Questioning of Talesmen Develops the Fact That Most of Them Are Not Members of Any Church,

Boise, Ida., May 16 .- Out of respect for the memory of Edward Nugent, the first judge of the Ada county district court, after Idaho became a state, the court over which he presided as one of the predecessors of Judge Fremont Wood, will not proceed with the preliminary stages of the trial of William D. Haywood, charged with the murder of former Gov. Frank Steunenberg until 2 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Nugent was the father of John F. Nugent, one of the counsel for Haywood. The funeral will take for Haywood. The funeral will take place this morning at 10 o'clock and will be attended by a committee ap-pointed by Judge Wood in open court. The committee consists of five mem-bers of the Ada county bar. The mo-tion for adjournment of court was made by James H. Hawley, leading counsel for the state in the prosecu-tion of Haywood and seconded by Ed-gar Wilson of counsel for Haywood. MAY GET JURY BY SATURDAY.

MAY GET JURY BY SATURDAY. There is still every reason to hope that a jury will have been selected before court adjourns on Saturday afternom. The state has exercised one of its peremptory challenges. The second chair in the box which was vacated by this, the first challenge, is likely to be filled again as soon as court meets this afternoon. Clarence Darrow, who examined George F. Maw, the talesman taking the seat, announced that he had finished with the witness, but would not pass him for cause until today. It is believed that the defense proposes to make some investigation as to alleged con-versations, which the talesman ad-nitted with neighbors and relatives on the subject of the case against Haywood. Moyer and Pettibone. Maw is a former resident of Nebraska and a Democrat, who has lived in Idaho for the last six years. He is a power-fully-built young fellow of 28, not atrial to express his opinions. He stated in reply to questions that he 'makes up his own mind and sticks to it whether it be in politics or re-ligion."

President Finley called attention to the assistance rendered by the rail-roads in the development of southern industries and pointed out that the de-mands for railway service in the south-ern states have almost reached the maximum capacity of the roads and that if southern progress is to continue there must be an early increase in the facilities in southern transportation agencies. He said that the roads to provide these facilities would require large amounts of new capital. Unfor-tunately, the legislation enacted in some states and proposed in some oth-ers, he said, was tending to make it difficult for the roads to sell their bonds to provide funds for new con-struction. Name of Town Where Sold on Stamps. Washington. May 16.—Postmaster-Gen-eral Meyer is being besieged with in quiries and suggestions as to devising a plan for placing on postage stamps the name of the city or town in which they are sold. The scheme is impracticable, according to postoffice officials, owing to the necessary delay and expense involved, and does not harmonize with the ideas of the postmaster-general. He desires to simplify the design of postage stamps so that they will have as little on them as possible, thus making the denominations clear and/distinct.

The annual encampment of the Utah lepartment, Grand Army of the Republic, is in session today in this city. Nearly all the old soldiers who are spending their advanced years in Utab are present and are meeting again old friends, while they tell each other the ales of adventure that filled the fightng years of their youth, and prepare for the grand hanquet with which they vill end their convention this evening. This morning an opening session was held in the I. O. O. F. hall, and another business session will be held there this afternoon, after which the veterans will march on the national guard armory, where an elaborate banquet will be waiting for them, prepared by the women of the G. A. R. in Salt Lake. This afternoon the visiting women will be given a "Seeing Salt Lake" party by the members of the ladles' auxiliary of the George R. Maxwell post, the James E. McKean post, and the ladles' circle of the G. A. R.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

EXECUTIVE SESSION. The meeting this morning was an executive session, and was given over to the bearing of committee reports from the various posts represented in the Utah department. These posts are five in number, the Jacaies B. McKean and the George R. Maxwell, of Salt Lake: the Dix-Logan post of Ogden, the Sherman post of Provo, and the Hancock post of Park City. Each is represented by a Jarge number of dele-gates and officers. B. M. Sperry, de-partment commander, presided, the other officers being R. G. Sleater, ad-julant general, and Alfred Kent, quar-termaster general. No parade was he d during the morning, and none is planned during the encampment. THE PROGRAM.

belong to no church. One of the most intelligent admitted that his parents went to church but he did not know what church was, although he knew there was a church in the village. The opening of the peremptory chal-longe period begins a most interesting exhibit of skirmishing. Both sides have been preparing for this for many menths. The members of the local bar on both sides evidently know the talesmen and their prejudices fairly well. The defense is provided with a type written list containing a short account of the circumstances, sur-roundings and opinions, if any, of each talesman so far called. This list is fraquently consulted and at times is handed to Haywood for his inspection. Haywood himself has changed greatly in his demeanor with-in the last two days. At first he left his counsel severely alone and ap-peared to be taking little or no in-tetest in the matter of the selection of a fury. Now, however, he scans each talesman closely and is almost continually in cor-trence with his counsel. He watches the proceedings intently and whenever anything happens that brings out a laugh in the courtroom. WIDE LATITUDE FOR DEFENSE.

WIDE LATITUDE FOR DEFENSE. It has been evident since the hear-ing commenced that Judge Wood is intermined to allow the defense every latitude both in the examination and selection of the jury. One of the present occupants of the box and one of those passed by the state and the defense for - cause for instance, presented a perfectly good legal excuse, but as this was not of-fored at first and the examination had taken place, the court asked counsel if they had any objection. "We would be very sorry to lose a juror." said Mr. Darrow. The court promptly de-clined to excuse the talesman, LABOR UNION'S ATTITEDE.

LABOR UNION'S ATTITUDE.

It would appear from interviews with the most well-informed people in Boise and of counsel on both sides that any fear of trouble caused by the more radical element has now al-most entirely disappeared. The belief is expressed that the representative have of labor union circles through-out the country fully realize that the state of Idaio proposes to give the men a fair trial. That this is the fact those who have watched the conduct of the cause do not attempt to deny. The writers for Socialist newspapers and for the organs of the labor unions, who are here in large num-bers, themselves in conversition state host positively that their views have changed and express the coarterion that Haywood will be given every op-portunity to clear himself of the tar-spo violence was openly preached as a for the one of the believed to be wrongs done to labor leaders. Today the situation is different. Among all the people hers, representing as some of them do, the most radical element in the United States, moderation is counseled and full confidence is ex-pressed in the attitude of the people of Idaho towarls the accused.
