Hague, March 12 .- It is learned both parties to the war, But the United States might very r through the consuls at Pretoria properly serve as intermediary to transmit an appeal for peace and the terms upon which peace can be secured, The United States has successfully served in this capacity in the past, notably in the termination of the China-

Japanese war, and it is believed that good offices in this line are now being extended. If this belief is well founded then Adelbert Hay, United States consul to Pretoria, has been the instrument for transmitting to the British government, through the double inter-vention of the state department and Ambassador Choate, an application from Presidents Kruger and Steyn to be informed as to the terms upon which the war can be ended. and the Free State capital is now so small-only about twenty-five milesthat it is apparent the Boers either contemplate making a determined stand on the outskirts of the town or for strategic reasons, best known to themselves, are allowing Lord Roberts to occupy it after merely harassing his advance. The numerical superiority of the British troops leaves no doubt in the minds of the critics here that Lord Roberts will accomplish his immediate objective, the occupation of Bloemfontein.

BETWEEN TWO ARMIES.

The commander-in-chief's latest dispatch announcing that Gen. Gatacre is at Bethulie bridge, and the specials saying Gen. Gatacre commands the bridge approaches, put the Boers in the vicinity between two British forces, Aasvogel Kop, whence Lord Roberts sent his last cable message, being 100 miles almost due north of Bethulle. However, there is a large plain between them and the main body of the Boers now confronting Lord Roberts with its ceaseless activity may be quite able to cover the retreat of the burghers confronting Gen. Gatacre. Once the British are in con-trol of the railroad from Bethulie.to Bloemfontein, the junction at the Free State capital of Generals Gatacre and Roberts would be a matter of a very few days.

Washington, March 12 .- L. J. Simpkins, an electrical engineer at Wardner, Idaho, testified in the Coeur d'Alene investigation before the House committee on military affairs today. He said he did not participate in the rlot, but soon after that event he was arrested by a squad of United States troops, who went about the streets arresting those persons pointed out by Bunker Hill mine "spotters." Two spectators on the streets who stopped to see the soldiers and their prisoners, were promptly arrested and put with the other prisoners. The witness said one of the prisoners, a Swede, was taken with a fit, whereupon a negro soldier struck him senseless with the butt of a gun. most desired to implicate, for the purpose, the witness said, of hanging them or getting them out of the country. He said he afterwards learned that the assessor had had trouble with the Bunker Hill mine over their assessments. The witness detailed an interview with an army officer in which the latter declined to permit a priest to be summoned to one of the prisoners who was dying and also refused to allow him to disposition of his property. He detailed many other instances of alleged cruelty. One of his recitals was as to a brief visit by Gen. Merriam to the "bull pen," visit by Gen. Merrian to the ball pen, and the refusal to allow prisoners to communicate with him. In telling of the shooting of Johnson, the prisoner who went insane, the witness contrib-uted additional testimony that while Johnson was running away, a certain manufactured "choot shoot," and mine official shouted "shoot, shoot," and the goldlers accordingly shot.

The witness said he helped to dig the tunnel intended as a means of es-cape, as he was "dying by inches." He also gave his experience on the standing tine, and while in solitary confine-
