

ion as to the constitutionality of the bill.

Charles A. Nelson, union labor assemblyman from San Francisco, spoke against reconsideration and delay.

Richard Melrose of Anaheim, favored submitting the bill to the attorney-general. He said there was grave doubt as to its constitutionality and he believed that the point raised by President Roosevelt in his telegram to Gov. Gillett yesterday, should be thoroughly discussed before the assembly finally put its stamp of approval upon the measure.

Mr. Leeds then announced that he was willing to have the least questions threshed out before the committee. Mr. Johnson expressed the belief that a movement was on foot to kill the bill by motions for delay, and he asked Leeds and Melrose if they would vote for it if the judiciary committee approved it. Neither would promise.

John W. Preston of Utah said the governor had been placed in a serious predicament by the action of the assembly. He believed the bill would be vetoed if passed and so long as the lower house already had committed itself, he was in favor of letting it go at that.

On motion of Johnson, after an appeal from speaker Stanton for delay, the assembly unanimously voted at 12:15 to postpone further action on the Japanese school segregation bill until next Wednesday.

NIGHTLY HOLDUP OCCURS

Joseph Reinshreier is Held Up and Robbed in Front of His Own Home.

As he was about to enter his home, 22 Vernon avenue, on Fifth East between Third and Fourth South streets, at 7:30 last evening, Joseph Reinshreier, a contractor, was held up by two armed robbers and relieved of $150 in cash, a gold watch and about $4,000 worth of contracts. The latter are of no value except to Mr. Reinshreier. The victim was on his way home from his place of business and was about to enter the yard when two men, armed with revolvers, stepped from behind trees and, pointing the weapons at Reinshreier ordered him to throw up his hands and be quiet. The command was obeyed and while one of the robbers covered the victim with a gun, the other quickly searched his pockets, securing the money and contracts and then jerked the watch from his pocket, breaking the chain. Reinshreier notified the police shortly after the two men ran down the avenue, and officers were hurried to the scene, but they got no trace of the robbers. Reinshreier was greatly excited and could not give an accurate description of the holdups.

NEW FIRE STATION IS PLANNED BY COUNCIL

Southwestern Portion of the City to be Given Needed Protection—To Recommend Ordinance.

A new fire station to be known as No. 6 and to be located in the southwestern part of the city, will be recommended to the city council by the fire committee. The subject was thoroughly discussed at a meeting of the committee last night, and it will be recommended that an appropriation of $230 be made at once to pay for plans and specifications. The need has long been felt for a station in that portion of the city, and time and time again residents have petitioned the council to establish one. The city has no ground down that way, but it is thought that a site can be secured at a reasonable price.

A. C. Ellis and a score of other persons have petitioned the council to establish a 50-foot roadway on Eleventh avenue from 11 to M street, with a six foot sidewalk on either side. The three councilmen from that precinct are in favor of the project.

Food Inspector Frazer's new ordinance regulating the manufacture and sale of ice cream will be substituted for the old ordinance. The recommendation of the sanitary committee will be followed by the council.

The city attorney will be instructed to draft a new ordinance relating to license of conductors it being claimed that the present one is too high in its rates and is detrimental to transfer men and other licensed haulers.

RESOLUTION.

Believing that the sentiment in this state is universal for the passage of a law favoring state-wide prohibition; and believing also that such an enactment would be to the everlasting benefit and blessing of the people of the state and an inestimable boon to generations yet unborn; therefore be it

Resolved, That we who are here assembled pledge ourselves to the cause of prohibition and earnestly plead with the members of the legislature to give heed to the demands of the people of this state and demonstrate by their vote that they are willing to bow to the wishes of their constituents, and rid our communities of the demon of intemperance which has wrecked so many homes and rendered desolate so many firesides; and be it further be untrue. The speaker recognized the right of his church to speak upon moral questions and upon religious principles, and that when it had spoken that devotion of that church who believed in its principles and the divinity of its organization should acquiesce.

Resolved, That we continue the fight for prohibition, never ceasing until victory is ours and Utah takes rank with the foremost states of the Union as one of the whitest commonwealths in this great American republic.

IT WILL PROHIBIT.

There is no question but what the statutes in regard to prohibiting the sale of liquors can be enforced. Of course there will be violations of all laws and people cannot be made moral or law-abiding merely by the enactment of statutes. There are statutes against larceny and other crimes, but they are frequently infringed, yet no one would advocate the repeal of such laws merely because there was occasionally or even frequently violation of them. Of course if there is no sentiment in favor of the restriction of the sale of intoxicating liquors, statutes prohibiting the manufacture and sale of the same would not be enforced. The speaker protested against the control of the state by certain politicians and denounced those who were attempting to debauch the state and to sell their party and the people of Utah into the hands of the liquor element. The same politicians are declaring that a prohibition statute would be unconstitutional. The idea of the members of the legislature of Utah having to go to the state of Missouri for instructions upon constitutional law. The highest court of the land has declared over and over again that statutes for prohibition are constitutional. The time has come for some kind of legislation to destroy the pernicious influence of the liquor traffic. It has corrupted and corroded municipal and national life. The American saloon as an institution must go and the time has come for some kind of legislation in Utah to deal with this great question.
