The Treeps at Aldershot. was conqueror, and there are a few northern doughfaces in Congress of such an adject nature that they prostrate themselves to the manes of the departed institutions of siavery. If all the old siave States can combine, so can all the old free States. The only thing needed for this is an occasion made plain to the comprehension of the market. It is all very wall so talk sentimentally about burying the dead past, only we want the rebellion buried at the bottom, that is all.

A Rumina Officer Interviewed. A Herald reporter inverviewed a Russian officer now in the city. He said: "There is no mystery about the Cimbria. I came here with the authorization to build or purchase vessals I may deem suitable for our navy. I am personally in favor of having as much of our work done in this country as possible, because the work is quite as good, if not better, than we can get in Europe; and again, we have the advantage of having the executed by a friendly untion that has always shown a kind disposition towards us. We have chartered no vessels, and do not want to charter any. We are not going to fit ter any. We are not going to fit out any privateers, and when our cruisers leave American ports, they will leave under the Russian flag and not under the German."

The Fiorida Franci Investigation. The Tribune says, epitomizing its Washington specials on the Fiorida investigation: The democrats have utterly failed, so far, to invent
a way of bringing their resolution before the House as a question of privilege. The republicans have prepared a resolution which will be offered as an amendment, quoting a large number of democratic cipher and other campaign telegrams, and demanding a full investigation of the frauds in Florida and Oregon.
