

Roberts Acquitted.—Advices from Malad state that the trial of Conductor Daniel Roberts, (charged with stealing the contents of certain registered letters on a Utah and Northern train,) which commenced last Monday, terminated on Wednesday morning, the jury, after being out all night, returning a verdict of not guilty. It is safe to say that but few are surprised at the verdict. Mr. Roberts, from the first has had the sympathy and confidence of the multitude. We congratulate him on again escaping from his persecutors.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, JUNE 5.

"Watchman" Writings.—From the Beaver Watchman of the 2nd inst.:

The stage fare from Beaver to Milford is $5, and to Frisco $7.50.

The railroad will hardly reach Frisco before the 4th of July. Meanwhile Milford is fast becoming the former's rival.

Tasker says he is anxious to stand his trial and come clear, but he hates to lie in jail till July. He thinks Marshal Pratt ought to have put off his arrest for a month yet.

More of the Parker Murder.—Mr. S. K. Gifford, writing from Springdale, Kane County, under date of the 30th ult., gives a few particulars relating to the murder of Mrs. Parker, in addition to those already published. Our correspondent states that the story told by Dalton, the accused, of his having met Samuel Parker, son of the murdered woman, in the mountains and been sent by him to fetch his mother is credited by many, and that with Dalton's representation to the reporter of the Miner, that young Parker was afraid to come into Springdale on account of having stolen a saddle and got into trouble with a girl before he left, have elicited considerable sympathy for the prisoner, from persons who are inclined to accept as true the theory that Parker outraged and killed his own mother. But Mr. Gifford stoutly affirms his disbelief in this horrible supposition, and deprecates the endeavors made to arouse sympathy for Dalton, whom he believes to be guilty of the fiendish crime which he seeks to impute to the son of his victim. He says: "Samuel Parker had buried his wife and was paying attention to the daughter of his uncle, but being unsuccessful in love, he left the country. He took with him a saddle belonging to his uncle, with whom he had been living for some time, and as he passed through Toquerville left some property to be transferred in favor of his uncle as payment for the saddle. Last January he came home in the night, and stayed a few days, going from one settlement to another in the daytime, and was not afraid to come again. Samuel and his brother, when they came in, said they had been robbed of a considerable amount of money they were bringing home to help their mother, stated that they were going out west again to make a little raise, and then were coming to take their mother to New Mexico, and keep a sheep herd. They left in January and have not been heard from since."

Their mother, Mary Elizabeth Parker, was the daughter of Alpheus and Anna Nash Gifford, who were baptized the year the Church was organized. She was the widow of Samuel Parker, a lame man, known by some as Doctor Parker. While on their way to the Centre Stake of Zion, Mary was baptized at Cincinnati, in the Ohio River, the ice being cut for that purpose, in the winter of 1832-33. She was a strange woman and sometimes disagreeable in her manners, but was always true to the work of God. After she lived with Parker she was called a witch by many, who were foolish enough to believe it. She was strong in the faith of the gospel till her death, and was murdered the day she was sixty-two years of age. Two or three years ago, her son Samuel, had turned the road around a piece of land that he claimed, and Jared Dalton came along with a wagon, and followed the old road across the land. To this proceeding Samuel objected, a few words ensued, and Dalton jumped upon Samuel, and beat him nearly to death. His mother (Mary E. Parker) interfered and saved her son's life. This may be the cause of the murder."

Priesthood Meeting.—The general meeting of the priesthood of the Stake convened in the Assembly Hall this forenoon, at 11 o'clock, the presidency of the Stake present and presiding. The roll having been called, reports read and candidates recommended for various offices in the Priesthood, a circular letter was read from President Joseph Young, Sen., asking the aid of the presidency of the Stake in obtaining a list of all the Seventies of the Stake. This letter was accompanied by blanks for distribution among the several wards, to effect the desired purpose.

Counselor Joseph E. Taylor then arose and made remarks on the necessity of something being done to check the progress of the dreaded scourge diphtheria. He suggested the advisability of the appointment of certain sanitary officers to attend to persons afflicted with this disease, and assist in helping them in the hour of trouble. In the absence of these officers, however, the ward authorities should assume a watch-care. The teachers should see that aid and sustenance is furnished the afflicted, that sanitary measures are adopted to prevent the spread of the disease, and when death visits a household, be ready to lend encouragement to the bereaved survivors, and not desert them. The elders should go with the power of God into such places, fearing not the disease, but fearing God, and in his name rebuking the contagion. Such a man was proof against disease, and God would protect him. The speaker depicted the ravages of diphtheria in our midst, and closed by suggesting that the City Council be importuned to inaugurate means to prevent its further progress.

Elder W. W. Taylor, of the presidency of the Seventies, in explanation of the circular letter referred to, said it was designed that the Bishops and their assistants be relieved of the labor of getting up the lists of Seventies in their wards, and that the duty devolve upon some of the prominent Seventies.

Bishop Edwin D. Wooley, expressed his satisfaction at the plan adopted in these meetings, of asking candidates for ordination as to their willingness to do their duty, magnify their offices, and bear a testimony before the assembly to that effect, previous to receiving a recommendation.

Bishop L. W. Hardy, of the presiding Bishopric, touched upon the subject of the Utah Eastern Railroad, showed how it would benefit the people of this city and the Territory, in the cheapening of fuel and the development of the country, and urged the bishops and all present to invest in the enterprise and encourage others to do the same. It was estimated that the road would cost $200,000, which represented double that amount in shares.

Bishop L. D. Young, being requested to speak, endorsed all that had been said, especially in relation to the disease known as diphtheria. Apropos of the counsel given to the Elders in regard to such things, the speaker related an incident that occurred in early days in Kirtland, when after a certain sick brother had been given up by three physicians, and was dying of quick consumption, the Prophet Joseph instructed the Elders to go to the house and not cease to pray unto God until they received a testimony that the sufferer would be healed. They did so, the man recovered and is alive to-day. The speaker dwelt upon the practice of having doctors and Elders in attendance on the sick at the same time, of trusting in the skill of man instead of the power of God, and he earnestly deprecated the course of those who refuse to go to administer to the sick, for fear that the disease may cling to them and be carried into their families.

President A. M. Cannon spoke of the advisability of the bishops presenting the names of the teachers and deacons of their respective wards, at least once in three months to the meetings to be sustained. He deprecated the bad habits of smoking, chewing and drinking prevalent among the Elders of Israel, the disorderly conduct of persons who attend meetings, and the actions of those, who when an Elder is preaching, instead of taking his remarks to themselves, are engaged in looking around the congregation to find some one to whom they imagine the criticism will apply. He also touched upon other subjects and gave much wholesome advice.

Elder Brigham Young continued the subjects mentioned by the previous speakers. He advised elders to go solemnly and in holiness of heart to administer to the sick, and not slight the sacred ordinance by performing it hurriedly and carelessly. As to the Utah Eastern, the speaker thought that the money expended in this stake, alone, for coffee tea, whisky, tobacco, beer and other stimulants, would iron the railroad and furnish it with rolling stock. And the money paid for patent medicines would doubtless grade the road from Salt Lake to Coalville. The speaker mentioned these things to show the inconsistency of many, who complained of not being able to forward a worthy enterprise, and at the same time were wasting their means on things that would destroy them body and soul.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, JUNE 7.

Notice.—Work in the Temple at St. George will close on the 25th of June, and again open on the 1st of September, 1880.

W. WOODRUFF.

Diphtheria in the North.—Bro. S. P. Richards writes from Montpelier, Idaho, that diphtheria has broken out in that settlement. On the 1st inst. a two-year-old daughter of John Kunz died with it, and three or four other cases are reported. The weather continues cold and crops are growing slowly.

Woman's Exponent.—The Exponent has been unavoidably delayed several days, but the June 1st number comes to hand none the less welcome and interesting. It contains original prose articles as follows: "Charity for the Fallen," by Olive Branch; "Influence of Home," Nannie World; "Alice and Phoebe Carey," Hannah T. King; "Gratitude," by M. A. Till; "A Mother's Reflections," C. A. Jolly; "Pipsey Papers," XIII, Mary; "Birthday of Brigham Young," editorial; "Early Reminiscences," continued, Helen Mar Whitney; "When We Went Gipsying," Aunt Em; "Woman Amongst the Neophytes," G.; besides correspondence, home affairs, reports, etc., etc. "A Fable," a beautiful moral lesson, by Augusta Joyce Crocheron, and "A Few Thoughts," by Thomas Morris, one of the "Mormon Battalion," make up the sum of the paper's contents. It is the first number of the ninth volume, and is a very neat and interesting issue.

In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvelous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in the throat and lung disorders of children, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, Physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and Clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible. 1 dsw

FOR THE BLOOD AND LIVER

Use Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla and Dandelion, with Iodide of Potassium.

THE scarcity of Diamonds, Gold and Silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value.

Thus it is with a valuable medicine: Dr. Aug. Kaiser's Celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom or put out a prairie fire with a tear.

For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchial Affections, it is unequalled. Its cures are truly magical. Ask your Druggist for it. The genuine bears the Prussian Coat of Arms, the facsimile signature of Dr. Aug. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every 75 cent bottle. Trial bottle 25 cents.
