

PROVO MAN ELECTROCUTED

Frank Conover Meets Instant Death While Making Electric Light Connection.

(Special to the "News")
Provo, Nov. 4.—While connecting the new residence of William Phillips with the wires of the Provo Electric Light Company, Frank Conover, an electrician, met instant death at half past three this afternoon. A current of 2,000 volts passed through the youth's body from the shoulder and he apparently never knew what struck him.

Conover was single, respected and leaves a wife and one child. He was about 40 years of age.

CHIEF TO INTERVIEW THEM.

Will Hold Conference With the Riotous High School Students.

Chief of Police Tom D. Pitt stated today that he would hold a conference with high school students with reference to their riotous actions on Friday night last. Chief Pitt has already had a conference with Prof. Elton and the two thoroughly understand each other. Chief Pitt said he proposed to Pitt if possible, the name of the students if they were named and when whom that they will be held responsible for the future as he did in the case of those leading university students.

The public is entitled to protection and will receive it, said Chief Pitt. "Of course it is impossible to always pick out every one guilty of such acts as those committed by the riotous, but it is to be hoped to find the ringleaders. They will be warned and given a repetition of the offense, will be handed here in jail."

THREW HIS RIDER.

Fractions Horse Created Excitement On East Second South Street.

A fractious horse and a slippery street were the cause of much excitement on east Second South street early today. For a time it looked as though one or more persons would be hurt, but the worst that happened was that the rider had a severe shaking up, as he went down and motion was in imminent danger of going down too.

The horse, a sorrel, came across the road just in front of the Union hotel. No sooner was the man off of the saddle than the animal slipped on the wet pavement and went sliding towards the south sidewalk. At the curb it regained its feet, but again started the shaking and went broadside against a row of dressed windows that was hanging from a livery shop. The horse was seen of "up again, down again," for he made a hinge for the plate glass of the Lexington saloon next door. He landed on his side with his feet against the panel immediately below the glass. Here he was caught by the rider, who was unharmed, assisted by two or three bystanders.

SOUZA'S BAND ARRIVES.

Although Three Hours Late, Men Are In Excellent Spirits.

Souza's band reached this city from the west at 12:30 p.m., three hours late. The men were in excellent spirits, after their triumph on the coast, and ready to give a good account of themselves.

Mrs. Souza and the principals went to the Knickerbocker hotel. There has been a strong wish expressed here that the band and Prof. McClellan play together the church bells from the "Cathedral Rustic" on Saturday evening, when the success of the Handel "Largo" will end on the occasion of the band's last visit to Salt Lake, when the band and the organist played that selection together.

Herbert L. Clark, the solo cornetist, remained this afternoon, to a salt lake audience, the measure he experienced at the performance of Mr. Souza stated at the time he participated with the way the organ was handled.

At her death she was a member of the general board of Relief Society in which she served for many years in the United States and Mexico. She also toured England and Europe. She was a member of two social organizations—the Smiling Circle and the Old Shawnee club.

The home had always been in Salt Lake, with the exception of a short time which time she resided in Provo, at which place her funeral services will be held on Wednesday at 11 a.m.

MARTELL IS DISCHARGED.

Judge Dield Returns Him on Shooting Made by Attorney.

Frank Martell, the man who was shot Saturday by Al. Dales, the saloon owner in his office, was brought before Justice Dales, this afternoon, on the same charge of shooting. The attorney for Martell's attorney, Mr. Hart, had been seen on eight occasions since Martell had shot the court and grand jury.

This morning Dales retained Atty. Norton to defend him and the latter, taking the case, got the charge reduced to $1,000, and is now engaged in securing the same.

W. P. COOPER IN MARYLAND.

Exalted Ruler of Mills Visiting His Former Home.

(Special to the "News")

Towson, Md., Nov. 4.—W. P. Cooper, exalted ruler of Salt Lake City judge No. 5, R. P. O. Co., was in town yesterday, visiting friends. Mr. Cooper is a nephew of Mrs. Samuel F. Butler, who formerly lived in Towson.

MARTELL RE-ARRESTED.

Shortly after being released on the charge of being drunk this afternoon, Frank Martell was re-arrested, and is now being held pending a decision by the county attorney as to whether he shall be held as a witness against Dales in his own shooting case.

SUBPOENAS ISSUED.

U. S. Marshal Reserves Three for Service in Annie Bradley Case.

The United States marshal's office today received from Washington, D. C., papers that back to the Annie M. Bradley case. The documents were subpoenas for three Salt Lakers wanted as witnesses by the defense.

Atty. Samuel A. King, M. M. Kalgan, receiver of the U. S. land office, and Arthur E. Barnes, are the persons designated to be cited by local official to appear in Washington on Nov. 11, on which day Mr. Bradley will be placed on trial for the killing of ex-U. S. Senator Arthur B. Bankhead.

The name of Arthur E. Barnes is believed to be a mistake. While there is an Arthur E. Barnes here, he is the same man as the well known councilman from the Third ward. It is not thought that this is the person wanted. Albert Barton, attorney, is doubtless the individual whose presence is desired at the capital.

The papers were in the "Bureau" hands shortly after 6 o'clock and will be served at once. The trial of Mrs. Bradley will commence Monday, Nov. 5, and the witnesses can look for trials this time in beginning the journey.

JOHN WOOLSEY ARRESTED.

John Woolsey, charged with failing to provide for his four minor children, was arraigned this morning in Judge Dales' court. He entered a plea of not guilty, and the case was set for Nov. 20 for trial. The complaint was shown to be for several months Woolsey had refused to provide for his children.

The papers were in the "Bureau" hands shortly after 6 o'clock and will be served at once. The trial of Mrs. Bradley will commence Monday, Nov. 5, and the witnesses can look for trials this time in beginning the journey.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Bluffield, W. Va., Nov. 4.—Alderson Bailey was burned to death, his elder mother burned so badly from the waist up that she will die. His mother, his brother and a 14-year-old girl were seriously injured in a fire which destroyed the home of Alexander Bailey here last night. Mrs. Bailey sustained her injury by jumping from a second story window. The 5-year-old girl was thrown from the window, and the men below failed to catch her.

TRAINS PUT END TO ALL SERVICES

Twenty-Second Ward Asks $10,000 Damages from Oregon Short Line.

The Twenty-second ward, an ecclesiastical corporation of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints has filed suit against the Oregon Short Line Railway company in which $10,000 is asked as damages. The complainant alleges that the trains passing the ward meetinghouse on Third North street between Third and Fourth West streets disturb the services held there and that by reason thereof the services caused by the trains passing the ward meetinghouse has been disturbed.

Nowhere else in the city have there been two tracks on the street, but that there are now 14. The building was erected at a cost of $20,000 cash.

BOND REDUCED.

Chief Dield Returns Him on Shooting Made by Attorney.

Frank Martell, the man who was shot Saturday by Al. Dales, the saloon owner in his office, was brought before Justice Dales, this afternoon, on the same charge of shooting. WANTS OBSTRUCTION REMOVED.

H. J. Robinson and others living in West Third South street have petitioned the city council to order the obstruction on the sidewalk at Third South and West Temple removed. The obstruction consists of a concrete foundation for the exterior foundation of the building for the Perry estate. It is desired in the community that the petitioners that the obstruction be removed and renders passage over the sidewalk easier.

The above refers to W. P. Cooper of Salt Lake, manager of the Pink Dry Goods company of this city. Mr. Cooper left some weeks ago for a business trip to the east. He went to New York, and from there visited several eastern cities. He will return to Salt Lake Saturday, via Elko Lodge and is most highly esteemed by all who know him. Sir, Cooper will return to Salt Lake in the near future.

BARN BURNS DOWN.

Fire destroyed a barn owned by S. C. Dallas, 1832 Tenth East street at 7:15 this morning, causing a loss of $500 to building and a like amount to contents. Bishop Tunstall first discovered the fire and giving the alarm, he sounded the fire bell, which was answered by the fire department.

DEATH OF C. F. RUNDQUIST.

One of Salt Lake's Substantial Citizens Answers Final Call.

In the passing of Carl Frederick Rundquist, who died this morning at his residence, 260 C street, Salt Lake loses one of its good citizens. Mr. Rundquist, a highly popular and highly regarded man, was the author of "The Story of the American People," which he wrote in 1891, and which has sold over 1,000,000 copies. He was a member of the Salt Lake Lodge of the Knights of Columbus, and a member of the Masonic Lodge.

With his wife Johanna, Mr. Rundquist moved a hardware across the plaza in 1891, and in 1893 he constructed a stockroom shop just north of where the Kaufmann hotel now stands, and for many years has had a good record. He was a man of great energy, although it was necessary to save every drop of water for his hardware shop, as there was no street ditch. His place is one of the neatest spots of the town and Mr. Rundquist's efforts in this direction merit much praise. Notice of funeral will be made later.
