Information Wanted.—Any person knowing of the whereabouts of the party named in the following will oblige by sending the information to the writer of the letter:—

PHILA., Sep. 18, 1874.

"Brigham Young, Esq.

"Dear Sir—I am desirous of finding the whereabouts of a nephew of mine, by the name of Joseph Young Erickson, who emigrated from Copenhagen, Denmark, to Salt Lake City, on the 18th of June. He was born in Glimsbo, Denmark, and I think, is now somewhere about 16 years of age. Any information you could give me would be thankfully received, and I will enclose the letter to him I send with this, directed in your name, you would oblige me much."

"Yours truly,
CHAS P. OLSEN, 223 Ella St., Phila., Penn."

Coal Oil Rectifier.—Everybody knows that great danger attends the careless handling or using of coal oil, and that life is frequently sacrificed thereby. There is a gentleman now staying at the Salt Lake House, in this city, who has the sole proprietary right of what is called "Fay's Coal Oil Rectifier, or Non-Explosive Powder," which, it is said will purify and remove all danger of explosion from any coal oil into which it may be poured. Mr. Smart, the gentleman above referred to, called at this office this morning, and, in presence of several of the employees, tested the qualities of the powder. He took out the burner from a lamp partially filled with oil, into which he poured some of the non-explosive powder. He then lighted the wick and blew the blaze into the lamp, but with no more effect than if he had blown it into so much water. Mr. Smart says that this powder renders all kinds of coal oil perfectly safe, there being no danger of explosion or fire if a lighted lamp, containing it, be knocked over by the carelessness of children or others. Another advantage claimed by the use of the powder is that no lamp glasses are ever broken by the heat of the flame of a lamp containing it, for while it does not diminish the illuminating power of coal oil, it decreases the heat of the flame one-third. It was about the flame to be turned on to its full capacity when it was lighted without fear of fracturing the glass. Fifty cents worth of the non-explosive powder is sufficient to burn a lamp for several millions of oil.

A Dignified Court.—In some parts of Tooele County there are occasional court proceedings that for general raciness are probably unparalleled in the history of even western jurisprudence. The other day we had a bona fide description of one of those interesting scenes from Mr. F.—, who recently went to Dry Canyon for the purpose of collecting a debt.

This same F., in addition to other numerous graces, has, when he chooses to assume it, an irresistibly persuasive way with him. A full battery of this proclivity he brought to bear on the party owing the debt, and before the latter knew where he was about he had acknowledged judgment before the Justice of the Peace for the precinct, and as soon as he had departed, F. asked the functionary for an execution, to which he at first demurred, but finally gave it. This was placed in the hands of an officer, and goods in possession of the debtor sufficient to cover the claim were levied upon.

No sooner was this done than a third party stepped up and claimed the goods as his property. F. then demanded a jury trial to determine from whom the goods really belonged to, which was granted, and the case came up before the before-mentioned august personage, yelet a Justice of the Peace, a genuine "brother of a boy" from the "Green Isle."

Again were F.'s powers of persuasion brought into play, this time upon the jury. He showed, in almost most professional clearness, that the bill of sale held by the afore-mentioned third party did not entitle him to as much as the most infinitesimal "chill of assent." True, that same bill of sale was dated considerably backwards, but it was not for a superlatively intellectual and intelligent jury to say whether they would allow themselves to be misled by such an attenuated subterfuge, when it was a fact that the goods were found by the officer attaching them in the possession of the defendant, and while the latter was dispensing them to the general public. Such irresistible logic and eloquence were not lost on the jury, for they returned a verdict for F.

When the finding of the jury was announced, the Court sprang to his feet, and, in all the dignity, though minus the paraphernalia, of his office, he exclaimed, "Gentlemen of the jury, I mean to say that yer verdict is not in accordance with the law, and yez must retire and reconsider it."

In vain did the persuasive F. protest that the voice of the jury should close the lips of the Court, in vain did he state that it was a constable's jury and case and that the justice could not interfere.

The intelligent but pliable jury retired again, and soon returned with a verdict for the defendant.

During a part of the proceedings

Messrs. Samuel P. Teasdale, Henry Sadder, James Watson, Andrew Smith and John Y. Smith were sworn on the part of the prosecution.

Office A. Smith's testimony was to the effect that he received information from Sharp, on the night in question, that the latter had been robbed, and in consequence he arrested Beegan and Dunn.

Officer John Y. Smith corroborated the testimony of the previous witness, with the addition that he heard Sharp charge Beegan and Dunn with robbing him of $30, at the time the arrest was made.

The prosecution here closed their case.

Mr. Dilley moved for the discharge of the prisoners, giving certain grounds for the motion.

Motion was overruled, defendant accepted.

The defense did not introduce any witnesses.

The arguments of the counsel commenced and it was expected the case would soon be given to the jury.

The substance of Mr. Teasdale's testimony was that on or about the 15th of February, 1875, himself and McSaddler were walking eastward along the south side of the Temple Block, about midnight, when they met a man named Jarvis, going in the other direction.

After seeing Beegan, Dunn and another man pass them also. Almost immediately afterwards cries "help" were heard, when Beegan and Dunn were seen standing before Sharp, who was on the ground.

Beegan and Dunn then ran rapidly across the street southwards, then eastward, turning the corner of the Council House, and going down East Temple street.

This evidence was corroborated by Mr. Saddler, who positively identified Beegan.

Mr. Watson testified to having seen Beegan and Dunn hurry past him on East Temple street, near Savage's Art Gallery, and to have seen Messrs. Teasdale, Saddler, Sharp (the party who was robbed), Jarvis and others, to having gone in search of Beegan and Dunn, and to see Y. Smith coming out of what is now called Headquarters Saloon, with Beegan and Dunn under escort.

Theatre.—A large and applauding audience assembled at the theatre last evening to see the last of the Rickards combination. The French Spy was excellently played by the company.

The songs of Mr. Rickards were admirably given, and received with great applause, and the various gymnastic feats of Lottie, Katie, and Frank on the single, double, and triple bars, and flying trapeze, were of a comparatively excellent character, improving once more that the gymnasts possess very superior ability, and are worthy of liberal patronage.

With the last part of the performance, "The Actor's Studio," we do not hear that Mr. Rickards ceased anybody. The general sentiment appeared to be one of disappointment and disgust, though announced imitations of different actors. We could not understand the quarrels with the management, and the audience over this apparent matter, to a brilliant success, nor can we divide the reason for it. "The Actor's Studio" proved a serious and displeasing farce.

Shoes and Things.—Somebody must be missing a number of pairs of shoes, and a quantity of gaiters, stockings and other things. One James Jones and Fred Jones, one of the two youngest brothers, returned in the possession of such articles, and the officers arrested them today. Their clothes have turned up now, let us give our case forward, for it is one of all a suspicious case that the two parties named came by as articles honestly.

Arrived.—About 2 o'clock this morning Hyman B. Clawson, Esq., and sons arrived in this City with the remains of the wife of that gentleman, the departed Mrs. Alice Clawson. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

Messrs. William H. Folsom and George Homney arrived from St. George at the same time, having traveled from there in company with Mr. Clawson.

Cause Found.—This morning we learned, from Mr. Theo. Curtis, that at his shop, on 2nd South Street, as broken into last night, through the window, by some person unknown. Nothing was missing, but from the blood found in and around the premises it is presumed, that the burglar cut himself with the window glass.

Shooting a Dog.—Yesterday a man, who resides in the 12th Ward, and who refuses to give his name, engaged in the pasture of Lynde dog in the act of killing a target of it with his pistol. Falling in battle with that weapon, he next fell recumbent to a carbine. He was restored.

Fined.—The constable A. Smith has fined $5 Justice Fryer for being drunk and taking the elbow of the shadow of Broadhead's saloon.

Found.—Yesterday two boys who live in the 19th Ward, found two Springfield rifles under a City Creek bridge, very probably the booty of some sneak thief.

More Stealing.—Robert Kennedy was arrested last night for walking off with two pistols and a watch from the Pacific House, the hotel offender.

Snow.—Two or three inches of snow has fallen.

The Washington correspondence says that the Democrats may consider the abolition law unconstitutional, and still the politicians are not happy and the managers are not so much interested in either democrats or republicans.

ANOTHER "OPEN LETTER."

Dear Public:

We have often observed how naturally, when you wish to purchase any article of comfort or necessity, you endeavor to procure it at the lowest possible price, cheapness generally constituting the most important point in favor of buying. This frequently proves mistaken economy, because low-priced goods must be made of inferior materials, consequently such goods invariably fail to give satisfaction; in perhaps no branch of trade is this fact more apparent than in Boots and Shoes. We are not advocating high prices, however, but take great pleasure in stating that the policy we have adopted of using only the best materials, and making none but good, "honest" warranted Boots and Shoes has gained us hosts of customers, who, as evidence they are satisfied with our goods are well made and truly cheap, always come again and again, and their friends say, "defect in workmanship is repaired free of cost." In addition to the goods of our own make, we keep a choice assortment of the best qualities of imported Boots and Shoes, including Rubbers, etc., suitable for the season.
