COOK AND WAITER

WAR IS NOW ON

Sudden Strike at the Chesapeake Restaurant.

THE PROPRIETORS ORGANIZE

Effect a Protective Association—Say They Will Not Be Dictated by Such Body of Men.

The hotel and restaurant keepers have now reached a perfect understanding with the cooks and waiters of the city, that they know where the latter stand. This sort of clearing up of the situation took place yesterday afternoon, when the cooks and waiters of the Chesapeake restaurant walked out without giving Manager Shaffer a moment's warning. The trouble grew out of the presence of Joe Porter, who is employed as an assistant in the kitchen. Joe was not a member of the union, and the members of the latter insisted that he should become a member at once. He probably would have acceded to their demands but he did not happen to have the amount of the initiation fee at hand. The union waiters would not allow him further time and demanded of Mr. Shaffer that he be dismissed at once. The latter replied that he had hired Porter before he was a member of the union, and that he would not be before and that he would run his own business to suit himself and he did not propose to be dictated to by the waiters. At this point the waiters, who were about 150 in number, ordered a strike, whereupon every man but one walked out of the place. Mr. Shaffer immediately hung a sign out for waiters and within an hour or two the waiters were back on hand and the strikers were on the outside watching the failure, temporarily at least, of their efforts at supremacy.

It was generally supposed that this would precipitate a general strike, but at the meeting of the union last night it was said that several of the restaurant proprietors had signed the agreement with the waiters. A meeting was held around to the final action was deferred until Sunday afternoon, and at that time, if the proprietors have not yielded, a general strike will be ordered.

In the meantime the proprietors have organized themselves into a union for the purpose of resisting what they are pleased to call the unjust exactions of the waiters. A meeting was held in the Union block last evening and an organization was effected with the title of The Hotel and Restaurant Keepers' Protective Association. H. G. Buel, owner of Buel's, is president and Harry Finch is secretary. After discussing the situation for some time, the following resolution was passed unanimously:

Resolved, That we as an organization do not recognize any demand made by the cooks and waiters' union. This is an epitome of the sentiment of the proprietors. The latter, of course, feel that they have a grievance; that their demands are very reasonable, and they claim that the waiters are not in sympathy with the union and only joined to avoid being called "scabs."

On the other hand the proprietors say that the strike is being stirred up by a lot of shiftless transients whose only object is to promote trouble and they declare that the really efficient waiters are not in sympathy with the union and only joined to avoid being called "scabs."

Twenty of the ecclesiastical wards of the state have filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state under the new law passed by the last legislature permitting the incorporation of wards. PEOPLE WHO ARE PASSING

"It is hardly hot down on the Yuma desert," pathetically remarked Judge Goodwin on his return from the county of St. Cactus, and he added, "Why a horrid road down there would die of sunstroke if he did not have a cabbage leaf umbrella to shade himself with." The judge had a hot row, how he was going over that desert. He had lived in El Paso for a year, and failed to get one so he had to sit up all night, and think of the cogitations of a man who had been in a hot and sunny infant in a seat close by. The child was fatally ill, but its mother did not know it, and failed to give the proper attention to its recovery. Presently the child's cries grew fainter and fainter, and the mother felt relieved as she thought its trouble was about over. So she thought it was in the way she thought. Presently the infant's cries stopped altogether and were not resumed. Then the mother began to investigate, only to ascertain that her little one would never suffer again as it was dead.

deemed and cultivated and vast areas remain to be opened up to settlement. The most serious obstacle to the westward movement of our streams are constructed. It may be admitted that the prospect for greater development in our agricultural areas would be cheerless indeed were it not for the fact that the Congress of the United States, to whom we look for such beneficence, is now engaged in the arduous work of solving this very problem, while in the Presidential chair there sits a man with eastern brain and western brawn who has announced that the aid and encouragement that he will give to the great west must and shall be people. But if you do not like our agricultural prospects, surely you will be attracted by our mines. These everlasting hills "whose heads touch heaven" contain every known variety of mineral from gold to graphite, and all in the world you have to do is to find the mineral. I know men who came here poor as a pauper and in two short years became millionaires. They did it by storming the crags and delving into the hills, and what man has done, man can do. If you do not like our immediate results, or in the language of the miner—"if your pay checks do not start at the grass roots," do not get discouraged, but go on. There are some lucrative business in the meantime, such as running a newspaper and do your prospecting in your leisure hours. In any event, we want you to stay, and if you do not like any of the pursuits I have mentioned, start a sugar factory or a salt works or an oil well, and if you can't make a living in any of these, why go into politics.
