LONG WALK WITH A WHEELBARROW.

D. P. Evans, "Drilling" Across The Continent -- A Political Wager.

TOMORROW

Travels Without Money and is Not Allowed to Ask for Any Assistance Whatever.

A day or two ago Evans made the following statement concerning his trip:

"I started from Cleveland on May 2. Thou and I average about twenty-five miles a day. My longest tramp in a single day was fifte-eight miles, from Julesburg to Sterling, this state, and my shortest was eight miles, when I was taken sick. I have twenty months from the time of starting last May in which to make the trip.

"I have worn out five pairs of extra thick soled shoes since starting, and I got the last pair in Denver last week, I push a load of about thirty or forty pounds in the wheelbarrow, which contains a traveling bag, a heavy rain coat, jug of water and a 44-caliber revolver. I have never been mplested by anyone and carry the gun as a protection against the straveling as the result of an election bet and a wager. Owing to the terms of agreement he is not permitted to beg in a coat, also the signature of the mayor of each city or town. So far I have not been refused by anyone. I have lost

He explains, however, that the souvenirs are for any who cares to induge, and that if anybody wishes to make him a present to help him along his journey, he will not climb a telegraph pole to escape the offer. In this manner he is making his way across the continent, and he is confident of completing the long walk within the time limit—twenty months.

Some time last spring Evans, who is rom Cleveland, O., made an election bet and lost. Then he made another wager, but he could walk from Cleveland to an Francisco, by way of Sait Lake, own to New Orleans, from thence to kew York and back to Cleveland, all in he period of twenty months. It was stiplated that, in the event of sickness, the me he is ill shall be deducted. He has en laid up two weeks during his long

On Monday he arrived at Colton, down on the R. G. W. He had his picture taken, including the wheelbarrow and the day, a reproduction of which appears on this page. He met a friend at Colton and tried to convince the friend that they could have plenty of fun if said friend would accompany him on the walk to sait Lake. The friend had a different idea and concluded that traveling on the cars would be more in keeping with his notion of the eternal fitness of things. Consequently, Mr. Evans is making the walk alone—with the exception of the dog and wheelbarrow he carries what clothing he needs, also a jug of water, or perhaps a little of the amber fluid with the forth ed. a few chuncks of bread and meat and whatever he thinks he may need.

Whenever he finds it necessary to leave the wheelbarow for a time, he leaves the deg on guard, and the dog is a good guard and will suffer no one to tamper with his master's property.

Grace Hond Broke Two Records and

Kentucky Futurity, $14,000.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4,—Grace Bond broke at least two world's records to win the classic Kentucky Futurity, worth 14.-000, and is disputing the fittle for a third world's record. She gave two of the heats of the race to Alta Axworthy, the prime favorite, but made her own three heats in 2:09% or better, thus establishing a world's record for 3-year-old trotters. Two of the heats she made in 2:09%, establishing a world's 3-year-old record for two heats. When she made the first heat in 2:09%, Starter Walker announced that she had broken a world's record. Fantasy at Nashville, in 18%, trotted a mile as a 3-year-old in 2:09%, in the second heat of a race, but under unusual conditions, in order to allow her to make a record, the distance had been waived and a pacemaker picked her up at the half mile, and she went under the wire while the bunch were turning the stretch.

Grace Bond's fractional time in her hree fast heats was: First heat, 3234, 304, 13354, 23954; second heat, 3234; 3444, 13364, 23954; fifth heat, 325, 13054; The race is worth $10,000 to the winner.

The race is worth $19,000 to the winner, $2,000 to the second and $1,000 to the third, the rest of the money being divided among the nominators of dams.

Grace Bond won the 2-year-old division of the Futurity last year in 2:17%. She is owned by J. Y. Gatcomb.
