ST. MARY'S ACADEMY.

The Catholic School Closes its Thirteenth Year.

On First West Street, between First and Second South, is located the Catholic Ladies' Seminary. By request of the Mother Superior, a reporter of the News today visited and was conducted through the spacious building and extensive grounds. The school year has just closed, and affairs are being arranged for the commencement exercises on Wednesday and Thursday next.

In the ladies' fancy work department there are arranged for exhibition a great number of specimens of needlework in the shape of ladies' and children's attire, etc. Bedspreads, pillow shams, aprons, children's and ladies' dresses, bonnets, etc., of every kind, and of beautiful workmanship, are there displayed; the shell, hand lace, and crochet work, all of which is taught in the institution, is in many instances almost a marvel of care and neatness. There is a host of contributors to this department, from twelve years of age up. Among those whose work is worthy of special mention are Misses Gussie and Lizzie Lemp, Boise, Idaho; Alinda Pierce, Ada Karatofsky, Salt Lake; Elsie Raht, Frisco; Lillie Seaton, Ada and Winnie Shafer, Evanston, Wyoming; Blanche Jones, Blackfoot, Idaho; Annie Geller, Green River, Wyoming; Anna Rutledge, Montana; and many others whose names we have not space to mention.

Another special feature is the art department, also under the supervision and instruction of the lady instructors. Paintings, of various styles, including landscapes, flowers, birds, etc., are there to be viewed, and many of them would bring credit to professional artists. In this line Misses Kate Guivits and I. Noble, of this city, Miss Jeffreys, of Weiser, Idaho, and Miss E. Raht, of Frisco, have shown marked ability, and all of the contributors, over thirty in number, have done excellent work. The samples of China decorative work are unsurpassed. The colors are harmoniously blended, the designs unique and beautiful, and executed with clearness and precision. The firing is all done in the institution, and shows the high degree of perfection attained to by the instructors, who conduct this branch.

There are many other features that are highly commendable, but we have not the space to devote to them. The grounds belonging to the academy cover more than two acres in extent, and are set out with lawns, flowers, and plenty of trees, furnishing an abundance of shade; walks, summer-houses, rustic seats, etc., all add to the attractiveness of the school and its surroundings.

The programme for the closing exercises is quite lengthy. The sessions will be held at 2:30 p. m. on Wednesday, and 10 a. m. on Thursday. Gov. West is announced for the closing address.

Father Graves Arrested.

Yesterday at noon Father Graves, a veteran bordering on eighty-two winters, was arrested by the deputies for unlawful cohabitation, and was released on bonds.—Provo Enquirer, June 15.

Returned Home.

Bishop Frederick Schoenfeldt, of Brighton, this county, returned yesterday from a mission to Europe. He left here on the 16th of October, 1888, and has consequently been absent four years and eight months. He labored a short time in the capacity of traveling Elder in the Swiss and German Mission, and the balance of the time—four years—as the president of that important field. He has had excellent health, has done a good work and returns in good spirits, after having gained a valuable experience abroad.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY JUNE, 18, 1888.

Police Items.

The following list of offenders were convicted in the Police Court today, and fined the amounts stated: Henry Kelly and John Thompson, drunk, $7.50 each. Charles Jones and H. A. Bennett, drunk and profane, $10 each. Sam. Johnson, E. Lewis, P. Munson, Jacob Olsen and H. Anderson, drunk, $5 each.

From Prison.

This morning Gustave Thomasson and Wm. Chug, of Logan, were brought down from the penitentiary, where they have been serving six months on a sentence for unlawful cohabitation. They were taken before the commissioner, and it being shown that they had not sufficient means to pay the fines imposed, they were discharged.

Picture of the Opera Company.

We have received from H. Sainsbury & Co. Johnson, a very fine photograph of the Evan Stephens Opera Company, as grouped on the stage of the Salt Lake Theatre in the first act of the "Bohemian Girl." It makes a most attractive picture, and considering that it was taken in an artificial light, is remarkably clear, the likenesses of the bulk of those comprising the interesting group being recognizable without difficulty.

Run Over.

At about 10 a. m. yesterday, a man named Emanuel Woolley, of the Twenty First Ward, had a team standing by the hydrant near the schoolhouse in that ward, for the purpose of hauling water. From some cause the horses, a gentle team, started and Mr. Woolley fell to the ground. A wheel of the wagon passed over his shoulder, cutting a deep gash in it. His head was also injured. His hurts are painful but not dangerous, as no bones were broken.

Sunday School-Meeting.

Yesterday morning the Sabbath Schools of South Cottonwood and Union held a combined session in the South Cottonwood meeting house, and a very enjoyable time was had. The Bishop and his counselors from Union accompanied the school. Short addresses were delivered by Bishops Rawlins and Phillips, and a number of exercises were given by the pupils. The singing by the schools was nicely rendered. A return visit will shortly be made by the South Cottonwood school.

A Street Breeze.

Considerable excitement pervaded the atmosphere of lower Main Street this afternoon. The cause, as we have been informed, was a call made at a business house nearly opposite the Cliff Hotel by a young Hebrew with a little bill he wanted to collect. The presentation of the account resulted in a dispute between the presenter and the presentee, and the latter seized the former unceremoniously and landed him on the sidewalk. This forcible eviction was supplemented by several blows. A crowd gathered and there was the usual hubbub that accompanies a street scrimmage. No arrests were made at the time.

Cadets at Garfield Tomorrow.

The All Hallows College cadets drum corps and their friends go to Garfield Beach tomorrow (Tuesday the 19th) instead of Thursday the 21st, as stated by one of the morning papers. The boys will "fall in" at the college corner at 10:30 tomorrow morning, and headed by their own drum corps and the Garfield Beach band march via Third South, Main and First South streets to the U. & N. depot for the 11:40 a. m. train. At 3:30 p. m. is the exhibition drill on the grand pavilion at the close of which the company will pass in review before Maj. Gen. P. Edward Connor. In the evening will be the cadet ball.

A Stabbing Affray.

Yesterday forenoon a serious stabbing affray occurred at Eagle Rock between J. Ed. Smith, the well-known attorney, and Frank Martin, a rancher and stockman, in which the latter plunged his knife into Smith's neck. It is also stated that Smith was cut in the hand and side, but neither of the latter wounds are at all serious. The trouble originated over some live stock transaction, and before any one could intervene Martin sprang forward and began slashing right and left, with his knife. Smith, although wounded in the very first of the encounter, promptly clinched with his foe and threw him down and held him. The wound in Smith's neck is an ugly looking one, but it is not considered dangerous as he is now walking around town. No arrests have been made.—Pocatello Reporter, June 13.

Speedy Justice.

Captain Dave Namina, chief of the Pyramid Lake Utes, arrived here last evening. He says the Indian judges tried Willie Dunn for the murder of Charlie Winnemucca at the Pyramid Lake reservation, found him guilty and sentenced him to be hanged tomorrow (Friday) afternoon. Captain Dave came here to notify the Indians of the result of the trial and give them opportunity to go to the reservation and learn all the particulars. He says there are five or six hundred Indians at the reservation, and runners have been sent all over the state to notify the Indians, so they cannot say that they hanged the murderer secretly.

He says William Dunn is about 27 years of age, and has a wife, and the killing of Charley Winnemucca was without provocation.—Winnemucca Silver State June 14.

A Specimen.

A Brigham City correspondent, over the initial "M," draws attention to the fact that George Grabl, of that place, is serving a term in the Penitentiary, under sentence for unlawful cohabitation. He is seventy-six years old and lame from rheumatism. The correspondent asserts that it is understood the case was at one time ignored by the grand jury, but owing to the efforts of a miserable sneak, was afterwards pushed to prosecution. The same writer intimates somewhat broadly that the person who is suspected of having been so eager to have the old gentleman sent to prison is sneaking around the premises of Father Grabl's plural wife. If this be so he is a fit subject for the penitentiary himself and his passage thereto should be hastened by those on whom the duty in that respect devolves. Father Grabl bears an excellent character in the north.

Dr. Shipp Surrenders Himself.

This morning Dr. M. B. Shipp, who has been in England since 1885, but who recently returned, appeared at Marshal Dyer's office and stated that he understood there was an indictment pending against him for unlawful cohabitation, and he wished to surrender himself and meet it. His understanding proved correct and he was released on giving bonds for his appearance when wanted. The amount of the bond was placed at $1000. The sureties were Alexander McRae and M. S. Woolley. It appears that Dr. Shipp was a subject of the multiplication indictment process, his case having been acted upon according to the continuous system which was smashed by the Supreme Court of the United States. As a matter of course only one of the trio of charges sticks, and the amount of the bond was fixed in accordance with this fact.

During the stay of Elder Shipp in England he had unusual opportunities of reaching the public ear, in the form of lectures he was invited to deliver by temperance people. In these he was permitted to branch off into descriptions of this country and its people, together with their religious peculiarities. He is in excellent health.

D. A. & M. Society.

On Saturday afternoon the Directors of the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society held another meeting. There were present John R. Winder, president, N. A. Empey, Hector W. Haight, J. H. Moyle, J. D. Peters, A. L. Thomas and E. M. Weller.

The president asked for and was granted further time to appoint the standing committees.

R. Kletting, architect, stated that he would be ready shortly to advertise for bids for the construction of the fair building. He called attention to the fact that the grounds needed drainage, and the matter was referred to the president and executive committee of the society.

It was ordered that the several committees be appointed to be instructed to report on the list of articles to be exhibited, awards to be made to be determined by the committee of the whole.

Francis Armstrong and Arthur L. Thomas were appointed as a committee to solicit subscriptions for the erection of a permanent exposition building.

W. H. Rowe, N. A. Empey and H. M. Wells were appointed a committee to solicit special premiums for exhibits.

A proposition was received from the Burton-Gardner Company to place a picket fence around the west half of the fair grounds. The board of directors desire to receive propositions from others for fencing.

An offer of a special premium for the best display of barley was submitted by Jacob Moritz.

The board adjourned subject to the call of the president.

Child Drowned.

On Wednesday, June 13, 1888, about 4:50 p. m., Mrs. Karen Winge, missed her little boy, who had been playing in the door yard. At 5 she went to see what had become of him, when her son, Anton, called to her and said the baby was in the water ditch. She ran about ten rods below the house and found that Anton had taken him from the water, quite dead. The child was a fine boy, aged one year and eight months, and large for his age. Mrs. Winge has the sympathy of the community. She is very poor, and the father is in the penitentiary. The coroner held an inquest on Thursday morning resulting in the following verdict:

TERRITORY OF UTAH,
COUNTY OF CACHE,
PRECINCT OF HYRUM.

An inquisition holden at the residence of Karen Winge, in Hyrum Precinct, on the 15th day of June A. D. 1888, before Charles C. Shaw, coroner, upon the body of Norman Winge, there lying dead by the jurors whose names are hereunto subscribed. The said jurors upon their oaths do say, that the said Norman Winge came to his death by being accidentally drowned.

ALBERT J. ALLEN,
ANDREW C. ANDERSON,
WILLIAM H. GREEN,
JURORS.

CHARLES C. SHAW, Coroner.

Mrs. Winge, Lars Petersen and Mrs. Dr. Petersen, were the witnesses. There is a water ditch in the street in front of Mrs. Winge's residence; it is three feet wide, and about two and a half deep, and the current of the stream is quite strong. Several children have had narrow escapes from death in this same canal.—Logan Journal.

YESTERDAY'S FIRE.

$50,000 Goes Up in a Sabbath Morning Blaze.

About 10:30 a. m. yesterday the quiet of the Sabbath morning was rudely broken by the clanging of the fire bell. The cause of the alarm was the commencement of a serious conflagration almost directly in the rear of the old Salt Lake House, on East Temple Street. Some men who were back in an alley discovered a small blaze in the rear of the Cafe restaurant, and endeavored to extinguish it, but it was too much for them as it communicated almost immediately with the stable at the back of Howard & Davis' green grocery establishment, and that structure was quickly enveloped in flames. One man mounted a horse and started for Fireman's Hall, to give the alarm, while the others and such as could be gathered proceeded to save what property they could get out. Three horses and one buggy were taken from the stable, but the fire spread so rapidly that another buggy which was inside could not be got out.

The hose cart and firemen were on the ground in a very short time after the alarm was given. The steamer was delayed for a few minutes owing to the horses being out for exercise; but no time was lost in getting them in. Four streams of water from the hydrants were opened on the different parts of the burning mass, which had extended from Kahn Brothers' to Barratt Brothers' stores in less than a quarter of an hour. The flames shot up to a great height, the burning timbers, dry as they could be made by the summer heat, crackled, the thin walls, in which the adobies were rotten from the ravages of time and weather, trembled and swayed, and the wind, which was blowing stiffly, drove the flames speedily from one point to another—the whole presenting a scene that seemed to justify the generally expressed fear that there would be a terrible holocaust before the firemen would become masters of the situation.

To add to the difficulties of the position, the buildings upstairs were cut up into small rooms, the partitions between which were lath and plaster. From the arrangement of the hallways, etc., the draft was almost perfect, and the obstructions offered to the firemen exceedingly difficult to overcome. For half an hour or more the immense quantities of water thrown into the buildings seemed to have no effect whatever, while the danger to the firemen from falling roofs, floors and walls was very great. Chief Ottinger, in addition to directing his men in the battle with the fire, had much to fear and attract his attention in this line, and it was only by the utmost care and good fortune that none were injured.

A little after 11 o'clock the first wall came down with a crash, and shortly after the effect of the streams from the hydrants and steamer began to be perceptible, and by 2 o'clock, three and a half hours subsequent to the outbreak, the fire had done its work and been extinguished. The scene presented gave a fair idea of the damage. While the fronts of the buildings showed but little of the effects, the whole of the back was a mass of ruins. The walls and roofs of most of the buildings had fallen in, and much property that had escaped fire and water was thus destroyed.

The farthest building to the south that was injured was that occupied by the clothing house of I. J. Nathan, and owned by Mr. Kahn. The northern limit was Kahn Brothers' store, the roof of which had been partially burned. In the space between the principal losers were Sells & Burton, R. C. Easton, J. W. Farrell & Co., Price & Needham, Howard & Davis, F. Auerbach, Kahn Brothers and Barratt Brothers. Besides these there were two barber shops, A. L. Williams' coal office, several real estate offices, and perhaps a score of mining engineers, insurance men and others who had offices in the building.

At the present writing it is not possible to get the exact amount of damage, or the insurance carried, as the parties affected have not yet had time to figure all up, though they may do so by tonight. Barratt Brothers are about the heaviest losers, the damage to their stock being not less than $15,000, and perhaps more, some of the furniture was saved by being carried out into the street, but the most of it was injured in one way or another. Their insurance is about $7,000. Sells & Burton were damaged about $2,500, fully insured. The loss of Howard & Davis is about $3,000; their insurance is $4,000, so they are secured. J. W. Farrell & Co. suffered to the extent of $1000, also insured. R. C. Easton's loss will be $2,500, one half insured. As he started but recently, the blow is a heavy one on him, and will probably drive him out of the business. The Mirror saloon, A. L. Williams, Auerbach & Bro., Kahn Brothers and the others have a considerable loss in the aggregate, a portion of which only is covered by insurance.

Altogether the damage will fall but little, if any, short of $50,000, with about half that amount of insurance.
