In all about 1,000 visitors reached the city, coming from California, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Oregon, Wyoming and Colorado.

The train bringing the Colorado delegates of the Women of Woodcraft reached the city at 11 a. m. and the ladies and their friends at once repaired to the Kenyon hotel, which will be the headquarters of the order during their stay in the city. The delegates to the women's convention numbers fifty members and officers, the head of the jurisdiction being Mrs. C. E. Van Orsdel. Many of the ladies are accompanied by their husbands and friends, which bring the number up to nearly 200.

The California and Nevada delegates reached this city later in the day, from the west bringing the total up to something over a thousand. The train bringing the Woodmen from Colorado met with an accident when coming out of the Hagerman tunnel on the Colorado Midland—a draw beam pulling out—which detained it about four hours. A portion of the eastern delegates came in later, they having taken the Denver & Rio Grande, from Denver and Pueblo. The visitors will remain in the city about a week.

AMUSEMENTS.

Tomorrow all railroads will head to the show grounds at Eighth South and Fourth West streets, where the Ringling Bros' circus will be the lodestar of attraction. There is an indescribable fascination about the circus, and no mistake. The Ringling Bros. have developed the idea into a show of such vast proportions that their achievement has captivated the attention of the world and secured the praise of the keenest and best informed critics. There are very few specimens of wild beasts in captivity of singular interest or value that may not be seen in the zoological collection of their great show. They also possess a herd of elephants, which fact in itself is an imposing illustration of the bigness and resources of their enterprise. It is said with emphasis that no other menagerie in the world can show so many of these pachyderms. The circus arena proper is a gigantic affair of canvas, covering acres of ground. The immensity of its sheltered space may be gathered from the fact that seating arrangements are made for 15,000 people. Within this arena are three old-fashioned circus rings, 120 stages and an oval racing track more than a quarter of a mile long. Under this huge tent dome are strong property effects of a small army of aerial performers whose daring dives and leaps and somersaults are an insuperable feature of modern circus program. The show represents an investment of gigantic proportions, employing it is claimed, more than one thousand persons and sixty-five cars, constructed and divided into five sections, are required to transport it. The show is at Provo tonight and will reach here in the early hours of tomorrow morning. The parade will leave the circus grounds at 10 o'clock and will reach the principal streets about 10:30. There is little doubt that it will be the largest pageant of the kind ever seen here. An arrangement has been made whereby persons desiring to secure reserved seats tickets in advance can do so at Smith's drug store, corner of East and South Temple streets, thus avoiding the jam that is always found at the circus grounds.

The patrons of the Salt Palace theater were more than pleased—they were entertained last night in a manner that reflected credit upon the entire management. Altogether the bill is the strongest yet presented by it. This is as it should be as it costs the company considerably in excess of any other week's attraction ever engaged by it. It is certain to find favor during its entire run.

SHUT DOWN AT GEYSER MARION

This Mercur Property Gives Up the Attempt to Make Ends Meet.

FIFTY MEN OUT OF WORK.

Secretary Moon Gave the Order Yesterday—Tools Are Removed from the Mine—Depression in Camp.

Special Correspondence.

Mercur, August 14.—The Geyser-Marion mine has been closed down and all the tools have been removed from the mine. It has come as a great surprise to everybody. No one had an idea that such a step was contemplated, and though it was known that the financial condition of the company was not very sound, nor the prospects at the mine the brightest, it was hoped that new ore bodies would be discovered which would set the company on its feet. This apparently is not likely to be the case for as soon as Secretary A. T. Moon came to camp yesterday he ordered the mine shut down.

Win. Moon promised to come out today to pay the men off. For some reason he has been delayed and this has caused a great deal of talk in town today.

The company has just received an assessment of 2 cents per share and some think that the directors decided after giving the mine a fair trial, that the present is a good time to quit.

The shut-down has caused some depression in town as it is thought work may cease at other properties in the district. Thirty-five men at the mine and 15 at the mill are thrown out of employment.

WEEK WAS WITHOUT RAIN.

Light Frost Occurred in Beaver and Wayne Counties.

HIGH WINDS PREVAILED.

Much Fruit Was Blown Down in
Some Sections—Second Crop of Lucern—Thrashing Now On.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 14.—U. S. Department of Agriculture, climate and crop bulletin of the weather bureau, Utah section, for the week ending August 13, 1900:

The week was without rainfall. The mean temperature was about two degrees below the normal. Light frost occurred in Beaver and Wayne counties on the 10th, but did no damage. Brisk to high southerly winds were general; considerable fruit, especially apples and pears, was blown from the trees in some localities and the hauling of hay was somewhat interfered with. The second crop of lucern is nearly all cut and stored; in Cache and Carbon counties, it has made an average yield but elsewhere, as stated before, the yield has not been more than half the usual amount. Thrashing progressed rapidly under favorable conditions. Corn, potatoes and sugar beets continue in good condition with few exceptions. Tomatoes are ripening and will soon be plentiful.

Meadowville, Rich Co.—Continued dry with warm days and cool nights. Winter wheat is all cut and made a good yield. Oats are now being harvested.—J. Moffat.

Juab, Juab Co.—Harvesting about completed. Thrashing is proceeding rapidly. Grain is light with the exception of oats, which are making a fair yield. The weather has been generally cooler.—C. S. Graham.
