

THE CASE AS IT STANDS.

In discussing the question of the right to the seat in Congress as Delegate from Utah, most of the public journals cover up the real points of the case with tirades against the "Mormons." As we have repeatedly shown there is no real connection between the morality or immorality, the loyalty or sedition, the worthiness or unworthiness of the "Mormon" people, and the right of the person having the greatest number of votes at the Delegate election, to the certificate and the seat. The New York Post seems to clearly appreciate this, and makes the following statement of the case now before the House of Representatives:

"The facts of the contest for the seat of the Territorial Delegate from Utah, which will presently come up in the House of Representatives, are familiar. In the election of 1890 there were cast 19,250 votes, of which George Q. Cannon received 15,568, and Allen G. Campbell 1,357. Notwithstanding this majority for the former of more than 17,000, Governor Murray gave a certificate of election to the latter on the ground that Cannon was not a citizen of the United States. It is charged that there was a technical irregularity in his naturalization papers. The remaining facts necessary to an understanding of the case are that Cannon is a polygamist and Campbell is not. The question before the House of Representatives are, first, whether it shall overrule its own decision, made several years ago, that the objection to the seat of Cannon is unfounded; second, whether, if it does set aside the earlier judgment, it shall award the seat to Campbell, who evidently was not chosen by the people; third, or whether it shall order a new election so that the inhabitants of Utah may be represented by a Delegate of their own selection. If the real ground of objection to Cannon is that he is a polygamist it would be better to put his rejection frankly upon that ground and not rest it on a technicality that has once been dismissed. The argument of those who are in favor of giving the seat to Campbell, because the legal effect of vote cast for an ineligible candidate is to elect the next highest on the list, though a minority candidate, is met by the supporters of Cannon with the other argument, that what the courts may have held on this question the House of Representatives is supposed to decide such concerns upon the equities of the particular case rather than upon narrow technicalities."

"The equities of the case" are carefully concealed from the public view in the anti-"Mormon" articles and sensational dispatches which appear in the public prints. The proof is unanswerable that Mr. Cannon obtained his naturalization papers in open court, according to the regular methods in vogue at the time in the First Judicial District of Utah.

As the Post says, the objections against his certificate are merely technical. But from our knowledge of all the facts and points in the case, we are able to affirm that those mere technical objections are invalid in law as they are worthless in equity.

The points on which his opponents have been judicially decided in other cases many times, adversely to their position. Also in Mr. Cannon's own case the main question has been settled by a Committee of the House in his favor. The absence of Mr. Cannon, as missionary to the Sandwich Islands, during a large portion of the period of the residence required by law of an alien previous to naturalization, was fully argued before that committee, and his domicile in Utah at that time was proven by the very statements of his adversary. The record of his naturalization is as good as that of thousands in the State of New York, whose citizenship was denied because of non-appearance in the book of court minutes. Their cases have been established as sound and valid in the law. The objections to the Delegate's citizenship are not only technical but baseless in theory and in fact.

It is the aim of the conspirators who schemed to steal the Delegate's seat, to put prominently forward these groundless technicalities, backing them by bold and shameful falsehoods, and to hide up the "equities" by raising a dust about polygamy. They are now using the peculiar words of Judge Hunter's decision against them, in an infamous manner. A circular signed by Allen G. Campbell, and distributed in Washington, among other misrepresentations urges the following:

"Finally, it is necessary to contend that a man whose naturalization papers had been adjudicated to be not only fraudulent in his own admissions, but void on their face by the very court from which they purport to have been obtained, is not a person fit to be sworn as a delegate to the Congress of the United States. It would seem that argument on such a proposition would be wasted. Those who take part in the legislation or administration of the government should be ethical. It is bad enough to permit men who are in full citizenship to plot and abet treason to it by a political organization such as the Mormon Church is, but it would be shocking that an alien should be permitted to take part in this treason and escape all its legal consequences."

The unscrupulous persons who have put forth this circular, know very well that no adjudication upon Mr. Cannon's papers has been had; that instead of those papers being declared void, the suit planted by those persons to that end was dismissed. Yet the order of Court was so worded as to suit their purpose, and Judge Hunter must be aware of the falsehood which his order of court has made plausible. A motion has been made for the rectification of the record. Pending the decision upon it, we have little to say. But as the order now stands it bears indelible errors on its face, and we should think no judicial officer, with any regard for his reputation, would permit such statements to go on record with his official sanction.

When the "equities" of this case are inquired into, as they will be by competent authority, the falsehood and sophistry of the conspirators will be fully exposed and the impregnability of Mr. Cannon's position will be made plain. As to the polygamy question, that is another thing. If the House of Representatives wishes to exclude a Delegate on the ground that he has married and lives with plural wives, as the Post argues, this should be declared without dispute. But it should be borne in mind that it has never been proven or admitted that Mr. Cannon has violated the law of 1892 or any other law.

On the other hand it is beyond doubt that in giving the certificate of election to a person not elected, Governor Murray grossly violated the law as well as played into the hands of conspirators against the peace and welfare of this Territory, and that the admission of Mr. Campbell will be a virtual endorsement of that lawless act. Also a precedent of the most dangerous character will be set up. The certificate given by Governor Murray, is a plain assumption that he claims the power to decide whether a candidate for office is a citizen or not, and whether he is under or over twenty-one years of age. If this power belongs to a Governor, then the ipse dixit of any Governor in any State of the Union can elect a member of Congress. No man's seat in the House will be secure. However, great a majority a candidate may have, the Governor's fiat will be more potent than the people's voice. How much republicanism will there be left in the land? It may be said that no Governor would pretend to assume such unheard of authority, except in the case of the defeated "Mormons." Quite likely, just now. But should that be any excuse among legislators who understand the wrong of the dastardly act? And if such a proceeding is permitted to pass unrebuked, can any one predict that the consequences of such an example will not be as evil in other cases as in this?

If the people of Utah are to be denied any choice of a Delegate, let it be declared. If one petty satrap is to put into that office any one whom he chooses, let us know it, that we may save ourselves the trouble and expense of elections. But do not cover all this up with clouds of calumny against the "Mormons" whose faith and practices have nothing to do with this simple question of condoning a fraud, winking at iniquity, and robbing a whole community of the fruits of the franchise.

LATEST DISPATCHES.

New York, 15.—The Sun has the following from Syracuse, N.Y.: Thirty-one years ago W. W. Chambers left his young wife in this city suddenly, and without notice, and it was supposed, went to California, having manifested symptoms of the gold fever. Nothing was ever heard from him. Directly, upon the affirmation that a man answering his description died of ship fever crossing the Isthmus of Panama in 1864, Gage, of New York, his brother-in-law, sued the British Co. (relied Life Insurance Company) on the policy of $10,000, which he held on Chambers' life. The jury were not satisfied with the proof of death, and found in favor of defendant. Mrs. Chambers married Mr. Travis, of Detroit, some years ago. Mayor Hendricks has just received a letter from Mrs. Chambers, announcing the death of Chambers, and that he has left an estate to be disposed of.

Mrs. Sampson Robbed. Mrs. Kate Sampson, wife of a wealthy stock raiser, of White Pine County, Nevada, and her daughter, aged 22, were robbed in this city on Monday from Europe, where they had been spending the summer months. Yesterday they decided to start for home, but were robbed of all their money before they reached the depot. They were cared for by the police, and Mr. Sampson telegraphed to them.

The Petition of the City of Chicago. Three thousand signatures have already been obtained by a society of Brooklyn women to a petition to be sent to Congress in the latter part of this month, asking for the speedy removal of polygamy in Utah. The appeal to the women to join the anti-polygamy society is also being circulated in the principal cities of the United States.

New Chamber to cost $1,000,000. The Chamber of Commerce is making an effort to get possession of the old post office property, Nassau Street, with the intention of erecting upon the site an edifice to cost $1,000,000.

Guided by Fire and Damaged by Water. The two upper floors of Levi P. Morton's old residence, 503 Fifth Avenue, were gutted by fire last night and the other floors were considerably damaged by water.

The Times' Washington special on the Garfield memorial says: Of the joint committee some members favor the selection of an eminent orator outside of Congress, and Secretary Blaine, Henry Ward Beecher and Robert G. Ingersoll are named; others favor the selection of two orators from each House as well as one who is not a member of Congress.

Indians Captured and Killed. A San Antonio special express says: News from the Presidio del Norte, on the Northern Rio Grande, reports that Chief Arapahito and 20 of his tribe have been captured by Mexican troops under Francisco Gregorio. Orders were given and promptly obeyed to shoot the chief and several bucks. Four Indians were killed in making the capture. The Mexican troops are after the remnants of the band of Geronimo and several squaws and ponies. These are the main remnants of Victorio's band. Arapahito had succeeded in escaping.

San Francisco, 15.—A Tucson dispatch says: A Fargus & Co's car was entered five miles west of El Paso, last night. The agent G. E. Barnard was locked and gagged, his keys taken and the contents of the car stolen. Between $5,000 and $6,000. The agent, who had been gagged some twenty minutes until relieved by the brakeman. Special Sale of HATS at Goldberger's, Wansuch Building.

N. M., special says: Soon after the west-bound passenger train on the Southern Pacific road left El Paso last night, a party of desperadoes entered Wells Fargo's car by means of a key and assaulted the messenger, knocking him senseless and taking the precaution to bind and gag him. While he lay prostrate they took from the safe $15,000 in cash and securities, and waiting until the train slowed up for the bridge at Rogers' Station, they jumped off and fled to Old Mexico.

Attempted Assassination. SAN FRANCISCO, 15.—A Tombstone dispatch says: An unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate Jno. F. Clum, mayor of the city last night. A band of armed men fired on him while in the stage, en route to Tucson. The driver was wounded and one of the horses killed. Mr. Clum escaped without injury. No attempt was made to rob the stage. The assault is the supposed outgrowth of the recent cowboy tragedy, since which, there have been made against the life of Clum. Early brothers, and Halliday were engaged in the tragedy. Judge Spicer, of this city, Marshal Williams, and other parties are now in pursuit of the assassins.

Hoody Work in Mexico. CITY OF MEXICO, Mexico, 15.—There has been no reliable returns received here from the State election at Jalisco. It is not possible to present to indicate how the election went. This is in a great measure due to the bitter rivalry existing between the opposing political parties, which culminated during election day, the 10th inst., at a number of the voting places throughout the State, in bloodshed. In Guadalajara, capital, one Hidalgo, with an armed body of men rebelled against the State Government and squads of his men seized the ballot boxes and destroyed them. During the melee that followed, Francisco Beas, an official, was killed and a number wounded. A reign of terror existed during the time that the mob had possession of the city, and order was not restored until late in the evening, when Barajas, hearing that a large force of federal troops were on the way to the capital to restore peace, left the city with his band, marching in a southerly direction.

Reports from a number of towns through which he passed stated that his band had broken open the jail and liberated the prisoners in order to gain recruits and that a number of them joined.

A daring robbery was perpetrated at Pueblo, Colo., on Sunday at noon. The house of Mr. D. C. Montgomery was broken into while the family were at church and about $1,000 worth of valuables taken. A large reward has been offered for the capture of the thieves.

Moddy and Sankey, the revolutionists, who once visited this city, are not making the success of their present trip. They are engaged on their first one. The cause is the circulation of stories damaging to their personal motives. Their popularity has waned in consequence.
