

Correspondence.

BEAVER, August 27, '70.

Editor Deseret News:—Dear Brother:—I beg your indulgence to answer briefly Bro. J. M. Pierce's reply to my letter of the 24th ult., on apple tree pruning and "worms on apple trees," trusting that however widely we may differ in our views, the good of the community will be our object and a mutual good feeling exist between us.

In your weekly issue of the 24th inst. Brother P. admits my statement, that the web worm is often found on the tops of the tallest branches, but intimates that the eggs were laid in the shade. True there may have been a slight shade, But if Bro. P. will examine further he will discover that the eggs were laid in the very locality where the web was formed, and that the worms there remain until they are grown and prepared to deposit a new litter of eggs, when they descend to the base of the limb, ascend others and deposit their eggs and so continue (if let alone) until the entire tree is ruined by them. If the shade were their object they could seek it almost as soon as they were hatched, besides they are often found where the trees are set from 30 to 40 feet apart, and even there they may be found on trees not more than five or six years old, but as a rule they prefer older trees.

Bro. P. seems to think that I misunderstood him, supposing that he would go with "ax in hand and cut right and left" among open top trees. I beg to say that I did not so understand him, but with him agreed that our trees, generally were set too thickly. So far as pruning goes, I believe the method of disposing of the surplus trees is the main difference between us. Bro. P. would cut off the lateral or side branches, thus leaving a forest, so to speak, of bodies of trees, with a few inside limbs, leaving the entire roots, thus forcing all the sap into an upward growth, which in a few years would (especially if eight trees stood where one or two ought to stand) entirely preclude the light of the sun from the earth, and even from the lower branches of the trees, thus either engendering worms or destroying his "original theory that shade is the great cause of worms." In leaving all the trees as shown in my other letter, there would be the "good bad and indifferent," and I think he would, in a very few years, spend more time and have less fruit (both in size and quantity) than he would to graft and dig up the surplus trees as suggested in my first letter.

In conclusion of the subject allow me to state that since reading Bro. P's first letter, I have examined both my orchard and nursery, with a view to this subject, and find that the only worm of magnitude therein is a large green worm, which climbs to the top of a limb and then descends, devouring the foliage leaf by leaf, until it gets to the bottom of the present season's growth; then ascends another, and so continues as long as it is allowed to remain. Thus seeking the light instead of the shade.

Believing that I have said quite enough and more than I intended to say, I will leave the discussion, and in my next will give my own with the views of more experienced fruit growers on preventing and destroying the enemies of fruit and fruit trees in general.

Truly yours,

DANIEL TYLER.

CURTIS MODELS—PRICES REDUCED TO MEET THE TIMES!—The merits of this system for Cutting all kinds of garments worn by Ladies, Gentlemen and Children are known by scores of ladies in this City and Territory; but the sure way is to prove it for one's self which may be done without charge. This system removes all anxiety regarding the FIT of garments, as all its directions are absolutely positive. There will be no altering—no taking up or letting out, which not only injures the material but destroys the proportions and often ruins the garment. The system is very simple and can be learned in a few hours.

There is a machine at the Watch Factory at Elgin, Ill., with which a workman has made from the wire, and can do it any day, two hundred screws in twelve minutes, beside driving them into place in the plate of the watch, and yet there are those who believe the cheap labor of Europe can produce goods at a less cost than the machinery American genius has given us. d245 8 w31 1

UNION PACIFIC R.R., OFFICE OF GEN'L SUPT, OMAHA, Dec. 16, 1869.
HOB. T. M. AVERY, President National Watch Co., Chicago, Ills.

Dear Sir:—During the month that I have carried one of your "B. W. Raymond" Watches it has not failed to keep the time with so much accuracy as to leave nothing to desire in this regard. For accuracy in time keeping, beauty of movement and finish, your Watches Challenge my admiration, and arouse my pride as an American, and I am confident that in all respects they will compete successfully in the markets of the world, with similar manufacturers of older nations. They need only to be known to be appreciated.

Yours most respectfully

C. G. HAMMOND, Gen'l Supt.

OFFICE OF THE HUDSON RIVER RAIL ROAD, Gen'l Supt, New York, Jan. 17, 1870.

T. M. AVERY, Esq., President National Watch Co.:

Dear Sir:—The Watch made by your company which I have carried the past two months, has kept excellent time. I have carried it frequently on engines, and have been on the road with it almost daily. During this time it has run uniformly with our standard clock.

The following dealers also, in various parts of the country, have certified that they consider the Elgin Watches to be all that the company have advertised them, as better finished, more correct and durable, than any in market of similar price, and that they have great confidence in recommending them to the public, on account of their general merit.
