Cricket at Portland.

Cricket at Portland. Portland, Or., Sept. 11.—The Portland Cricket club played a two-inning game today with an amalgamated club repre-senting Tacoma and Scattle. In the first inning Tacoma-Seattle won by the narrow margin of 18 runs, but after the Port-ilands allowed 20 runs in their extra list. largely through loose fielding, the victory was not an important one. In the second the Tacoma-Seattle players were held down to 61 runs, due to the good bowling of Kingsley and Fenwick and the good support of their comrades. Portland scor-ed 44 for five wickets, but darkness inter-vened and the contest practically ended in a draw.

KANSAS CITY MISSIONARIES.

In passing through Kansas City, we called at the headquarters of the South-western States Mission, 1405 Locust street, where we found a faithful band of missionary workers, with whom we spent a pleasant time. There were El-ders Albert E. Stratford, secretary of the mission, George Q. Kirkman, Joseph E. Jensen, Arthur Livington, Charles L. French and Walter W. Morrison, and Sisters Mary E. Ockander and Nellie C. Thomas, also Brother Mahonri Thom-son, on his return to Utab from Quincy, Iil., where he has attended school. Ill., where he has attended school. President John G. Duffin was out in the field holding a conference. Successful missionary work is being carried on in Missouri at the present time, and I was exceedingly well pleased with the spirit and zeal which the missionaries in Kansas City manifested. We also paid a short visit to Independence, where the Church recently has pur-chased 25 acres of land lying across the street from the Temple lot.

WORK IN ST. LOUIS.

At St. Louis, Mo., we found four of our Elders, Attawall Wootton, Jr., Dan-iel O. Larsen, Bartlett C. Farnsworth and Archie P. Spilsbury, and three sisters, (Josephine Cluff, Laura Boley and Jenette McKay) engaged in missionary labors: they are meeting with some success and hold Sunday school every Sunday morning and general meeting every evening at a hired hall on the corner of Thirteenth and Benton streets, besides open-air meetings nearly every evening, when the weather permits. Some of the missionaries also spend their time at the Utah building, and the other Utah departments on the fair grounds, there engaging in Gospet conversations and imparting informa-tion regarding Utah affairs generally.

AN OLD MISSION FIELD.

St. Louis, Mo., has been associated with the history of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints since Janu-1831, when Oliver Cowdery, Parley P. Pratt and three other missionaries first visited the city "on their mission to the Lamanites." In the summer of that year also, Joseph the Prophet and many others of the early Elders of the Church passed through St. Louis on Church passed through Si. Louis on their journey to Jackson county. Soon afterwards a flourishing branch of the Church was organized here, and finally a stake of Zion. Thousands of Saints emigrating from Europe to Utah, in early days, made St. Louis their temporary home, and earned means wherewith to contimue their journey to the valley. On the other hand many a weary Latterday Saint pilgrim, succumbed to the hardships of the long and hazardous journey, after arriving in St. Louis and journey, and never reached the moun-tains. Many of the readers of the "News" will also remember that a Church paper called the "Luminary" was at one time published at St. Louis by the late Apostle Erastus Snow.

TO FAIR VISITORS.

For the benefit of Utah visitors to the world's fair, now being held in St. Louis, I desire to say that no one need to pay exherbitant prices for food and lodging while attending the fair. two or more persons go together good roems can be had all over the city for 50 cents per night and upwards, and meals can be had for from 15c and 20c at the restaurants to 50c and more at the hotels. In the immediate vi-cinity of the fair ground prices are higher than in the heart of the city.

The exposition is certainly grand, and even some of the concessions on the "Pike" and elsewhere on the ground are well worth the money asked for ad-mission, such, for instance, as "Jerusalem," "From New York to the North Pole," "Under and Over the Sea," "The Galveston Flood," "The Battle Abbey," "The Philippines Villages," "The Esquimaux Village," etc.
