BIG DUAL MEET OF PICKED ATHLETES.

Colorado Track Team to Contest With University of Utah Boys.

TOMORROW AFTERNOON, 3 P.M.

Leading Athletes of the Two States Will Then Settle the Question of Superiority.

On Cumming's field, beginning at p'cleck tomorrow afternoon, the long talked-of meet between the Colorado College and U. of U. track teams, will take There is a great deal of interest n the coming contest, in Colorado, as well as here in Salt Lake, and the result of the battle will be awaited with the keenest interest.

The visiting athletes held the proud disfinction of being the very best in the neighboring state. They have met and defeated all the other crack teams of Colorado. They have gone through the season hus far without a defeat being chalked by against them. The Denver papers sty that the Colorado Springs team is the best that ever competed in a state meet, and that is saying a great deal.

It cannot be disputed that the present Yvarsity team is the best the institution ever had. Take for instance the four runners—Whitney, Moore, Wade and Ridcout. They are undoubtedly the fastest men in the state. In the weight events, Bennion and Carlson should be able to hold their own with the best in this part of the country. It is believed by the local boys that Russell will prove the winner in the pole vault in spite of the fact that he could not beat Adams of Provo recently. One event that is sure to attract great interest, will be the 100 yard dash, Colorado has a record of 101. Whitney of the Varsity established a record of 10 seconds inci. defeated all the other crack teams of Col-nds dat.

Both teams hold many records for their respective states, and the following com-parison will prove interesting to those who are concerned in tomorrow aftermeet; hurdles—Colorado 26 seconds; 27.3 seconds. yard dash—Colorado 10.1 seconds; 10 seconds. hurdles—Colorado, 16.6 seconds; b hurdles—Colorado, 16.6 seconds; in 17 seconds.

Well, of all things!

"What's the matter with the Salt Lake team?" asked a fan this morning.
"Nothing," was the reply of another, "Salt Lake is all right, but there must be something the matter with Spokane. Fan No. 2 is right. The Sait Lake team is decidedly all right ,and it will be more is decidedly all right, and it will be more so in a few days. The losing streak has been broken, and the home team will win a few games from now on. The boys are showing steady improvement, and just because the dimilities won a couple of games, there is no need of any remarks from the anvil chorus.

They cut things loose at Spokane yesterday afternoon, and lambasted the life out of one Willis Hogs, twirier. Fourteen times they hit safe and made enough runs to the Butte for the honor of last place.

Young Essick was in the box for the home crowd, and he had the Indians puzzled all the time. He pitched a nice game and was given pretty good support.

It is said that Manager Gimlin gave it out that several new men were coming, and that the announcement gingered the boys up wonderfully. The score follows:

Rube Waddell, the Philistelphia pitcher, is the genius, and Manager Connie Mack has the horse sense. Being the most eccentric twirler in the business. Rube is expected by every other manager in the country to like to the fishing pond "after the next game."

Thus far this year Rube has stuck. If he hears this stery it may start him going but the secret of his regularity lies in the fact that every time he pitches a game he thinks he is sitting on a grassy bank pulling in hig fish.

In the bleachers opposite first base at Philadelphia there sit five callant rooters who come in on passes. They are the hired hands and they know their lines, When Rube walks up to the plate rubber and one of the fans sings out: "Fine day for fishings, Rube. They'll bite to-day."

Rube strikes out the first man and Rooter No. 2 chimes out: "You've landed the first one, Rube." Rube thinks he means a whale.

When a drop shoot fools the baisman Rube hears a big round voice shout: "He'll bite on another just like that one." When Rube ties himself up to throw the next ball he imagines he is putting a fresh frog on the hook.

The game gets hot and the valiant five yell in chorus: "You've got 'em' in the boat. They're in deep watre. Let 'em swallow the hook."

If Rube shows signs of weakening the hired hands cry: "Dig bait or fish." Rube the ninth inning when its coming and the athletics are off in the lead call of the five is: "You've got 'em, 've given up. Reel in, Rube, old boy, in."
