OFFICIAL OUTING TO PARK CITY

"Get Acquainted" Excursion Arranged by Railroad People for City and County Officers.

AN IMPROMPTU FIRE DRILL.

Elks' Excursion to California—Narrow Escape of Sam Carter—Compromise on Damage Suit.

Ogden, April 25.—The outing of the city and county officials with the representatives of the Harriman railroad line to Park City and return yesterday, was a very pleasant affair and greatly enjoyed by all who participated. The "get acquainted" excursion was arranged by Supt. W. A. Whitney of the Utah division of the Union Pacific, and participated in by many of the leading representatives of the Harriman line centering in this city. Among the city and county officials who were the guests of the railroad people were Mayor A. L. Brewer, Councilmen J. W. Austin, Horace E. Perry, G. W. Wilson, Samuel Thomas, J. B. Dunn, D. A. Dickson, Chris Eysenck and C. J. Humphries; County Commissioners O. R. Madison, Frank Moore and John T. Rybeck; City Atty. J. H. De Vine, Judge John D. Murphy, Chief of Police T. E. Browning, Chief Detective James P. Pender, City Engineer A. F. Parker; A. R. Heywood and I. L. Reynolds, president and secretary of the Weber club; W. H. Gwilliam of the board of education, and representatives of the press. The special train left the Union depot in Ogden at 8:30 in the morning. On the way up stops were made to enable the crowd to inspect the great seven-foot conduit at Devil's Gate that the J. P. O'Neil company is building for the big Harriman power plant to be located at the mouth of Weber canyon, and to permit of a trip through the gigantic Portland cement plant at Devils Slide. Other brief stops were made at Conville, Morgan and Echo, Park City was reached at 1:45. There the visitors were met by Dr. Wilson, the mayor and other prominent citizens, and escorted over the town.

The start from Park City on the return trip was made at 6 o'clock. Citizens of Morgan, under the leadership of the mayor, had arranged a carriage ride for the party to points of interest in the town, but the lateness of the hour made this impossible. There was a jolly impromptu reception at the depot instead.

After supper in the dining car on the way down, after-dinner speeches were made by Superintendent Whitney, A. R. Heywood, Mayor Brewer, P. L. Williams, O. B. Madison, W. M. Jeffers, Judge Murphy, J. H. De Vine and others.

of the big Ogden schools on Tuesday. A man on the west side had an urgent call to see his little son who was attending the school, and went to the school to find him. Mistaking a fire alarm knob in the hallway for a bell, by which to summon someone in authority he rang it sharply. Scarcely thirty seconds later he was greatly surprised to see the entire student body rushing out in excellent order. ELKS' EXCURSION TO CALIFORNIA.

The Elks of Ogden are making elaborate preparations to attend the annual convention of the Elks' lodge to be held at Los Angeles during the week of July 12. They expect to journey to the Angel City on a special train and plan to have appropriate literature and other material for the proper boosting of Ogden.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED.

A couple giving the names of Allie Sherrill and William McCoy, believed to be shop-lifters, were arrested early Wednesday evening by Sheriff Wilson, Captain of Police Browning and Patrolman Crompton. When they arrived at the police station the couple put up cash bails of $25 each.

The arrest was made after an investigation of the suspicious actions of the couple at the depot, where they had two trunks filled with boxes and silks. It is believed the goods in part of the plunder gathered in this city and others by the couple.

NARROW ESCAPE OF SAM CARTER.

Samuel Carter, who claims his home is at Green River, Wyo., while intoxicated yesterday fell into the millrace of the Utah Light & Railway power plant near the mouth of Ogden canyon. When discovered he was within three inches of the turbine wheel and if not rescued would have met with instant death in the machinery. After he was taken out the police took him to the station, where he spent the night.

SEEKING IDENTIFICATION.

Sheriff Bayard B. Wilson has written to authorities at Kansas City, Mo., a letter containing a full description of the unknown stranger who died suddenly of heart failure at the county jail on Tuesday evening. It is hoped that some clue to the dead man's identity will be secured in this way. Meanwhile the body will be held by Undertaker C. J. A. Lindquist awaiting instructions.

COMPROMISE ON DAMAGE SUIT.

Setting forth that the sum of $222, which the Southern Pacific Railroad company has agreed to pay in full settlement of all claims for damages, is satisfactory to Mrs. Mary Bass of North Carolina, mother of the deceased, a petition asking that the compromise be permitted was filed in the district court yesterday afternoon by Robert G. Aze, administrator of the estate of David B. Alexander, who was killed while in the performance of his duties as a Southern Pacific employee.

The "News" is delivered by carrier every night (Sunday excepted) at 12 cents per month. All payments and complaints should be made to T. J. Durkin, agent for Daily, Saturday and Semi-Weekly News. Orders take James E. Snow, father of deceased, stated his place and the scene of the trouble were between a quarter and half-a-mile apart. His son left home Feb. 1, about 4:45 in the afternoon, in company and by invitation of Mr. Duncan. Next saw him about 7 that evening. His mouth was bloody and full of something. It seemed as if the whole side, teeth and gums were crushed down to the level of the jaw bone. Mrs. Snow dressed the wound. Dan sat apparently in a dazed state for some time, only speaking when spoken to and in a few words. He was restless up to about 1 a. m. Witness then described the gradual sinking of his son until Thursday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, when he died.

HORSE SHOW GRAND SUCCESS

Jury Completed and Hearing Begun in Lawhorn Murder Case.

Provo April 25.—The Utah county horse show held here yesterday, was a very successful affair, greatly to the credit of the Commercial club and to all who took part in the event. The citizens and visitors were out early waiting for the big parade. Two bands, the B. Y. C. and the Provo, enlivened the occasion with stirring music, and the beautiful animals as they were gathered made a most attractive picture, which was thoroughly appreciated by the spectators.

There were probably two hundred horses in line, consisting of Percherons, Shires, Belgians and other draft horses, French and English coach, Hackney and standard-bred trotting horses, and others.

The parade started about 10 o'clock under the direction of John W. Farrer, marshal of the day, and after the procession the horses were gathered on the university property, north of the courthouse, where several photographs were taken.

At the intersection of Academy avenue and Center street speeches were made from an improvised speakers' stand to a large crowd of people.

President Evans of the Commercial club welcomed the people in behalf of the club and complimented the exhibitors on the fine display made.

Mayor Decker extended a welcome and the freedom of the city to the visitors. Dr. George H. Brimhall made an eloquent address on the horse and its development, and the part it had played in civilization. He encouraged the breeders in their efforts to improve their stock and urged them to continue in the good work, and to not be satisfied till Utah produced the best horses in the world.

In the afternoon some fine exhibitions of driving horses were given at the race track.

THE LAWHORN CASE.

The jury in the Lawhorn case was completed yesterday morning by the selection of Jesse Brathwaite of Spanish Fork, and George D. West of Pleasant Grove to complete the panel.

The first witness examined was Miss Lucy Duncan at whose home the trouble between the young men Lawhorn and Daniel E. Snow occurred on February 7 of this year. She testified Snow came there about 4 o'clock and Lawhorn about 6:30 o'clock. The boys spoke to one another without exhibiting any anger and remained sometime. When Lawhorn was about to leave Snow said: "I suppose you came to lick me." Lawhorn replied, "I hadn't thought anything about that." The boys then began to scuffle, which lasted about 10 minutes, when they were put out by Joe Duncan and John Farley. Snow came back in a short time, staggering, and his mouth bleeding. The witness brought some water, and after Snow had washed off the blood he went home.

Joseph Duncan testified that he and Forrest Farley went out in a few minutes and Snow was standing by the gate. Snow said "Lay down that brick" but Lawhorn refused to do so, and witness then saw a can fly and strike Snow on the chin. Snow came back to the boys and said Lawhorn struck him with a brick. Lawhorn asked witness to touch his jaw, but witness refused, saying he had seen enough.

Forrest Farley corroborated Duncan's testimony. The last two witnesses in fact when he showed the boys out he shut the door; a few minutes later his brother and Joe Duncan went out, witness did not go out at that time. Snow came back in a little while holding both hands on his mouth. About five or six minutes after Lawhorn had been out witness saw Lawhorn at the west end of the house, by the gate. He had a club in his hand. They walked up together, and Lawhorn held him by the back of the neck. Snow's teeth down his throat and if "Dan" (Snow) said anything more he would knock four more down.

James E. Snow, father of deceased, stated his place and the scene of the trouble were between a quarter and half-a-mile apart. His son left home Feb. 1, about 4:45 in the afternoon, in company and by invitation of Mr. Duncan. Next saw him about 7 that evening. His mouth was bloody and full of something. It seemed as if the whole side, teeth and gums were crushed down to the level of the jaw bone. Mrs. Snow dressed the wound. Dan sat apparently in a dazed state for some time, only speaking when spoken to and in a few words. He was restless up to about 1 a. m. Witness then described the gradual sinking of his son until Thursday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, when he died.

In the course of his evidence it was shown that Snow had been for six years a victim of epileptic fits, but they had been hoping he would recover, as he had been getting so much better. It was also brought out that no medical assistance had been given the boy through his four days' suffering. The reason for this lack of medical attention, as stated by Mr. Snow, was that the young men had always objected to being treated by local doctors, and witness feared if a doctor was brought it would excite the boy and cause him to have an epileptic convulsion.

LEHI.

BURIAL OF HANDICRAFT PIONEER.

Mrs. Rebecca Pilgrim Goates Closes Honored Career.

Special Correspondence.
 Lehi, Utah, Co., April 25.—The funeral of Mrs. Rebecca Pilgrim Goates, an old time resident of Lehi, who died Saturday last of general debility, was held from the new tabernacle at 1 p. m. today. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers and many friends and relatives were present to pay respects to the departed. The speakers were Elder A. R. Alderson, President J. J. Evans and Elder George Larkins of Ogden, who spoke of her noble life and labors.

Her grandson, George A. Goates, read the following biographical sketch: Rebecca Pilgrim Goates, daughter of Samuel Pilgrim and Betsey Goates, was born in Cambridge, England, in 1825. She embraced the gospel and on May 4, 1855, she started for America, after having endured much persecution from her family and neighbors. July 15, 1855, she left Iowa City, Ia., in Capt. James G. Willie's handcart company of 500 souls. She pulled a handcart 1,400 miles across the plains and endured the terrible privations of that memorable trip when they nearly froze or starved to death many times, and 66 of the emigrants were buried by the roadside.

She arrived in Salt Lake City and came to Lehi a week later where she has since lived.

In April, 1887, she married Wm. Goates, and though she never had children of her own, she was a mother in very deed to the seven children of her husband's first wife. Her husband died in 1886. She was kind, sympathetic and generous to a fault, ever helpful to those in need.
