

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Entertainment at the Fifteenth Ward School-house, to-night.

The Brigham Young Academy had a most gratifying examination on Friday.

President John D. T. McAllister, of St. George Stake, is in town, to attend Conference.

Miss's Surprise Party at the Theatre on Thursday, and will play during Conference time.

A Soldier's fortune will be played at the Theatre on Wednesday night, by Mr. John S. Lindsay, ably supported.

We learn from Assistant Supt. Geo. Goddard that President Geo. Q. Cannon, the General Supt., is expected to be at the S. S. Union meeting to-night.

Professor T. B. Lewis, County Superintendent of District Schools, will occupy the forenoon of Wednesday week in making a tour of inspection among the schools in that capacity.

Evan Stephens' concert will be given on Thursday evening, at the Assembly Hall. Admission 50 cents to all parts of the house. Proceeds to be devoted to the benefit of the singing classes and Sunday School Union.

The Presidents of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association of this Stake, who have not yet forwarded their reports for the half year ending Dec. 31st, 1882, will please send them immediately to the Stake Superintendent.

JOS. H. FELT.

Our old friend Prof. K. G. Maeser, Principal of the Brigham Young Academy, was in town to-day, having come up for the purpose of attending the funeral of Sister Harriet H. Dunbar. He returns south to-morrow morning and will come up again on Thursday for Conference.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Theatre.—"A Soldier's Fortune," which made a big hit a short time ago, will be reproduced at the Theatre on Wednesday evening, with Mr. J. S. Lindsay as "Fan-Fan" supported by Mrs. Ardelia Cummings and a well-selected company.

Fatally Shot.—A week ago last Saturday, William Brown, aged 25 years, met with a sudden ending at Frisco, Utah. By a sudden turn in his chair he collapsed and fell to the floor, and on the forehead, the bullet entering his body, inflicting a necessarily fatal wound. He died the same night.

Sentenced.—This morning, Christian Canuteson, convicted of assault with intent to commit a rape, was sentenced, in the District Court, to pay a fine of $50, and to imprisonment for one month. He has been in custody since September last, which accounts for the sentence being light when the gravity of the offense is considered.

Opera House.—The far-famed Madison Square Company will present the popular play of "Young Mrs. Winthrop" at the Walker Opera House this evening. It is pronounced by the New York press the best American play extant. There is no doubt that it will attract a large audience, and that those who attend will enjoy a genuine treat.

Immigrants Coming.—We learn from Mr. Lamont, Asst. Gen. Freight and Ticket Agent of the Denver & Rio Grande R. R., that the company of emigrants from Chattanooga, in charge of Elder John Morgan, of a portion of them on their way to this city, were expected to reach Green River to-day. They are in three coaches.

Since the above was in type we have learned that the company will probably reach here to-morrow afternoon.

Conference Theatrical Attraction.—A rare treat is in store for Conference visitors at the Salt Lake Theatre, this week. All of the crowds who saw Rice's Surprise Party perform there some weeks ago will bear witness that no better company ever appeared in the Salt Lake Theatre, and we think the management are entitled to no small credit for reorganizing this splendid company on so important an occasion. Let the people show their appreciation by giving them bumper houses.

Assembly Hall Services.—At the Assembly Hall yesterday afternoon, the congregation was first addressed by Elder James G. Bleak, of St. George, who delivered a very clear discourse, mostly devoted to an explanation of what are known as the first principles of the Gospel, and the effects produced by obedience to them.

He was followed by Elder H. W. Nalabitt, who treated upon the varied and pleasurable experiences of missionaries who engage in preaching the Gospel to the people, and the results of the operation of that department of the great work established by revelation in these days.

Home Club at the Opera House.—The Home Dramatic Club are out in our advertising columns this evening with the full announcements of their Conference plays at the new Opera House. The fact of the undoubted popularity of "The Money Spinner" and "The Long Strike," and the names of the ladies and gentlemen billed to appear, Miss Adams and Miss Dwyer acting together in the first named play, all indicate that the Club will draw good audiences. If the present good weather continues there will probably be a great number of people in from the country, enough to fill all the places of amusement open during Conference, as the Home Club give the only performance by local talent and they have so often delighted the public with their past entertainments, there is little doubt of their two plays receiving ample patronage. Successful as their predecessors have been, the manager feels confident that these plays will surpass them. Reserved seats will be sold on Wednesday morning.

HOPT SENTENCED.

HE ELECTS TO BE HUNG, JUNE 1ST BEING THE DATE FIXED FOR EXECUTION.

To-day being the date fixed for the passing of sentence upon Fred Hopt, convicted of the murder of John F. Turner, the prisoner was brought into court at ten o'clock. On being asked by Judge Hunter if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him, he replied that he had not yet made up his mind as to the manner in which he preferred to be executed, and requested that he be allowed a little time for consultation with the Marshal on the subject. The Court granted the request and Hopt was taken charge of by Deputy Marshal Sprague.

In about fifteen minutes subsequently the prisoner was again brought into court. The usual question was put to him by the Judge, Hopt replying that he had nothing to state why sentence should not be passed upon him. The Court informed the prisoner that the statute gave him the choice of two modes of execution, shooting or hanging. Hopt replied that he could not quite make up his mind as to the method, but he had consulted with the Marshal, and would make a choice of hanging.

The Court then, in the usual statutory form, passed sentence of death, by hanging, upon the prisoner, the spot designated being some private place within the Third Judicial District, and the time between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 o'clock p.m. of June 1st, 1883.

A large crowd was in the Court room and witnessed the scene, which was almost totally uninteresting, except on the part of Sheriff Turner, the father of the young man who was so foully murdered. The Court, so far as discernible, the bar and the crowd made no exhibition of emotion, while the prisoner manifested the most stolid indifference as to his approaching doom.

A few days ago a motion of the defendant, by his counsel, for a new trial was overruled. A bill of exceptions is being prepared, with a view to an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Sister Dunbar's Funeral.

The obsequies of Sister Harriet H. Dunbar took place this afternoon in the 20th Ward School House. Present, Jos. E. Taylor, Bishop Sharp, Elders Karl G. Maeser, F. B. Lewis and Henry C. Fowler and other prominent brethren were present. The services began by singing by the choir.

Unvailed by bosom faithful tomb. After which prayer was offered by Elder Henry C. Fowler. The choir then sang.

10 my Father, Thou, that dwellest, etc. The casket was covered with flowers. President Jos. E. Taylor, then addressed the vast congregation, which filled the building. He touched on the sacredness of such occasions, and showed that no other power than that of God and no words of consolation except those imparted through His kindness could bring peace to the bereaved. Referred in eulogistic terms to the life of the deceased; sentiments of sorrow and feelings of sympathy, would greet the reading of the death of sister Dunbar, throughout the Territory.

This was due to her faithfulness, and the cheerful spirit always manifested by her under the most trying circumstances. Her life had been a worthy one, and her future was secured; she would partake of the First Resurrection and rejoice in the glory and exaltation of the faithful. He closed with a blessing upon all the family and relations of the deceased.

Elder T. B. Lewis followed in a few brief and sympathetic remarks, appropriate to the occasion. Said that while the lives of some women had been written upon the printed pages, sister Dunbar's had been written in her heart, and in the hearts of the people. He related incidents in the life of the deceased, which were characteristic of her loving nature and hopeful spirit, when battling with the ravages of disease. She had unbounded faith in the Gospel. Her impressions concerning her demise were strong, and she had more than three weeks ago expressed herself as having made her last visit, for her work was done. Before her death she stated to one of her sons, "I am satisfied with my religion," and the congregation knew what religion that was. She was satisfied with her husband, and everything pertaining to the great law of celestial marriage, which she had obeyed in its fulness. She was a plural wife, and had accepted the Gospel and all its principles in their entirety. And she desired to see her family grow up in the same principles and become mighty in the truth she had embraced.

Bishop Sharp testified in an affecting manner to the goodness of Sister Dunbar. He said that his language was not adequate to express his feelings concerning her life of love. Compared this meeting with the much more glorious meeting among those who received her on the shining shores of eternity. As the desire was not to prolong these exercises they would now be closed. Choir sang: Go to thy resting place.

The services then ended with a benediction by Elder Henry F. F. A large number of vehicles followed the remains to the cemetery.

Returned from the East.—Last night, Brother Joseph Bull returned from a seven weeks' trip to the East in the business interest of this office. He visited Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, and a number of leading manufacturing towns in Ohio, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York and Boston. He had excellent success, and was everywhere treated with the most marked courtesy from all parties he met with. The reaction in the East regarding Utah is very marked, making his trip unusually pleasant, and the plethoric advertising columns of the News indicate its profitability.

Brother Bull visited a meeting of the Saints of the Williamsburg Branch of the Church, in America Hall, and had an interesting time. He also met with the Branch at Philadelphia, presided over by Elder Samuel Harrison. It numbers between twenty and thirty members and is stated to be in a healthy condition. A number of members of both of the branches named intend immigrating to Utah this season.

Brother Bull returned by way of Buffalo, and Niagara Falls.

Unruly Soldiers.—A number of soldiers from Camp Douglas made a disturbance on East Temple Street about ten o'clock on Saturday. They marched in a body from the White House corner to the Walker House and within that short distance assaulted no less than seven peaceable citizens, whom they shamefully abused and knocked down. The row attracted a large crowd of people, who followed the soldiers on a return march up the street. They turned the White House corner going westward when a couple of police officers approached them. One of the peace preservers laid his hand upon the arm of one of the rioters, when, quick as thought, he received a blow, the force of which peeled the cuticle from a portion of his proboscis. The rap was returned with compound interest, when the military party ran off and escaped.

Some of the soldiers who took part in the disturbance were subsequently arrested. As one of them was being taken through the passage-way of the City Hall another one, who had followed at a distance, stood at the entrance and hurled a large rock at the officers, barely missing the head of one of them and striking the prisoner, the companion of the fellow who threw the missile, which bounded from the back of his neck and struck officer A. Smith on the face.

The examination into the affair was to be conducted this afternoon.
