

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Day.—To-morrow will be observed as first day, by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Correction.—In the item headed "Rare Relic," last evening, it was stated that Mrs. Elmina P. Tufts was the wife of Mr. Elbridge Tufts of this city, instead of which the lady is his mother.

Museum.—The Curator respectfully acknowledges the receipt of the circular of the Antiquarian Department of the University of Deseret for 1889-90. Also the biennial report of the Territorial Department of District Schools, for the school years 1878 and 1879, from Dr. Park, Principal of the University of Deseret. Also a specimen of Chinese floating soap from Mr. Henry Reynolds, of this city.

Disturbances of the Peace.—Yesterday afternoon, two men named Burgess and Parker, were before Judge Pyper, to answer a charge of disturbing the peace on a car on the Utah Western Railroad, on Decatur street, it being proved that they used profane language, flourished weapons and talked of fighting in the presence of ladies and others, who were unable to leave the car where it was taking place, they were fined Burgess $50 and Parker $25, and remained in default of payment.

Delirium Tremens.—The other evening we published an item to the effect that a man's clothes, and an empty alcohol bottle had been found on the ground, a block south of the Utah Ward Meeting House, and that it was supposed they were the property of some person who had been under the influence of "Jim Jams." The supposition was presumably correct. Yesterday a man who hailed from Cache Valley but whose name we could not learn, made application for the clothing, to the parties in the Utah Ward who had charge of the apparel, and said in explanation of the matter that he had camped out in the bench the night before and that the wind had blown his "clothing" away. When asked how the alcohol bottle happened to be with his clothes, he said he believed he had been drugged. He got some gin and the day before, and "had it" to make it palatable, "and which time he knew of no one that had taken place."

The "Blacksmith's Dream."—One of the most, if not the most, ingenious pieces of mechanism ever shown in this city is that called the "Blacksmith's Dream," now being exhibited in the pavilion just north of Zion's Savings Bank. It consists of a variety of automatic figures, representing the ordinary occupations of life, all working at once, each entirely independent of the others. The natural movements of the human body are admirably portrayed, even to that of the working of the elbow joint, a mechanical operation conceded to be one of the most difficult to produce. There is a railroad train, bicycle, race, steamboat, sailing ship, blacksmith shop, looms, sewing machines, minstrel troupe, carpenters, etc., etc., all working simultaneously and independently. So much is this latter the case, that any one of the figures may be stopped and all the others will continue as though nothing had happened, and yet these are grouped together as though under the influence of one and the same motive power. Edison's Phonograph, or "talking machine," is on exhibition as well as the ever-amusing "Punch and Judy" performance. The entertainment is well worth the 15 cents charged for admission.

A Headlong Character.—We are informed by Mr. Joseph Evans, of the 10th Ward, that about three o'clock last Monday afternoon, a young man on horseback rode up to the gate of his father's residence, dismounted, and getting a note, to hold his animal, went into the house and asked for Mr. Thomas Evans, the younger brother of our informant. In reply to a question as to what he was and where he came from, he gave the name of S. Headlong, stated that he had come from Nevada, where his father owned a vast fortune, and had ridden on miles on horseback to get "Tom" to go and work for his brother, for $1 per day. He also said that the 412 miles of the journey he had accomplished since the evening before, and on surprise being expressed that the horse he had could have performed such a journey, he reassured it, saying by way of qualification that he had changed horses with Ben Tasker, whom he had met while on the way to Salt Lake. While he was busy stuffing the innards of the horse with his man's clothes and stuffing himself with provender from the dinner table, at which he had seated himself on invitation from Mr. Evans, a light wagon containing a young man, a girl and an elderly gentleman, drove up to the house and the young man who was driving sprang out and advanced to the horse, which the first comer had brought, and claimed it as his own, stating that it had been stolen from him on Main Street. In the meantime Mr. Headlong, seeing the new comers were evidently in pursuit of himself, slid out of the house, and getting into the vehicle with the elderly gentleman, who it was afterward found was a father, rode away. Some distance from Mr. Evans' house, the two got into an altercation. The young man jumped out of the wagon and struck at his father, at the same time calling him names too disgraceful to repeat, whereupon the irate parent raised over his head a stick of wood and dealt the young man several blows and left him lying in the road. The claimant of the horse said that the junior Headlong had stolen his animal once before. This is all that is known of the affair at present, which is one that would look well on the minutes of the police court.

City Council.—The City Council convened in regular session for the transaction of business on Tuesday evening, June 1st, 1890, Alderman Calder presiding.

A petition was presented from John W. Snell and Geo. F. Adkins, representing that they were engaged in building on contracts, and that they obtained their sand for building purposes from a point about twenty rods north of the site where the new power magazines were blown up. The petitioners asked to lease or purchase one and a quarter acres of land in that locality, which they would more fully describe when Surveyor Fox had time enough to make a survey, which would probably be referred the next month. Referred to the committee on public grounds.

F. Auerbach & Bro. petitioned for permission to use a portion of the public thoroughfare on East Temple Street, immediately adjacent to what is known as the Trowbridge Building (now belonging to petitioners), for a period of from sixty to ninety-five days from date, for the purpose of depositing there such building material as is necessary to be used in the alterations now in progress on said building. Granted under the usual restrictions.

James Barnes petitioned for the exclusive right to a parcel of land situated on the east bench of the South Temple Ward, for the purpose of taking out sand for building purposes. Referred to the committee on public grounds.

The committee on finance, who were instructed to destroy the redeemed city currency collected by the treasurer, amounting to $401, reported that they had counted and found the same correct, and had destroyed it by fire, according to instructions from the City Council. Report accepted and filed.

The committee on fire department, to whom was referred the petition of Joseph S. Richards, asking permission to place a single pole painted and sanded—upon a building within the fire limits, reported that they had no recommendations to make upon the subject, as the ordinance was plain and the case under consideration fully covered thereby.

Councilor Armstrong, of the committee on construction of the Jordan and Salt Lake City Canal, submitted a legal document for the consideration of the Council, which was designed to secure to the city in the matter of payment to Angus M. Cannon for the right of way, land, etc., for the city canal through his land claim on the Jordan. Councilor Armstrong explained that part of the land in question had been entered under the desert land act, and that Mr. Cannon had not acquired a title thereto. As it might impair the acquisition of his title to the land if an indemnifying bond were to be given to the city, this document had been drafted to take the place of a bond, and was submitted for the approval of the Council. After remarks upon the subject, the document was referred to the committee on municipal laws, with the City Attorney associated, to look into its legal merits and report to the Council.

Alderman Pyper submitted his report of the Police Court for the month ending May 31, 1890. Fifty-seven cases had been tried, and $243.50 assessed in fines; of which $235.50 had been paid in cash and $8.00 in labor on the public works; $107 had been collected on back taxes, making the total cash paid in to the city treasury $102.50. Total of cash and labor, $731.50. Approved and filed.

The following bills for the month of May were submitted and allowed, viz: Marshal's expense bills, $226.20; expense bills fire department, $164.38; gas for city street lamps and city buildings, $1,055.99; assistant watermasters, $388; medical attendance on city prisoners and other services in marshal's department, $80; collecting dog tax, $30; janitor City Hall and assistant jailer, $80; night watchman on Market Block, $8.

The following appropriations were made to pay interest and take up various corporation notes; $2,500 to Thomas Wardell for interest on note of $50,000; $5,063.33 to the Deseret National Bank to take up note due May 12, 1890, and pay 63 days interest thereon; $4,533.75 to the Salt Lake Gas Company, in settlement of loan and interest for forty-five days.

Adjourned to next Tuesday evening at the usual hour.

Murray for Davis.—The Board of Directors of the Territorial Insane Asylum, adjourned their meeting last evening, without having arrived at any decision respecting the location of a site for the Asylum building. Balloting was tried several times, but neither county could secure a majority. The nearest to it was Salt Lake, which at one time received 3 votes, there being 7 cast in all. It is understood that then the voting was as follows: Salt Lake's two representatives voted solid for this county; Provo's two did the same for Utah County; Ogden's one voted, of course, for Ogden; while the member from Davis County cast for Salt Lake, and Governor Murray gave his ballot to Davis County. To-day, however, the session was resumed, and resulted finally in Davis County's securing the Asylum by a majority of one vote. It is understood, though, that there is a proviso to this, and that is that the site in Davis County is really the best, which question will be decided by a committee who will visit the place at once, to make more thorough inspection. Next to Salt Lake, Davis County suits us.

"Physician, Heal Thyself."—The Beaver Watchman says: "The Salt Lakeers are talking of building a highway from the city to the top of Ensign Peak. They are very anxious to get nearer heaven, but the top of Ensign won't help them a bit. A better plan to gain happiness would be to drink less whiskey and publish more truthful newspapers."

First we have heard of the "highway." We fear the Watchman scribble is in need of his own advice.

Early Closing Association.—The clerks of the leading mercantile houses of this city have organized an early closing association, the object being to secure a uniform practice of closing stores at earlier hours than those which prevail at present.

Returned.—D. Buel, Esq., a well-known mining man, who figured prominently in Utah a few years ago, has returned to Salt Lake City, and contemplates taking up his abode again among the scenes of his former successes. He will find many friends still remaining in Uncle Sam's finest Territory.

One of the lady teachers in a Reno public school, a few days since was laboring with an urchin on the science of simple division. This is what came of it: "Now, Johnny, if you had an orange which you wished to divide with your little sister, how much would you give her?" "A suck!"

IT IS TRULY WONDERFUL

TO SEE what improvements now exist as compared with railway travel only a few years ago. To become convinced of this, one has only to select for his route East, the popular and well-known CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY.

You are landed by the Union Pacific R.R. in the Union Depot at Council Bluffs, where stands the C. and N.W. Palace train, composed of Pullman Hotel Cars, Pullman Sleeping Cars, elegant Day Coaches, Smoking Baggage, Postal Cars, etc., ready to convey its passengers through Iowa and Illinois, and into Chicago. Gliding smoothly along over the superb track of steel rail through thriving cities and villages, comfortably seated in this train, one scarcely discerns the high rate of speed which he is riding. Trains of this sort are always on time, connections rare, and passengers seeking pleasure, comfort, safety and ease in traveling, will find the "North-Western" in excess of their expectations, and the greatest of all routes to Chicago and the East. The Test of Experience.

Let those, if any such there be who question the efficacy of "GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP," as a means of preventing and obliterating complexion blemishes, give this harmless cosmetic a fair and honest trial. There is no test like experiment to convince the judgment, and to that test Glenn fearlessly appeals. Remember that "GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP" differs entirely from the dangerous cosmetics, and contains no deleterious substance. See that "GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP" is sold by druggists at 25 cents, three cakes 60 cents. Coupled with this appointment of the toilet, GLENN'S INSTANTANEOUS HAIR DYE, finds its place in the dressing rooms of fashion. Time is inexorable, and damages must be repaired; but with these two articles in your line, long held at bay, Depot, 7 Sixth Avenue, New York. dsw
