Republicans in City Council Propose To Hold Caucus to Consider Action They Will Take.

The city council chamber was again crowded last evening in anticipation of some action being taken upon the appointments submitted by Mayor Morris a week ago. The people were doomed to disappointment, however, for not a word was mentioned in connection with the appointments. The special committee which has that matter in hand was unable to reach any agreement whatever at its special meeting yesterday afternoon, so definite action was postponed until Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock to which time the council last night adjourned. The appointments will then be considered before the entire council.

In addition to the special committee of five, all of the members of the council were present at the committee meeting yesterday afternoon excepting Black, Martin and Wood. JACKSON SUCCEEDS SMITH.

While Latter Becomes Clerk of the State Board of Health.

C. M. Jackson was today appointed clerk of the city board of health to succeed Horace H. Smith, who resigned yesterday to accept a similar position with the state board of health. The appointment was made upon the suggestion of Mayor Morris, it being understood that the health commissioner would appoint a person who would be acceptable to the mayor.

Mr. Jackson is a staunch Democrat and has been connected with "Truth" for several years past. It is believed that he is one of the few Democratic appointees who can be confirmed by the city council without any very great opposition.

Several days ago Health Commis-sioner Stewart attempted to induce the mayor to agree to the appointment of Max Smith to the office of clerk of the board of health, stating that he would send in his name if the mayor would approve it. This the mayor refused to do and it is believed that an understanding was had between them where by a person should be named who is satisfactory to the mayor. Mr. Jackson's appointment is believed to be the result of this agreement.

Youthful Snowballer Walks Into Police Station Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon Officer Johnson arrested Ross Moore, aged 17; Chas. Rasmussen, aged 17, and Harley Ross, aged 13, for assaulting an aged man at the corner of Third South and West Temple streets. It is alleged that the boys threw snowballs and rocks at their victim. There was another boy in the crowd who was not arrested by Johnson for the reason that the officer could not locate him. But last evening the boy, whose name is Alec Mackey, welked into police headquarters and gave himself up. He said he expected to be arrested any minute and thought the best way out of the trouble was to give himself up. He was released on his own recognizance until the case is called before Judge Diehl.

Amusements

Howard Kyle hardly looked out upon the old-time gathering when he stepped upon the stage in "Rosemary" last night. There were several reasons, one the prevailing lethargy in all things theatrical; another the fact that most of our theater goers retained the charming recollection of John Drew's performance some years ago, and did not wish to have it disturbed by what they felt must be a less ambitious presentation. Mr. Kyle and his company of players labored energetically, and the star was received very pleasantly on his entrance and accorded several curtain calls. Truth, however, compels the statement that he does not find in the role of Sir Jasper Thorndyke, a part as well suited to his methods, as a heroic role like that of "Nathan Hale," in which he last appeared here. He was quite artistic in the last act, portraying Sir Jasper 50 years after the main action of the play. While he was fairly well supported, the work he was fairly well supported, the work of the company was voted rather slow throughout. The dainty delicacy and throughout, a play can only be adebeauty of such a play can only be ade-quately interpreted by people of the very first rank, and while last night's players are mostly capable, they can hardly be classed under that heading. The best instances of acting after Mr Kyle were the professor of Mr. Webber, the captain of Mr. Gaston, the post boy of Mr. Booker, and the Dorothy of Forfeiting of Bond Does Not Absolve Culprit From Punishment.

The United States marshal's office has begun a search for H. B. Messenger, charged with forgery, for whom a bench warrant was issued last evening by Judge Messenger was arrested about eight months ago on the charge of forging, a postal money order. The crime was committed at Ogden, and the arrest was made in Kanasa City. Taken before the commissioner in the latter city, Messenger gave a bond of $50 to insure his appearance here at the November term of court. He failed to answer when his case was called. The grand jury at its last session indicted Messenger and the court yesterday declared the $50 bond forfeited to the government, at the same time issuing the attachment for him.

The officials have no idea as to Messenger's whereabouts. While his bondsmen at Kansas City have signified their willingness to pay up at once, that does not absolve Messenger. The bond is merely to compensate the government for the cost that may be incidental to locating the accused. months ago on the charge of forging a gress at Meeting Held in This City Yesterday.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

Water Users Will be Asked to Accept 200 Second Feet of Water in Lieu of Present Rights.

At yesterday's meeting of the committee appointed by Utah lake water users to investigate and report on the proposed reservoir scheme, some interesting figures were brought out, emong them the following:

arid land to be watered from Utah lake, not over $15.

Time allowed for payment (without nterest) 10 years. Average annual value of farm prodicts in Salt Lake valley, per acre, $30.

Value of products in 10 years, $300. Gross profit of bringing water to land, Gross profit of bringing water to land,

Increased output of farm products by bringing water to 50,000 acres of land Sait Lake valley now arid, annually

From the gross profit, to secure the net, there should be deducted the cost of maintenance of ditches and the usual expenses for farm labor.

As stated in last night's "News," the As stated in last night's "News," the meeting was held at the office of President Angus M. Cannon and was presided over by Col. E. F. Holmes, while Thomas P. Page acted as secretary. There were present Thomas P. Page, representing the Utah & Salt Lake Canal company; Angus M. Cannon, South Jordan Canal company; W. H. Haigh for J. C. Mackey, of the North Jordan Canal company; M. B. Ennis, East Jordan Canal company; City Enganger Jordan Canal company; M. B. Ennis, East Jordan Canal company; City En-gineer L. C. Kelsey, Salt Lake City; E. F. Holmes and A. F. Doremus, at large. The meeting was harmonious through-out and it was the feeling of those present that the time had come for Utah to assert herself and take ad-vantage of the aid afforded by the na-tional irrigation law. tional irrigation law.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

A resolution was passed recommendng that the water users under the five existing canals accept 200 second-feet of water out of the 1,000 second-feet which the government estimates can be supplied from Utah lake after the proposed improvements shall have been made, in consideration of the rights which they now possess, leaving 800 sec-ond-feet to be disposed of by the gov-ernment as a means of reimbursing itself for the outlay for the required im-

Mr. Kelsey stated that according to the foregoing resolution the government charge would approximate $14.12 er acre, from present estimates. Another resolution which passed was to the effect that a sub-committee be appointed, comprising the representatives of the various canal companies on the general committee, to ascertain how much of the remaining 800 second-feet of water would be required by the ifferent companies, at a maximum cost of $15 an acre for the amount required.

A committe was appointed, consisting of Chairman Holmes, State Engineer Doremus and Atty. F. S. Richards, to work out some form of agreement by which the water users and the government can get together-an agreement by which the government may be secured and the rights and interests of all concerned be duly represented and protected. AS SEEN IN WASHINGTON.

Mr. Doremus stated the results of his ecent visit to Washington, D. C., in he interest of the project for procuring a larger water supply for the irrigable lands in Salt Lake valley. He stated that the secretary of the interior had informed him that the sum of $20,000,000 is now available for reclama-tion works, and that the government is ready to go on with the Utah lake scheme inasmuch as it appeared to be for the benefit of the whole people and not a private scheme. Mr. Doremus added that Utah's project was given a more favorable hearing in Washington than any other enterprise because this state's representatives there were not pressing a private project but were representing the State of Utah. Mr. Doremus further stated that in an interview with Prof. Newell the latter said there is no intention on the part of the government to interfere with existing rights unless the people them-selves are agreeable and existing rights would be recognized. In the Salt river, Arizona, proposition which the govern ment has taken hold of, all the parties went in on equal terms, but it was also agreed that early settlers would be protected if at any time there should be a short supply of water.

STORM COMING.

The minimum thermometer this morning was a rather high figure, 48 degrees above zero. Heavy rains continue in the west and northwest, but in the northeast, the weather continues severely cold, with the mercury 34 degrees below zero at Winnipeg. While the weather here is comparatively warm today, the local weather office prophesies rain or snow and colder for

F. R. Snow of the Consolidated Wager F. R. Snow of the Consolidated Wagon & Machine company resigned from his position as assistant secretary and treasurer yesterday. R. Snow, of a handsome watch, chain and charm. The remarks made by Mr. Romney, and responded to by the recipient, were appropriate to the occasion, and brief speeches were made by the general manager, Mr. Odell, Seey. Wells and Mr. Grant Hampton, who assumes the duties and position just vacated; also by Miss Blehr and Messrs. E. D. Herman and Alvin Smith, and all of the expressions from these went to show that the relations now being severed, and which have existed for a long time, have been of the closest kind, not only in a business sense, but socially.
