CONFERENCE NOTICE.

The thirty-second Semi-Annual Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, will commence at ten o'clock on Sunday morning, October 4th, 1891, in the Tabernacle, Salt Lake City.

A cordial invitation is extended to all the officers and members of the Church to be present at the meetings.

WILLIAM WOODRUFF,
 GEORGE G. CANNON,
 JOSEPH F. SMITH,
 First Presidency.

THE WORK OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

The Board of Education is doing excellent work. The members are prompt and energetic and their interest seems unabated. It is a matter of regret that the school funds are at present a drug upon the money market. This will not always be so. A change will come and they will be in demand. Money is very much needed, not only for school buildings but for current expenses, and the Board is handicapped in consequence.

Nevertheless, plans are being made continually for the widening and improvement of school work, and accommodations for scholars are being secured as fast as possible. The doubling up of the work and sessions for the primary grade is a good measure considering the crowded condition of the schools, and the efficiency displayed in all departments of city educational work is commendable. For particulars read the report of the Board sent out in another column.

We understand that sites for new school buildings can be obtained for lots. But to the erection of school buildings there must, of course, be an expenditure of money for materials and labor. But could not some of our strongest contractors and builders, lumber and brick sellers and others, make some kind of a contribution or syndicate to secure the contracts for these buildings and take funds to pay them in part payment?

This is worth considering. It is for the public interest that the needed school facilities should be forthcoming without delay. The work should be done with haste, and the money should be paid in full. It would be a pity to see outside capitalists come in and take it out of the hands of home contractors and investors. We believe the funds will be in demand after while and that money can be made by taking that for the work. We have no doubt that satisfactory arrangements could be made with the Board of Education if our home builders and contractors are disposed to take the matter up.

The question, asked by the majority of the Board that, until the public funds can be secured for general public purposes, the school has no use may be used under certain conditions for political and other meetings, will be endorsed by the public. It shows a disposition to study the public interest, and meet the public sentiment. The stipulation that smoking and the delinquent of the buildings with tobacco juice should be strictly guarded against, is eminently proper, and those who engage the schoolhouses for public gatherings should see to it that the rule is enforced.

We do not see why politics and tobacco should be so intimately associated, nor why men cannot congregate politically as they would at a dramatic or musical entertainment, and abstain from smoking in the hall and sitting the floor of the places where they assemble as much in one case as in the other.

A general public hall, of sufficient dimensions, to the business part of town is a public necessity. There should be others of smaller size in the outer districts. But for the present, one large assembly hall in a central locality would meet the pressing demand and be profitable in a pecuniary as well as a public sense. In the meantime it is right to allow the people who pay for the schoolhouses to use them, in wisdom and decency, for general public purposes, and that portion of the Board which approved of the measure is entitled to credit for the resolution. On general principles the Board of Education, so far as we can perceive, is taking a praiseworthy course.

THAT DEEP CREEK RAILROAD.

The Deep Creek railroad scheme has become a matter of general interest. The Russian, and appears to have entirely relaxed, and the prospects of anything practical arising from it become smaller by degrees and less likely to be as the months roll by. Yet the road would be of great benefit to Salt Lake as well as to property owners in Deep Creek, and the indications are that it would bring good returns for the money invested in its construction.

At the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, Oct. 1st, Dr. J. H. Brown brought up the subject and urged the calling of a meeting for its special consideration. He was of the opinion that the same and the no-ney necessary would be forthcoming at the meeting. The project was not carried out. Tuesday, October 12th, was set as the day of the meeting, and a special call for it at the Chamber of Commerce will be issued by the secretary.

HOME GOODS.

The Denver News speaks of the fine carpets, cushions, fabrics, hangings, and dress goods made in Utah out of Utah wool, samples of which were taken to Denver by Thomas Tupper on his return from the Frigidaire Congress. It is worthy of note that the woolen goods are highly appreciated in eastern markets wherever they are introduced, and people who see them are surprised at their style and quality.

It is not generally known that some manufacturers have been suggested to say to export in this Territory. And we do not think the fact is so greatly appreciated as it should be in Utah. The home-made cloth for ladies' and gentlemen's wear that are worn at home are of most excellent quality, and when properly made up will sell as well as most of the foreign articles which are of higher price.

The home goods ought to be patronized, but here are influenced by sentiment of the public withers in these matters. Economy and self-reliance are the motto of the moment, and the home-made goods are the most appreciated. We believe that if our home-made goods were better understood, both as to quality and price, they would find a bigger market in Utah and that in a short time there would be found a full home demand for all that our factories now produce, and a need would be created for other enterprises of a similar character. Home goods should be appreciated by home consumers.

IS THE BREAK APPROACHING?

Was Russia, in which England and Russia agree as the principle, are still existing, and causing the city of Europe to be thick with the smoke of prospective battle. Notwithstanding the serious symptoms indicating the near approach of an international war, the peace of the present is the best that has been known since the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese war. The Russo-Japanese war is not a war of nations, but a war of races. The Russo-Japanese war is not a war of nations, but a war of races. The Russo-Japanese war is not a war of nations, but a war of races.

ROYALTY AND ITS COSTS.

The great National Liberal Federation Congress of England and Wales opened its sessions at Newcastle, England, on the 1st instant. The delegates contain the substance of the proceedings so far. One significant feature of its work is the unanimity with which the government is being urged to adopt a policy of non-interference. Another is that the House of Lords is characterized as a serious obstacle to progress, and an anomaly in a country where representative government prevails.

In view of the direct tendency towards democracy in the British Isles, Henry Labouchere's article in the October Forum makes instructive reading. It is entitled "English Royalty: Its Costs and Its Uses." He says that the day for monarchy is rapidly passing, that the day for monarchy is rapidly passing, that the day for monarchy is rapidly passing. He says that the day for monarchy is rapidly passing, that the day for monarchy is rapidly passing. He says that the day for monarchy is rapidly passing, that the day for monarchy is rapidly passing.

any, on the occasion of her marriage received $20,000 in her own right, independent of her assumed income from her father's treasury. The Duke of Cambridge gave $10,000 a year and his two sisters, severally, $20,000 and $15,000 a year.

Notwithstanding this enormous expense of royalty, the Queen is personally popular. The Prince of Wales also commands a certain kind of popularity. He is known to Charles II, and with some claims to a hereditary right, is the Duke of Edinburgh is the most popular; he is rich and fashionable.

Mr. Labouchere was among the reformers of the House of Commons in the House of Lords and the disestablishment of the Church. But he contends that monarchy will survive all these changes. His abolition is not within the realm of English practical politics. He thinks the English people do not desire a republic. The House of Commons will temper some representative of the people. Monarchy will be kept, and this will change its complexion from that of plutocracy to one of democracy. Unless members of the royal family prove very worthy in their generation, royalty in England will survive mainly as a symbol.
