EUREKA SOCIAL NOTES.

The second production of the comedy drama, "Because I Love You," was given at I. O. O. F. hall Tuesday evening, under the direction of Mrs. Priscilla Stewart Taylor and Harry J. Beane. The audience was not so large as at the first production, but was a very appreciative one. The actors were at their best and gave a very creditable performance. After the show a supper was served in honor of all who participated in the play.

Mrs. L. Brooks Vincent, who was to give three lectures at the L. D. S. church this week, cancelled her last two dates, owing to the small audience present at her first lecture. The lady charges her misfortune to her manager, who did not use any discretion in selecting his dates, but billed her against other attractions.

Warren Foster, the Socialist orator of Salt Lake, spent a few days this week in Eureka.

CLUB CHAT.

The meeting of the Daughters of the Pioneers was held on Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. Maria Y. Dougall. The program was most interesting. Miss Katherine Gabbott giving two songs, after which Mr. B. H. Roberts spoke upon the importance and grandeur of pioneer movements, his words being in substance as follows: "I am glad to have the privilege of addressing this society upon a subject which will be of interest to them; for I hold in great esteem those who have benefited others and all mankind in all ages, as have the pioneers. They are the unselfish benefactors, working unceasingly, clearing the land and laying the foundations for our future commercial cities. The men were not alone in this respect for the women were truly as great as they in pioneer work."

"In the British colonies of America we found men and women with courage and perseverance, who laid the foundation for this great republic and who suffered the hardships of the journey through the wilderness. After they reached America they spread over all the land and empires sprang from this pioneer movement. So it is, pioneer movements are the seeds of empires and nations."

I am reminded of the pioneers spoken of in the Book of Mormon; the two families which left Egypt and journeyed to the Promised Land. They were wealthy, high-class people leaving good homes to suffer the hardships of the journey through the wilderness. After they reached America they spread over all the land and empires sprang from this pioneer movement. So it is, pioneer movements are the seeds of empires and nations."

Some of the intelligent spirits in Heaven were chosen to be rulers and to take part in the destiny of nations. So with the pioneers; they were chosen and directed by God to go forth and do this work. Therefore, we should love and revere the pioneers and hold dear their memories. It is an honor to be a descendant of men and women whom God chose to do so noble a work."

The pioneers were an intelligent, noble class of people and I hope that this work will be perpetuated through all ages, and that the acts of the pioneers will still be appreciated as they have been, in the organization of such a society."

The remarks were much appreciated by the society and followed with attentive interest. The next meeting is to be held April 11, at which there will be an election for new officers.

The music section of the L. L. C. is to be congratulated upon having arranged for the appearance here of Mrs. Charles Rhodes.

Mr. Adolph Giese, pianist, will open the program Tuesday evening next with the prelude from the third act of Lohengrin.

"Tickets for Mrs. Rhodes' lecture on Wagner and the Bayreuth Festival, Tuesday evening, March 31, are on sale at the music stores. A fact that needs no comment is that Mrs. Rhodes has given this beautiful lecture four times in less than a year in Los Angeles. It is illustrated by 120 colored stereoscopic views, showing various scenes connected with Wagner's life, scenes in Bayreuth, and of the operas. These pictures are masterpieces of beautiful coloring, in addition to the lecture and these fine illustrations. Mr. Adolph Giese of New York ably renders the many themes chosen from the various operas of Wagner."

The box office at the Theater was opened today, March 25, for exchange of tickets for Rhodes' lecture for reserved seats. Tickets will also be on sale at the Theater.

The Rhodes lecture is given under the auspices of Home and Education and Music Selections of the L. L. C. club, and the proceeds are to be applied to the furnishing of another model cotillion in the public schools.

At the Ladies' Literary club yesterday the two stories which were awarded prizes offered by the club some time ago were read, a large number being present to enjoy the afternoon's event. The story to which was awarded the first prize was written by Mrs. F. C. Kelsey, and is entitled "De Profundis." The theme is more properly a study, according to the author, than a story, and as the title suggests deals with the solemn things of life and of death. There is a picture of a still form enshrouded in its coffin and suggesting in its cold repose the tale of its brief "fever of living" with the light and tragic scenes following each other and moulting the personality with certain touch; then the finale of suffering with its great end, the story being a study of pathos throughout.

The second prize story by Mrs. M. L. Ritchie is in lighter vein, dealing with the human side of life in a clever little sketch called "The Minister of Little Cahola." An old man, worn gray in the ministry of his little parish, is about to be deposed by the people, who, while loving him are yet afflicted with a worldly desire for something more new and startling than his old style talks. Ignorant of their intention the old man on the Sabbath previous to the declaration of change, having had an anniversary celebration given him, speaks his thanks from the pulpit, and goes over, in a simple way, the scenes and events that he has participated in during his ministry, including everything in effect, which has affected most closely the lives and hearts of the people through the many years. Incidentally, he mentions for the first time the better prospects he sacrificed in accepting this call, and the simple story effectively disposes of the plan in progress to banish their old and loved friend from their midst. Both stories were received with interest and applause.

It is possible that each will be heard from in a wider field, as Mrs. Kelsey has received a letter from William Dean

Howells offering to read and criticize her story, and Mrs. Ritchie will perhaps also send hers away for publication. The contest awakened much interest, and the project has been generally mentioned as a most laudable one, lending as such things inevitably do, incentives to effort among the literarily gifted people of the club.

The lectures given by Prof. Clark at Barratt hall this week attracted a large number of club women who have been enthusiastic in their praise of his talks.

The Reviewers' club will meet on Monday, and the program will consist of a paper on the "Fireside Sphinx" by Mrs. C. D. Moore, and another by Mrs. Woodruff on the "Nielungen Lied."

The Cleofan will hold a business meeting on Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. Wells, the election officers being the affair of importance. All members are urgently requested to be present.

At the Woman's club this week Mrs. C. S. Kinney read a paper on the life of Napoleon. The club will not meet next week, on account of the visit of Mrs. Stone.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 145 to 82 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Z. C. M. I. Drug Store, 112-114 Main Street.
