peace conference at The Hague, the Anglo-Russian convention. Both speakers hoped that the government would withhold its ratification of the proposed international tribunal of appeal in prize cases until all was quite sure that the court would be properly constituted and governed by a code of regulations approved before hand by the powers affected. The opposition leaders also feared that Great Britain's interest in the Persian gulf were not sufficiently protected by the Anglo-Russian convention.

Mr. Asquith was able to reassure the Unionists on the latter point, saying that the government had made Great Britain's status on the gulf quite clear by a declaration made contemporaneously with the signing of the agreement and assented to by the Russian ambassador.

Lord Lansdowne took occasion to express his gratification that the difficulty with the United States regarding the Newfoundland fisheries question was going to arbitration, and considered that the settlement of the differences between Canada and Japan "was most creditable, not only to the Dominion, but to the government of our ally, who had exhibited, not for the first time, a self-restraint and sagacity which had elicited the admiration of all who had opportunities of coming into close contact with its diplomatic proceedings."

The very notable absence in the king's speech of any reference to the relations between the two houses of parliament was sarcastically referred to by Lord Lansdowne. It is under-

RECIPE FOR COLDS.

Mix half pint of good whisky with two ounces of glycerine and add one-half ounce Concentrated oil of pine. The bottle is to be well shaken each time and used in dose of a teaspoon full every four hours. The concentrated oil of pine comes in one-half ounce vials packed in tin screw top cases which are intended to protect it from light and retain all the original ozone. Don't use kink oil of oil of pine or imitations of Concentrated oil. They are insoluble work havoc to the kidneys. Any druggist has the Concentrated oil of pine.

Concentrated oil of pine is the result of many years experimenting by one of Philadelphia's foremost doctors who after endless research at last secured a truly soluble oil of pine. It makes no sense to get the real thing it also makes an excellent salve to be applied externally on the chest or bruised parts. For this purpose a teaspoonful of the raw oil is added to a saucful of hot lard.

stood that the cabinet had decided to postpone the fight until next year.

THE NATIONALISTS.

The Nationalists came into prominence early in the session, but were followed by the speaker in an attempt to have a committee appointed to inquire into the conduct of Laurence Ginnell, Nationalist member of the north division of Westmeath, who was recently sentenced to six months' imprisonment for contempt of court at a hearing in connection with the cattle driving trials. The speaker ruled the motion for the appointment of such a committee out of order.

John E. Redmond, the Irish leader, gave notice of a home rule motion for Feb. 3, and during the course of the debate on the address declared that the king's speech was disappointing and unsatisfactory. Only by the government frankly putting their home-rule convictions into action, he declared, could disaster to Ireland be averted. Mr. Redmond and his followers were all particularly jubilant having just come from a party meeting in the committee room, at which the recent declaration of the warring elements was sealed. Timothy Healy, William O'Brien and all others who had at one time or another been formally expelled from the party, participated in the reunion. Sir Thomas Henry Garton Esmond, who recently resigned his seat in the commons because he did not sympathize with the policy of his party, but who has since returned to the fold, sent a friendly letter of apology at his endorsed address.

LONG QUESTION.

Several references to the Congo Independent state were made during the course of the debate, and the government speakers urged caution in discussing this subject.

Lord Fitzmaurice, under secretary for foreign affairs, said in the house of lords that the unfortunate death of the Belgian premier had delayed the negotiations for the transfer of the Independent state to Belgium, but he added, "I have reason to know that the matters are now progressing in the direction we all desire."

After debate covering a wide field in foreign and domestic affairs, both houses adjourned. It is expected that the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne will last 10 days, and that the real work of the session will begin about Feb. 19.

HOUSE CHAPLAIN APPLAUDED FOR PRAYER.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The most unusual incident of the day, the prayer of the chaplain occurred in the house of representatives today. The chaplain barely had concluded when handclapping and laughter were heard from various directions. The prayer ran:
"God, Lord, deliver us, we beseech Thee, from the jaws, the horrors, the bigot and all other undesirable citizens, and give us instead, the patriot, the statesman, the broad-minded, generous man. Thy kingdom may come and Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven, for Christ's sake. Amen."

GOVERNOR HUGHES STRONGLY BACKED

New York Republican County Committee Unanimously
Adopts Resolution.

PRESIDENT IS COMMENDED.

Speeches Indicated Traces of Resentment Over Action of Former Meeting in Tabling Resolution.

New York, Jan. 29.—Gov. Charles E.
Hughes was strongly endorsed for the Republican nomination for the presidency and the administration of President Roosevelt was commended in a resolution unanimously adopted by the Republican county committee at a meeting in Murray Hill Yceum tonight. The resolution favored an instructed delegation to the Chicago convention from this state for Gov. Hughes, which shall use all honorable means to obtain his nomination till he is either nominated or directs the withdrawal of his name from the consideration of the convention.

Endorsement of Gov. Hughes had come up for consideration at two previous meetings of the county committee, and each time resolutions to that effect were tabled. The action of the committee on those occasions was provisional of much feeling among committees, and Secy. of War Taft recently wrote to Congressman Parsons, chairman of the committee, that he did not desire his friends to divide in his interest any state which had a candidate of its own, and that he would greatly deprecate a contest which imperils a Republican victory in New York.

A meeting of the executive committee of the county committee was held today, at which Mr. Parsons appointed a committee to draft a resolution in substitute to the resolution twice offered to the county committee, simply endorsing Gov. Hughes. Tonight the substitute resolution was offered. It is as follows:

SUBSTITUTE RESOLUTION.

"Resolved, that we do hereby endorse the national administration of the Republican party. We believe that Theodore Roosevelt, by his vigorous administration, his virility, his broad humanity and his determined opposition to notorious abuses has won the hearts of the people; and that we do not only have his example, but we also know that he is and has been in cordial sympathy with every effort for efficient administration for the correction of evil and for the improvement of our laws:
"Resolved, that Charles E. Hughes has displayed, during his incumbency of the office of governor of the state of New York, a degree of executive and administrative ability, courage and devotion to duty which has secured for him the confidence and admiration not only of the citizens of the state of New York, but of the people of the United States.

"Resolved, That it is the judgment of the Republican county committee of the county of New York that Republicans generally throughout the country desire the presentation of the name of Charles E. Hughes to the next national convention of the state of New York as the choice of the Republicans of this state for the presidential nomination; that we hereby announce our intention that so far as we collectively and individually are able, the state of New York shall send a delegation to the national convention instructed to vote for and to use all honorable means to secure for Charles E.
Hughes the nomination for the presidency, until he is either nominated or directs the withdrawal of his name from the consideration of the convention, and that we hereby individually pledge ourselves to all in our power to secure from our congressional district conventions and the state convention the adoption of resolutions so instructing for Gov. Hughes."

THE SPEECHES.

The speeches that followed the introduction of the resolution showed unanimity of feeling for endorsement of Gov. Hughes but indicated traces of resentment over the action of the previous meeting in tabling the Hughes resolution. Edward Lauterbach who has been actively engaged in Gov.
Hughes' interest, said:

"Leaders all over the state have reported that the sentiment has been for Charles E. Hughes for president. Why is this change of front? The reason is simple—the leech has been cut and the dogs have been set free.

"Who set them free? Who has permitted the president of this committee to shake off the shackles and come forward as a free man? Was it any one in the state of New York? No, it was a man from Ohio. Other states had named as their candidates Cannon and Foraker, and then the ticket of leave was given.

"I call upon the people of the city and this state to see that if the resolution is passed tonight it will be carried to a successful result in the Chicago convention."

Opposition was made to the roll being called, but the chairman prevailed. Many left the hall when it was seen what the result of the roll call would be.

After the roll call was completed the chairman declared the vote was unanimous for the resolution, and the meeting adjourned.

NEVADA POLICE BILL MAY GO TO REFERENDUM.

Carson, Nev., Jan. 29.—The fact that Nevada has passed a state police law has not hindered the union forces in their action to repeal the measure. At the session of the legislature a year ago the measure was passed whereby such laws may be voted upon by the people on the signing of a petition by 10 per cent of the registered voters. Although a petition is being circulated, Speaker Skaggs states that it will take 60 days to 100,000 names will be affixed to the petition and that the referendum law will be tested.

The governor signed the police bill this morning and it is now ready ready there is a fierce scramble for places on the police force. Applications for officers are being received from all quarters. It is believed that the new force can take the field inside of 40 days.
The introduction of the referendum law has taken the attention of the assembly this morning.

In the debate three bills were passed.
The first appropriated $25,000 for the governor and the attorney-general for constitutional expenses in such cases as may arise in the past year.

The others were bills Nos. 4 and 7, which to the new powers granted to the governor. The first bill is to prosecute criminal cases, change and appoint deputies to assist him. This measure is aimed to force criminal prosecutions in such places as Goldfield, where it is claimed lax prosecution is being indulged in by the courts. It also may be some objection to the measure in the house.

The afternoon session of the legislature resulted in several appropriations for state needs. The state prison was given $25,000 for improvements. No-state orphan's home, $5,000; the Neutand building at Reno, $5,000; the Neutand to $2000 in order that he may comply with the duties necessitated by the new police law.

A new judicial district was formed by a bill that passed the senate. This makes Esmeralda county a separate district with two judges. Judge Landon, the present judge, will remain in the first district, to which he was elected. His salary was reduced from $5,000 to $4,000.

STANDARD OIL'S BONDS.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Judges Grosscup, Baker and Seaman, in the United States circuit court of appeals, today declined to increase the supersedeas bonds of the Standard Oil company of Indiana from $6,000,000 to $29,240,000, as asked by the government. The court expressed the opinion that the attorneys for the government had not shown that the property of the company was worth more than $6,000,000.

TOWER MURDER TRIAL.

Boulder, Mont., Jan. 28.—In the failure of two eye witnesses to the tragedy to identify positively the accused man, the state received its first setback in the Tower murder trial here today.

Contrary to expectation, a jury was selected last evening and the opening statement for the prosecution was made by Asst. Atty. Gen. Hall. The defense waived its right to make an opening statement.

The first witness, William J. Crawford, the negro who was an unwilling spectator of the tragedy, testified to the efforts of the bandits to make him join them when they discovered him steering a ride on the coal tender and finally sending him back on the cars when they held up the train. From the train a messenger coach he witnessed the hold-up.

TWO NEGROES LYNCHED.

Commerce, Miss., Jan. 29.—Two ne-persons taken in custody are E. J.

Smith, cashier; and D. W. Barklay, Jr., assistant cashier. They were subsequently released in bonds of $5,000 each.
The charge against them is receiving deposits when they knew the bank to be insolvent. The homes of other officials of the bank are being guarded day and night by agents of the depositors' committee. Members of the committee explain that this is done to prevent them leaving the city.
