

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, JUNE 15.

Arrests.

Last evening, Isaac Farley of Mound Fort was arrested on a charge of unlawful cohabitation on a warrant issued from the First District Court, an indictment having been found against him.

To-day John Farrell, of Eden, was arrested on Main Street in this city under similar conditions. Both gave bonds for their appearance in court.—Ogden Herald, June 14.

Run Over.

On Monday night two small boys were riding on one horse near the depot. While they were going along the road, they state, P. D. Sprague, the hackman, drove up with his vehicle, striking and frightening the horse they were on. The boys were both thrown to the ground and one of them, August Neikist, was run over by Sprague's hack, the wheel passing over the middle of his body, and considerably injuring his right hip.

Honoring a Veteran.

A correspondent writes from Washington, Utah, June 10th, as follows:

"Yesterday, June 9th, being President Henry Harrison's natal day, the people of Washington turned out, en masse to give him a surprise. They assembled at Bishop Marcus Funk's, and marched from there to the house of our worthy veteran. Then Bishop Funk called the assembly to order, and the Sunday School choir sang a very appropriate piece, the Bishop spoke a short time, principally on Father Harrison's past life. He has spent over 52 years laboring in the Church, and has filled many important missions. Elders Francis Boggs and Samuel Hardy each spoke a short time. The latter is a cousin to President Harrison. Both spoke of the latter's faithfulness to the Church. Then the good sisters spread a bountiful picnic, and when all had eaten their fill President Harrison addressed the company, thanking all for their kindness. Although he is eighty-three years of age, he still has health and strength and is as firm in the faith as ever.

Judge Waymire.

Judge J. A. Waymire, of San Francisco, came in from the west this morning. The Judge is a prominent Californian, having twice been elected Judge of the Superior Court in San Francisco, and is president of the Soldiers' Home there for which Congress has made very considerable appropriations. He is a man of means, being interested in cable roads in St. Louis, on which he holds bonds. He remains over a day at the request of Mr. S. W. Sears, who is now here, and of whom Judge Waymire is a personal friend. The Judge resumes his journey to New York in the morning.

Fruit Canning.

The establishment of a canning factory in Ogden City is an assured fact. The gentlemen who have the enterprise in hand have been working quietly and carefully, and now operations have commenced. The old Vinegar Works property has been secured, and preparations are being made to put up a large quantity of stuff this season. A number of men are now at work making cans, and some of the machinery has already been received for the rest of the work; while still more is on the way.

Contracts have been made with a number of Weber County farmers to furnish large quantities of tomatoes, which, we are informed, will pay the farmers at the rate of $400 per acre if the present conditions hold and the companies not compelled to lower its price for this class of produce. As it is now, they will be able to compete successfully with the California packers and still pay the farmers a good price for what they grow. The gentlemen who have commenced this enterprise are determined to push it to success. It will be a great benefit to the farmers, and will open up to them a new source of revenue, which even now they cannot fail to appreciate and foster.—Ogden Herald, June 13.

It Was a Full Stop.

On Monday evening two young men residing in this city—one in the Seventh and the other in the Fourth Ward—went out riding with two of the fair sex, they were proceeding along the drive at Liberty Park, each couple seemingly oblivious to all around, the young man who was holding the reins paying little attention to the horses, who were dashing along at full speed. When the party approached the crossing over the creek just west of the mill, by some means one of the lines was drawn, and the animals were turned off the road, and past the railing on the bridge. At this place the channel of the creek is eight or ten feet deep, and the banks very steep. Into this gully the chargers plunged, causing the vehicle to come down with a crash. Fortunately the animals broke loose and climbed up the opposite bank, but the buggy and its occupants were left in an awful plight. The vehicle was completely wrecked, while the inmates were thrown in a heap into the creek and scrambled out as best they could, being thoroughly drenched. A boy who happened in the neighborhood gave assistance, and succeeded in getting out of the water a lady's slipper, two ladies' hats, and a coat, with $10 in the pocket, belonging to one of the men. The quartette gathered themselves up and retired from the scene as quickly as practicable. The horses were afterwards recovered uninjured, but the buggy is not worth the cost of repairing. None of the parties were seriously hurt, though all were pretty badly shaken by the suddenness of the stop.

She was quickly missed, and a search was instituted for her, soon resulting in the discovery of her dead body, in a spring near the house, into which she had fallen and drowned. The child was only about a year old.

Brother Gardner's wife is now dangerously ill.

ANOTHER RAILWAY.

It Will Come Over a New Route to Salt Lake City.

A certificate of incorporation has been issued to the Utah Railway Company, incorporated under the laws of Utah Territory, with a capital of $7,500,000. The names of the incorporators are James G. Taylor, of Nebraska; George W. Cronio, of Colorado; James Anderson, H. T. Duke, Justin A. Goodhue, George Mullett, William McKay, Marcellus S. Pendergast, Carey D. Porter, John S. Scott, Benjamin Van Densen, Lewis C. Karlick, of Utah, and Charles H. Tall, of Colorado. Each of these holds one share, valued at $100, with the exception of James G. Taylor, who holds 4,980 shares.

The proposed line of railway, as mapped out in the articles, will commence in the Grand River Valley, at a point on the east line of the Territory of Utah, near the 39th parallel of latitude, and at the proposed terminus of the Colorado Company Railway, and extend thence southwesterly south of and near the said 39th parallel, by the most practicable route, to a point at or near the town of Salina, on the Sevier River, in Sevier County, Utah, and thence north by the most practicable route into the Utah Valley, and thence into Salt Lake City; with a branch line of road diverging from the main line of the company's railroad at the most practicable point at or near the town of Salina; and extending thence in a southwesterly direction through Sevier Valley to a point near the north line of Plute County, thence westerly through or near the point of junction of Plute, Beaver, Millard and Sevier counties, thence westerly through the southern portion of Millard county, by the most practicable route to a point on the west line of the Territory of Utah, between the 38th and 39th parallel of latitude. It will extend through the counties of Emery, Sevier, Plute, Sanpete, Juab, Utah and a portion of Salt Lake county; while the branch will extend through the counties of Sevier and Millard, and, in part, into the counties of Plute and Beaver, if the most practicable route therefor shall be found in part to lie south of the north line of said Plute and Beaver counties. The actual cost of construction—including right of way, motive power and every other appurtenance for the proper and complete running of the road—is estimated at $9,750,000; and the length, as nearly as it can at present be estimated, 445 miles, the main line 320 and the branch 125.

NEW MADE TEACHERS.

Interesting Commencement Exercises at the University.

The commencement exercises of the University of Deseret, in the University building to-day, was a grand affair. The opening of the exercises was delayed by the tremendous jam that filled to overflowing the apartment in which the programme was rendered.

There were present on the platform, besides the participants in the programme, Apostle H. J. Grant, Hon. John T. Caine, Judge E. A. Smith, County Superintendent of District Schools W. H. Stewart, Rev. T. C. Cliff, a number of prominent visitors, and members of the Board of Regents and of the faculty.

At 11 o'clock, Dr. J. R. Park, President of the University, called the assembly to order, and the overture was rendered in fine style by the orchestra, led by Professor Weihe.

The opening prayer was offered by Apostle H. J. Grant.

CHANCELLOR O. F. WHITNEY

then proceeded to deliver an address couched in eloquent language. Its tenor was in advocacy of personal independence in all the relations of life, and of integrity to one's highest conceptions and convictions of right. Better advice to graduates could scarcely have been given, than in the brief but graceful and forcible remarks of this speaker.

Miss Alice Merrill read, in a very pleasing manner, an original essay on "Lady Macbeth and Ophelia," which displayed considerable literary ability and critical comment. The fair reader was made the recipient of some handsome bouquets as she resumed her seat.

Prof. Stephens' duet,

"CONSOLATION,"

was sung by Mrs. Nellie Druce Pugsley and Miss Bessie Dean in exquisite style.

Charles H. Hart, one of the normal graduates, read an essay on "The Advancement and Utility of Knowledge," in which some excellent sentiments and ideas were expressed in the language. It was a very creditable effort.

DR. J. R. PARK

then read the list of normal graduates, and proceeded to deliver an address to them, fraught with excellent advice and elevated views of the calling of a teacher.

At the conclusion of Dr. Park's address, he formally presented to each graduate a certificate, bearing the seal of the University and the signatures of its officers and faculty.

Professor Weihe then rendered, with his masterly execution, a violin solo, "Scene de Ballet" with a piano accompaniment.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER P. L. WILLIAMS

then proceeded to deliver an address. He opened with some remarks appropriate to the occasion, and warmly praised the University, forming his judgment of it not only from what he heard about it, but by what he had seen to-day. He dwelt upon the importance of the calling chosen by the normal graduates, and directed to them some excellent suggestions and advice.

He referred to the contest between Governor Murray and the Legislature regarding an appropriation to the University. He stated that the Governor's refusal to approve it was based upon two grounds, namely, that the University was under the control of an illegal set of officers, and that it was sectarian in character. He expressed the view that the withholding of the appropriation was not a proper way to test the legal authority of the officers who controlled the University, and stated that, in his view, the question was important only for the reason that it was desirable to have proper and legal methods prevail.

If the other objection to the appropriation was true, namely, that the University was sectarian in character, then, the speaker thought public money ought not to be appropriated to it. He expressed the opinion that whatever might have been truthfully said of the University in the past in this regard, in his opinion, at the present time, be termed a sectarian institution. He thought there ought to be no reason why its non-sectarian character should not be thoroughly established in the understanding of the public, and that, if this were done, and all doubt upon this point were removed, there would be no difficulty in obtaining such appropriations from time to time as might be needed to give the institution the character designed for it, that of a university, complete in all its departments and appointments. He pictured a brilliant future for the University and expressed the hope that trifling differences would not be permitted to retard its progress.

IT COULD NOT,

The orchestra rendered the selection "Awakening of the Lion," in a superb manner, when Dr. Park introduced who was greeted with applause. He spoke very briefly, referring to the commencement exercises of last year which he, then a stranger, attended with great pleasure. Since that time, while studying the condition of things in the Territory, he had not heard from any source, save except good words for the University. He dwelt upon the necessity there was for such an institution and pledged himself to do all in his power to encourage it. He closed with some excellent advice to the graduates.

Next was rendered the duet and chorus "Miserere" by Mrs. Pugsley, Miss Dean, chorus and orchestra.

Dr. Park announced that the audience was invited to visit Calder's Farm to-morrow, and that such as desired could procure a copy of the University Annual by applying for the same.

Benediction was pronounced by Hon. John T. Caine.

The occasion was a most pleasing one, and has added to the prestige of the University.

This afternoon an accident occurred near the water tank at the corner of First South and Third East streets. A boy about eleven years old, named Love, was seated on the top of one of the sprinkling cart. The vehicle rattled over a steep part of the road, causing the lad to be thrown off. One wheel passed over both legs, but the extent of his injuries could not be learned. The boy, who seemed to suffer considerably, was conveyed to his home in the Sixth Ward in a carriage.

Married.

On Wednesday last the 15th inst., an auspicious event occurred in Logan, which is no doubt fraught with life long happiness to the principal participants in it. It was the marriage of Frank S. Tingey, son of Bishop John Tingey, of the Seventeenth Ward, this city, to Miss Sara A. Bywater, daughter of Henry Bywater, also of this city. A reception was held last evening, in honor of the wedding, at the residence of the bride's parents.

Struck by a Swing.

CHARGED WITH POLYGAMY.

Thomas F. Harris Indicted for Marrying a Second Wife.

One of the two indictments for polygamy, found by the late grand jury, was against Thos. F. Harris, a non-Mormon, late of Ogden (the other indictment being against Mrs. Polly Gaines Graham), who is now serving a term in the penitentiary for unlawful cohabitation.

The indictment in this case sets forth that the defendant Harris, on December 20, 1880, at the city of Salt Lake, in the Third Judicial District, Utah Territory, "did marry and take to wife one Elizabeth, whose maiden name is to the grand jurors unknown, spinster, and her, the said Elizabeth, then and thereafter for his wife, from whom the said Thomas F. Harris has never been divorced, and that she, the said Elizabeth, ever since the day and year last aforesaid has been, and still is, the lawful wife of him, the said Thomas F. Harris, and that the said Thomas F. Harris, after the day last aforesaid, and while he was so married to the said Elizabeth as aforesaid, to wit, on the 18th day of June, A. D. 1886, at the said city of Salt Lake, in the County of Salt Lake, and in the district and Territory aforesaid, unlawfully and feloniously did marry and take to wife one Abbie Lawrence, and to her, the said Abbie Lawrence, was then and there unlawfully and feloniously married; the said Elizabeth, his former wife, being then alive; and so the grand jurors aforesaid do charge him, the said Thomas F. Harris, with the crime of polygamy, committed in manner and form aforesaid, against the form of the statute of the United States, in such case made and provided, against the peace and dignity of the same."

To-day Mr. Harris was brought in and was arraigned on the foregoing charge, to which he pleaded not guilty. He was then returned to prison.
