EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, August 1, 1878.

Our Country Contemporaries.

Utah County Times, July 31—

Yesterday another silver brick weighing 701 ounces, and valued at $500, passed through this city from Tintic. Tintic is coming up.

Many of our farmers are very busy cutting and hauling in their wheat, and we are glad to know from them that the quality is very fine and that the yield from the straw will be unusually good. The prospect for an abundant corn crop is also very fine.

"A Citizen," writing to the Times, says—

"Permit me to call your attention to an inhuman, barbarous, cowardly and exceedingly dangerous practice that has been going on for some time in our city, more particularly in the west part of town, that is the poisoning of dogs, cutting their throats, etc., by cowardly minutiae hoodlums, who crawl around after dark, seeking an opportunity to carry out their low dirty designs. The writer is acquainted with seven cases within a radius of about five blocks, within two weeks. Some of the animals being prized by their owners as good watch dogs to mind their wagons when out traveling, others to guard their premises, etc. No more than last evening there were two animals that had their throats cut and stabbed, one of them presented a pitiable spectacle next morning, he being still alive.

"Owners of animals should be on the watch for these gentry and give them a reception worthy the criminals. As the meetings applied in proper doses may have a healthy effect. If prompt measures are not adopted some one's children will be bit by the poor dogs after the poison has been in their system, and death ensue in consequence, then how much better than murders are these class of hoodlums!

"For one will give $100.00 towards the apprehension and con-vic-tion of these low-lived rascals."

Ogden Junction, July 31—

This morning about eight o'clock, flames were seen from the roof of the kitchen of the Allen

House, belonging to W. G. Child, Esq. Messrs. John Nicholas and Orville Child, the mounted men, several persons ran to the rescue, handling buckets of water, with which the fire was subdued without material damage to the building. The cause of the fire was partially destroyed. The cause of the conflagration was a heated stove-pipe, which passed through a hole only seven inches in diameter and was protected only with part of a thin tin bucket.

Ogden Junction, Aug. 2—

Who knows Charles W. Tyler?

His wife is very anxious to hear from him. She wants the Utah papers to publish this:

"Charles W. Tyler, your wife,
