CHRISTMAS

CHRISTMAS, with its cheery emblems of holly and mistletoe, vivid greens and reds, has given the customary tinge to festivity, and many functions have been brightened with their glow. The coming two weeks will see no change, for only one idea prevails till the new year brings the abandonment of yuletide tokens.

The largest event of the week was the dancing party given by Miss Dorothy Kinney on Tuesday night, in honor of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Dougherty. The event took place at Unity hall, and the decorations chiefly in red and green, gave an added air of festivity to the scene. Branches of the California pepper tree with its scarlet berries were used in reception room and main hall with palms and potted plants, and American Beauty roses were about on the mantels. In the basement, where supper was served, pink and green were used, a large wicker basket filled with pink roses forming the centerpiece, and pink tulle streamers and pink shades making a pretty effect. About 100 guests were present.

One of the elaborate affairs of the week was the luncheon given by Miss May Kewlin at the Alta club on Tuesday, the table being laid in the gold room, and beautifully decorated in the holiday idea, a miniature Christmas tree forming the centerpiece, while holly wreaths, red ribbon, and silver candles with red shades completed the pretty picture. The placecards were done in red, covers being laid for the following besides the hostess and guest of honor: Miss Maude Fitch, Miss Margaret Seaton, Miss Mary Smedley, Miss Alice Goodwin, Miss Beth Dunbar, Miss Jenna-Budd Geddes, Miss Winnie Rhodes, Miss Louise Egan, Miss Stella McIntyre, Miss Mary Moore, Miss Lella Stingley, Miss Mary Seaton, Miss Alice Fitch, Miss Florence Kimball, Miss Annie Best, Miss Evelyn Daly, Miss Madara Daly and Miss Lorens Leary.

Capt. and Mrs. John Woodward entertained informally at dinner at the Fort on Tuesday night preceding the Kinney dance.

Mrs. R. H. Channing has issued invitations for a buffet luncheon for next Tuesday.

Tuesday was the birthday anniversary of Mr. E. M. Allison, and the occasion was celebrated in a dinner at his home, about a dozen of Mr. Allison's men friends being present. The table was charmingly decorated in red and white, its centerpiece being in white roses, while red satin streamers and red Christmas bells aided in the effect. Present were Judge Andrew Howat, Judge W. H. Dickson, Judge Thomas Marshall, Joseph L. Rawlins, Waldemar Van Cott, Benner K. Smith, E. B. Critchlow, C. E. Varian, F. L. Williams, Judge Henry P. Henderson, Judge Le Grande Young and Dr. John F. Critchlow.

Miss Katherine Judge entertained informally at dinner on Tuesday night.

Mrs. S. H. Pinkerton was hostess at a luncheon on Wednesday at the Emery-Holmes, the guests being entertained at "600" afterward in her apartment. The decorations were pretty and effective, and covers were laid for the following: Mrs. Fred Wey, Mrs. Isadore Mayer, Mrs. Sandra, Mrs. Joseph Luce, Mrs. James L. Lendrick, Mrs. Von Knobloch, Mrs. L. C. Slade, Mrs. Kiselek, Mrs. A. Luman, Miss Marie Luce, Miss Rose Morris, Miss Claudia Morris.

A pleasant affair of Wednesday was the Kensington given by Mrs. Ethel Ott Clark in honor of Miss Sue Clark, about 15 guests being entertained. A guessing game was enjoyed, the prize going to Miss Sue Clark. The rooms were bright with flowers and present were Mesdames McMillan, Yates, William McCullister, C. E. Paris, Geo. Ames, L. C. Kelsey, George Goddard, W. M. Planchell, George Walker, Misses Stella Clark, Florence Lendrick, Blanche Strickley, Abbie Herman, Hilbert Crawford, Mildred Ott, Irma Walker, McIntosh, Mabel Carson Breeden.

Mrs. John Lewis entertained the Cup and Saucer club at her home this week.

Mrs. L. Hanchette entertained the Plate club on Thursday.

The charity ball given by the Congregation Montfort on Thursday night at the Armory hall was a success in all details.

Mrs. George Ames entertained at an informal Kensington on Monday in honor of Mrs. Grace of New York, about 35 guests being present.

A pretty affair of the week was the luncheon given by Mrs. N. A. Dunyon in honor of Miss Antoinette Lambourne, 10 guests being present. Pink carnations were the decorations.

Dorothy Wilson celebrated her fifth birthday this week in a pretty children's party, games and refreshments being among the features. The table was decorated in red and white carnations and tiny bell-trimmed baskets of bon-bons were the favors. Present were Misses Irene Wise, Minnie Hubbard, Edith Yundt, Dorothy Davis, Florence Knight, Elsie Leiff, Genevieve Leiff, Arvilla Iverson, Mabel Moroni, Margaret Moroni, Ione Vic, Kenneth King, Mertie Linton, Dorothy Wilson, George Hubbard, Robert Yundt, Gerald Hines, Martin Mulvey, Jack

Badger, Curtis Park, Dick Luman, Ralph Lovendale, Hoamer Graham, Jack Halverson. Assisting during the afternoon were Mrs. Emma Clinton, Mrs. J. L. Sliff, Mrs. James Clinton, Mrs. Lovendale, Mrs. Fred Vic, Miss Eva Manning, Miss Clara Porter.

The dance given at the Ladies' Literary club last night by members of the Utah and University clubs was an enjoyable affair, every detail being arranged to perfection, and a large number being present.

Miss Louise Walden entertained the Society of the King's Daughters at her home on Thursday.

Little Virginia Godbe attained her sixth birthday on Thursday, and the

Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt is at a private hospital in New York recovering from an operation. Mrs. Vanderbilt, accompanied by her husband and daughter, arrived from Newport about a week ago, and Mrs. Vanderbilt went at once to the hospital. It was said at the hospital that Mrs. Vanderbilt was resting well after the operation and would be able to leave on or about Dec. 30. An admission from an operation performed a year ago caused the second operation. Mrs. Vanderbilt had planned extensive entertainments for Christmas week when she expected to entertain a large house party. If the recovery is as satisfactory as expected she will be able to proceed with her social arrangements.

A delightful affair on Thursday, about 15 little tots being entertained, was celebrated in a charming children's party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Godbe, about 10 little tots being entertained. The rooms were decorated in holiday colors, and there was a Christmas tree with stockings filled with candy for each, and a game of pinning a love on a picture of Santa Claus blindfold was enjoyed, the prize being won by little Marian Rockholz. The table in the dining room was bright with green and red, a great birthday cake, three stories high, being in the center, while ropes of evergreen entwined with red ribbon streamers were brought from the chandelier to the four corners and over all hung a holly bell. The little guests stayed from 2 to 5 and had a royal time.

Another pretty child's party of the week was that given by Mrs. John Woodward at the Post on Thursday for her little son, in the way of a fancy dress ball, the scene being one of the most charming imaginable.

Miss Winnie Rhodes was hostess at a delightful affair on Thursday, her function being a luncheon given at the Alta club. The decorations were beautiful and the entire event delightful.

THE LARGER OUTSIDE CITIES

OGDEN.

At the Salt Lake Temple on Thursday Miss Lucy Tribe and Mr. Thomas Clarke were united in marriage. They returned to Ogden in the evening and were given a brilliant wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents, 543 Twenty-fourth street, which was enjoyed by a large number of relatives and friends, who spent a pleasant time at music and sociality. A bounteous repast was served. The home was prettily decorated in flowers, ferns and evergreens. They received many beautiful presents. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Tribe and is one of Ogden's most highly esteemed young ladies. The groom is one of the popular salesmen of the Boyle Furniture company. They will make Ogden their future home.

Mrs. L. C. Chester and daughter of Salt Lake City were visiting in Ogden this week, the guest of Mrs. Alex Toppence.

One of the pleasant events of the week was the ball given Tuesday evening by the Weber club to the ladies, and a large number of friends. Dancing was participated in until after midnight, to sweet strains of music furnished by Short's enlarged orchestra. Dainty refreshments were served throughout the evening.

The Veteran Firemen have completed arrangements for a grand ball to be given next Thursday evening at the Weber stake dancing hall.

At the Salt Lake Temple Wednesday Miss Anna Helena Hansen, daughter of Mrs. Nella Hansen was married to Mr. Evert Neuteboom. The bride was one of the nurses at the Ogden general hospital and the groom is connected with the Last & Thomas dry goods establishment as salesman. They have a host of friends in Ogden who will join in wishing them every happiness and prosperity. Mr. and Mrs. Neuteboom will make their home at 2719 Madison avenue.

At the Fifth ward amusement hall Thursday evening a highly interesting and pleasurable entertainment was given by the ladies of the St. Joseph's

A NOVEL FUR CROWN.

With the marked popularity of furs as trimmings, in whole garments, muffs and scarfs, it would be quite natural to suppose that the chapeau of fur would be quite the thing this season. However, Dame Fashion seems to disapprove of the all-fur hat, preferring the velvet or lace affair with fur trimmings, which fact is strongly exemplified in the medium-sized cavalier shape of a dove gray velvet, the crown of chinilla very much the same shape as a man's soft felt hat having a crease through the center of the crown. The fur is shaped so as to extend out on the brim a couple of inches, a soft white satin ribbon tied around the crown with cut ends at the left side. The edge of the brim is finished with a white velvet cord, the left side turned up rather sharply to admit of the large bunch of ostrich feathers in white shading to a deep gray in the tips, and the bandeau, which in this case is in the front and side, is covered with folds of gray malines in three shades.
