as follows:

"78 E. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

Messas, J. C. Ayer & Co., Gentlemen:

Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable highing humor affecting more especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely hear any glothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal coagh; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of Ayer's Sarsaparitha, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were altayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cuted by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I astribute these results to the use of the Sarsaparitha, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine over devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good.
