HUNTSVILLE LIGHT QUESTION.

Utah Light & Railway Company Makes Good Offer to Council.

Ogden, July 12.—Local Manager E. W. Wade of the Utah Light & Railway company, together with Messrs. Cannon and Mendenhall of the same company from Salt Lake City, went to Huntsville yesterday afternoon and held a meeting with the city council, to whom they submitted a proposition to furnish electric power for the lighting of that city. The company agreed to furnish power to the town at a rate of 4 cents per 1,000 watts, the city to erect its own transmission line from the power dam, where the power could be taken out. The proposition was thoroughly discussed between the parties and the council was heartily in favor of the same. A committee consisting of the mayor and two others was appointed to visit the residents of Huntsville and see how many of them would put in the electric lights if the council agrees to accept the offer. They are to report to the council July 23, when definite action may be taken on the proposition. The council could charge a better rate than 4 cents per 1,000 watts, and in that way bring a revenue to the city.

BEET CROP IS SAFE.

Prof. E. D. Ball Inspects Beet Fields of State—Prospects Flattering.

Ogden, July 12.—Prof. E. D. Ball of the Agricultural college, who has been making an inspection of the sugar beet fields of the state, is now in Weber county, having visited many fields in different parts of the country. He reports the crop to be in a most excellent condition, free from the white fly pest, and the outlook for an abundant harvest is very bright. He has also visited Lehi and Sevier county and found the beet crop in those places to be in a good condition. In Sevier county he found only slight damage from the white fly. From here Prof. Ball goes to Grand Junction, Colorado, to inspect the beet fields and to make a report to the government.

ALLEGED CRIMINAL ESCAPES.

James Slater, and George Campbell, two men wanted at Pueblo, Colorado, on the charge of burglary were arrested last evening by Sergeant Chambers and Officer Morrissey on Twenty-fifth street on a description sent out by the police. The two men were taken to the police station where the officers were putting them through the sweating process. Campbell was taken in first and questioned and then he was taken into the sergeant's office and left in charge of Officer Layne while the other man was taken into the chief's office to be questioned. Mr. Layne was called to the telephone and while he was answering it, Campbell dashed out of the jail door and down the street. The officers chased him for several blocks with the patrol wagon, but he took a short cut over some fences towards the depot yards, and the chase with the wagon was abandoned. Sergeant Chambers started after him on foot, firing several shots at him, but his coat caught on a barb wire fence and Campbell succeeded in getting among the box cars and got away.

STREETCAR TRANSFERS.

The Ogden Rapid Transit company proposes being much stricter in the future in the matter of issuing transfers. In the past anyone desiring to go down town could take the car to any point they desired, and then ask for a transfer, do their shopping, and then resume their journey, the transfer being accepted through two or three hours old. From now on the management has established transfer stations at the intersection of Washington avenue and Twenty-fifth street, and passengers changing cars will have to change at one of these three mentioned streets, and transfers will be good only 15 minutes from the hour of issuance. The conductors on the cars have also been instructed to collect fares from all officers who are not on duty, unless they are dressed in full uniform, or have their stars on the lapel of their coat.

LAND IN FOREST RESERVES.

Rules to be Observed in Making Entries—District Court Business.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, July 12.—An act of Congress entitled "An act to provide for the Entry of Agricultural Lands Within Forest Reserves," approved July 11, 1906, authorizes the secretary of agriculture upon application or otherwise to examine and ascertain the location and extent of lands within forest reserves which are chiefly valuable for agricultural purposes, and which may be occupied for such purposes without injury to the forest reserves, and have the same opened to entry under the homestead laws.

The following is a copy of the rules: 1. Only lands chiefly valuable for agriculture and not needed for administrative purposes by the forest service or for some other public use, will be classified and listed under the act.

2. Land covered with a merchantable growth of timber will not be declared agricultural except upon the strongest evidence of its value for agricultural purposes, both as to productiveness and accessibility to a market.

3. Areas known to have been occupied by actual settlers prior to January 1, 1906, will be examined first, and where such areas are found chiefly valuable for agriculture they will be listed, in order that the occupant may make entry under this act. The mere fact that a man has settled upon the land will, however, not influence the decision with regard to its agricultural character.

4. Application for classification and listing under the act must be forwarded by mail to The Forester, Washington, D. C.

5. All applicants must give the name of the forest reserve and describe the land, the formation of which is requested, by legal subdivision, if surveyed; but if unsurveyed, by reference to natural objects, streams or improvements, with sufficient accuracy to identify the land, and when convenient by a sketch map.

6. No examination of more than one quarter section will be ordered on the application of the same person; but if an application is withdrawn or rejected, a second application may be made for other land.

7. The question of prior right to land applied for can be determined by the department of the interior only, and the forest service will not investigate to determine whether such land is appropriated by a prior right. The applicant should satisfy himself upon this point for his own protection.

8. The first application received in Washington for any one tract is the one on which examination will be made, and all applications received in the same mail will be treated as simultaneous. Notice will be given of all simultaneous and conflicting applications.

9. The allowance of entries and the issuance of patents upon them, under the act are entirely within the jurisdiction of the secretary of the interior.

10. Special attention is called to section 5 of the act, which provides that nothing therein contained shall be held to authorize any settlement after Dec. 31, 1905, in any lands within forest reserves until such lands shall have been opened to settlement as provided in the act.

11. Settlement after Dec. 31, 1905, and in advance of opening by the secretary of the interior will confer no rights and will constitute trespass. Such trespassers will be evicted.

12. Special attention is called to that portion of the act which exempts from its operation certain counties of California, and its provisions relating to the Black Hills forest reserve in South Dakota.

The rules are signed by Clifford Pinchot, forester, and approved by James Wilson, secretary.

GUATEMALA AND SALVADOR

Where Peace Was Supposed to Reign on Border Hostilities Have Broken Out.

TROOPS MASSES ON BOUNDARY

Differences Between Two Countries Were Thought to Have Been Settled.

Washington, July 11.—Hostilities between Salvador and Guatemala have broken out anew on the border between these countries, where peace was supposed to have been established pending settlement of the trouble between the two countries.

Leslie M. Combs, the American minister to Guatemala, who was on his way to the United States to assist in settling the difficulties between Salvador and Guatemala, has been ordered back to Guatemala City from Champerico, Guatemala, where he was reached by cable.

Mr. Combs will remain in the Guatemalan capital to keep the United States advised concerning the trouble and to protect American interests in Salvador and Guatemala. Troops have been massed near the common boundary of the two countries for some time, and a serious clash was expected, but a temporary armistice seemed to have been agreed upon, and Salvador announced that J. R. Pacus had been named as a special envoy to Washington for the purpose of making representations to the American government concerning Salvador's position.

John Jenkins, the American consul general at San Salvador, was to accompany Mr. Pacus to this country. Salvador's alleged assistance of revolutionists in Guatemala who were attempting to overthrow President Cabrera, caused Guatemala to protest bitterly to the United States and Mexico, and resulted in representations to Salvador by those two republics which indicated that they resented foreign interference in the internal affairs of Guatemala.

As soon as the position of the United States was made clear, Salvador announced that Mr. Pacus would come to Washington to explain the situation, Guatemala indicating a willingness to have the United States act as mediator. Reassuring reports reached the state department concerning the internal conditions in Guatemala. It was believed that President Cabrera had put down the revolution, and that the row with Salvador would soon be amicably settled.

BOY'S DECOMPOSED BODY FOUND UNDER SACK OF OATS

Anaconda, Mont., July 11.—The badly decomposed body of fifteen-year-old Willie Barkovitch was found today under a sack of oats in the warehouse of Polich & Co., grocers at Anaconda. The lad had been missing since July 3. The boy had evidently been choked to death.

Willie Baitley, who, with other boys had been shooting off firecrackers at the back of the grocery store on the afternoon of July 3, told the police that John Clechan, driver for Polich & Co., caught young Barkovitch and carried him into the warehouse. Baitley says that he heard screams from Barkovitch.

Clechan, who was arrested, claims to know nothing of the affair. Other arrests are expected to follow.

As a result of a coroner's inquest held tonight, John Clechan and his employer, Matt F. Polich, are held on a charge of murder. The evidence showed that the men dragged the Barkovitch boy into Polich's warehouse, where the body was found. The boy was afterward heard to scream for help. The boy's brother asked Polich what he had done with the boy, and Polich said: "We killed him."

Polich told others who asked him about the boy that he had allowed the boy to go. Polich explains the presence of the boy in the warehouse by saying that the boy was trying to steal flour and a sack of oats fell on him, crushing him.

THE CROWN PRINCE OF MOROCCO.

Si Ahmed el ben Aziz, the crown prince of Morocco, is said to be an exact reproduction of his father, the sultan, both in appearance and temperament. The picture herewith presented is from a snapshot made by the ruler of Morocco, who is an amateur photographer of considerable ability. The prince is five years of age and has an English tutor, and it is current in court circles that his father intends to educate him in a European university. The sultan has acquired a reputation for liberality that is incomprehensible to the ordinary Moslem.
