

A WOMAN FOILED GETS DESPERATE

When She Found She Was Beaten Tried to Kill Detectives With Dynamite.

REFUSES TO GIVE HER NAME

Had Threatened Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps With Death if She Didn't Give Up $20,000.

Denver, Nov. 9.—After hunting the residence of her intended victim for two days and making efforts in every way imaginable to get into communication with her, an unknown woman who threatened Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps, divorcee wife of Lawrence Phipps, the Pittsburgh millionaire, with death unless she was given $20,000 in money, was foiled in her design by the clever work of bank and city detectives. When she discovered that she was beaten the woman cast dynamite sticks intended for Mrs. Phipps at the detectives, but fortunately they fell against the unpolished wall of an enclosed automobile which prevented them from exploding. The woman was quickly placed under arrest and efforts are being made to find some clue to her identity. She persistently refuses to give her name, but insists that she is the influence of a hypnotist and that this explains her attempt at blackmailing Mrs. Phipps.

CARRYING OUT PLANS.

The woman went about carrying out her plans with a determination evidently born of desperation. Ever since Saturday she had repeatedly telephoned the Phipps home and called there in an effort to have an audience with the well known society leader. Finally Mrs. Phipps became alarmed and today went out in a motor car to look for the woman, who had made several calls at the house during the day. The woman evidently saw her leave in the machine, for she attempted to attract the attention of Mrs. Phipps as she was being driven slowly along one of the park drives. She was standing behind a tree at the time. Mrs. Phipps directed her chauffeur to continue past her but the woman leaped from behind the tree and into the machine. As it was going by, she quickly engaged Mrs. Phipps in conversation, assuring her that her apparent fears were entirely unnecessary; that she was a magazine writer and had not intended to do any harm to Mrs. Phipps. She talked so kindly that Mrs. Phipps became reassured and they talked together for 15 or 20 minutes. Suddenly the woman produced two sticks of dynamite and threatened that Mrs. Phipps give her $20,000 within an hour or she would be destroyed. She directed that the automobile be driven to the Votaw school and Mrs. Phipps' daughter be taken along, this evidently for the purpose of having a hostage. Mrs. Phipps agreed to go to her bank and get the money when the party headed after stopping at the bank, got the little daughter of Mrs. Phipps.

Arriving at the bank, all but the strange woman left the machine, a step which she refused to make. In her program, but she made no attempt to enter the building. Mrs. Phipps hurriedly related her experience to a bank official and police headquarters were communicated with. The detectives hastened to the bank. In the meantime a special detective had engaged the strange woman in conversation from the window of the enclosed machine next the sidewalk. The two women sat quietly and walked around the rear of the machine and slipped open the door on the street side. The woman saw that she was entrapped and dashed the dynamite sticks at the officers. They struck against the machine and fell to the floor intact. Had they exploded great damage and loss of life might have resulted, for the scene is located in the very heart of the city.

WHO IS THE WOMAN?

The police have investigated every possible source of information at hand in order to find the identity of the woman. To-night they found in her room at the American house a toilet set engraved with the initials "F. C. R." The woman herself refused to give her name. She does say, however, that she had recently undergone a siege of brain fever, and her appearance would bear out this claim. Her hair is prematurely gray in spots and her face and body might easily have been rendered so by fever. Her memory appears to be clouded and when asked as to the place whence she came to Denver she replied that she thought it was Boston. She was sure that she had been in New York in recent months. The woman has every appearance of refinement and her clothing is of rich material. The toilet set found in her room is silver-mounted and of costly design.

Mrs. Phipps entirely recovered from the shock of her experience and attended the theater to-night.

FORMAL OPENING OF ARMY WAR COLLEGE

Washington, Nov. 9.—The formal opening of the army war college today was made the occasion of simple ceremonies in the building dedicated to that institution. Secretary of War Wood presided at the ceremony, and the administration of the war department the institution for military education was inaugurated several years ago. Gen. Franklin Bell, chief of staff, and Gen. W. W. Withered, president of the college, addressed a distinguished company.

Secretary Wood declared that it was no strange thing that the capital of a country devoted to peace there should be the seat of war, greed, jealousy and spite have not yet disappeared among men, and prosperity, he said, only invites attack unless there is also the virtue manhood and capacity to defend the nation possessing it.

In order that this nation may be able to defend itself if need be, he Raw with Eczema from Birth—Fearsful Itching Lasted for Months—Treatment Futile—Walked the Floor with Him Night and Day—Wasted Away and Got Little Rest.

PERMANENTLY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"The first time I went out as a nurse was when a baby was born. He was perfectly raw all over with humor. The doctor gave us some ointment to use, but it got no better. The baby was so raw that he could not sleep. I tried to wash him with soap and water as possible; then I applied the Cuticura Ointment, and gave him small doses of Cuticura Soap. This relieved him almost at once and in a comparatively short time the baby was quite well. Now, thirteen years after, he is as healthy as a horse and he has never had any return of the disease. I have since known of a number of cases of eczema which have been cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment, as severe as this one. I have always recommended Cuticura most highly for skin troubles, and shall continue to do so. Mrs. Elizabeth Howe, Nurse, 10 Grove St., Chelsea, Mass., Nov. 15, '07."

DISFIGURING Humors, Eczemas, and Itchings Cured by Cuticura.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusts of scalp, as in dandruff; all demand a remedy of extraordinary virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills are such a remedy is proven by testimonials of remarkable cures when all else has failed.

PRES. WHEELER ON JAPANESE PROBLEM

Oriental are Worthy of All Respect and Admiration as a People and Nation.

BUT DON'T GET TOO FAMILIAR

Should Not Hurry Process of Coming To Dwell Together on the Same Soil.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 9.—Under the auspices of the students' lecture association of the University of Michigan, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California, tonight delivered an address in university hall on the subject of the Pacific ocean and its international significance.

Tonight's session marked the opening of the association's season. President Wheeler left Berkeley immediately after voting last Tuesday and on his way here he lectured in Lincoln, Neb., and Chicago. He will continue his eastward trip tomorrow, and will arrive in Washington, D. C., in time for the convention of the association of state universities, which will open Nov. 10. President Wheeler tonight spoke in part as follows:

A FAMOUS YEAR.

"The year 1898 is likely to be a date which future history will associate with. It was the year in which Russia acquired from China her right to occupy Port Arthur, and in which the United States annexed the Hawaiian Islands and took possession of Guam and the Philippines. The unfolding of the significance of 1898 attests itself to the main events of the century. The Boer war, the agreement of the powers to the 'open door' policy in China, the Boxer uprising and the Russo-Japanese war.

"I heard John Hay say in 1902, that no one who had not been intimately connected with diplomatic affairs could appreciate how profoundly English influence in the Orient had been changed. It was because we were in the Philippines, near at hand and able to readily send troops to Peking, that we were able during the Boxer trouble to assume much of the role and standing of Great Britain in the east. Because of this our influence was able to secure from England the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and proceed to build the Panama canal.

"The situation in the Pacific suffered violent dislocation through the Russo-Japanese war. At the conclusion of this contest Japan had planted its foot on the mainland of Asia and had become an empire girdling the sea of Japan. In spite of the traditional friendship with Russia, American sympathies had been strongly with Japan until the war was over. Then came a chill. The Japanese have felt it and are shocked and amazed. They had counted the United States their best friend and revered it as their early teacher. And what had caused the change? There was a complication of reasons. The Americans were doubtful whether they were to be trusted. Russia, with whom we wanted to trade, had been summarily thrust back from the Pacific shore. The American mind also asked, was it not much less likely to have an open door under Japanese than under Russian rule? Have we not been too ardent in our sympathy with Japan, and forgetting that the Russians were white and we Christians? Then came the Japanese sentimentality and aggressive vanity that have everywhere and at all times played, even at the door of our state department, in insistent visits and nagging complaints. The San Francisco school question was a most untimely fashion to give embarrassment to our government and at the same time to give peculiar irritation to the most sensitive people in the world, who declined to be classed as Mongolians or in any way to be excluded from the lives of the most favored of nations. All this came a time when Japanese immigration was increasing with startling rapidity.

OPPOSITION TO JAPANESE.

"The opposition to Japanese immigration is not a California phenomenon. Protests are also heard from Vancouver, Seattle, Valparaiso, New Zealand and Australia. It is not an academic question; it concerns the whole Pacific coast. It is a question that bodes trouble and it will not down. The Japanese will not submit to an exclusion law such as affects Chinese and herein lies a peculiar outlook for trouble, for the Japanese and the accidental rim class both together. As sentiment is at present, Californians would prefer an accession of Chinese than of Japanese. They are laborers more useful, more stable, more steadfast to agreements.

"The Japanese are absorbing the carrying trade of the Pacific at a time when our merchant flag, under the influence of hostile laws, is retreating from the seas. They are worthy of all respect and admiration as a people and as a nation, and we must abide in friendship with them and learn from them and teach them and buy of them and sell to them; but it is most that the two peoples should not hasten too much the process of coming to dwell together on the same soil and in the same commonwealth."

Prof. Wheeler declared that our relations with China have been enormously quickened by our assumption of a place in the Pacific and that the reasons therefor the actions of the United States during the Boxer troubles. He asserted that the events of our history were history were shaped for the work of evangelization.

HER SIXTH TRANCE.

Physicians Are Unable to Arouse Lucania Piette.

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 9.—Everything conceivable has been done by physicians and scientists, but nothing seems to be able to arouse Miss Lucania Piette of this city, who has now been sleeping three days.

Her case has attracted all kinds of interest from physicians and medical men, and she has been the subject of a book. This is the sixth trance. The first lasted three days. Each succeeding trance has been more protracted, the fifth, that of last June, continuing for 24 days. How long the dread influence in whose grasp she now lies will maintain its sway, none can foretell. It may end in death.

RAY LAMPHERE.

Brought Into Court to Plead to Charge Of Murdering Belle Guinness.

La Porte, Ind., Nov. 9.—Breathing for the first time in six months a fresh air outside of the prison walls, Ray Lamphere was this morning taken from the county jail to the court room to answer to the charge of murdering Belle Guinness, the first daughter of Mrs. Belle Guinness and her three children.

The courtroom was crowded with spectators. The prisoner took a hearing and very much interested as he gazed about the room at the judge and the attorneys and others. The jury box was filled by members of the regular panel who were first questioned and answered as only jurors are expected to do. The special panel of 25 was called to take its place.

Reference was made to the case of Carson, who was once employed by Mrs. Guinness, and who was said to have been killed by the same woman. The woman's mysterious disappearance was made today. The tale expected to draw him to the gallows.

TO STUDY THE ALLEGATIONS.

New York, Nov. 9.—Two years' study at first hand of the natives of the Russian Islands, and of the island of Kamchatka are to be made by Dr. Walter Jocheiser, who is passing through this city on his way from Moscow. Dr. Jocheiser, who will represent the Russian Geographical society, will study the expedition next Monday. His wife, who is a physician, will accompany him. The expedition is headed by Dr. Jocheiser, and is to consist of five persons, including his wife. Dr. Jocheiser will thoroughly study the ethnological section of the expedition.

He thinks the results of his work will be of great value in determining the relation between the North American Indians, the Eskimos and the Siberian tribes.

EX-BANKER MORSE SEEKS TO BE RELEASED

New York, Nov. 9.—Charles W. Morse, who, two years ago, was rated as being worth more than $200,000, owing to the fact that he had not enough money or securities left from his vast fortune to pay his debts. This revelation was made when Morse's attorneys appeared in the United States circuit court of appeals to argue for the admission of Morse to bail. Morse, who had been sentenced to 15 years imprisonment at hard labor in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., was not permitted to leave the Tombs prison today, but an affidavit was argued by Judge Loebe, Judge Wagoner, and the decision was reserved.

FOUGHT HARD TO RETAIN FORMULA THAT MADE MONEY

Court Decision Finally Gives Westerner Permanent Right To Remarkable Medicine.

L. T. Cooper, who believes that stomach trouble causes 90 per cent of the ill-health of the present generation, has been in New York three weeks. His claims are now admitted by an astonishing number of New Yorkers, and the young man is winning new adherents every day.

Cooper stated Tuesday that fifty thousand people in New York city alone are now trying his medicine. An hour spent at the young man's headquarters where he is meeting the public, would indicate this statement to be correct, judging from the numbers who call in that length of time.

In speaking of his success, recently, Cooper said: "I believed ten years ago that anyone who could produce a formula that would regulate the stomach would have a fortune. When I got hold of this formula I knew within a month I was right and my fortune was made. I called the medicine Cooper's New Discovery, although I did not get up the formula. I have owned it, however, for three years. I have had one lawsuit over it which I won in the Cincinnati federal court. When it was settled The Cooper Medicine Company of Dayton, Ohio, became the only company in the world that can prepare the medicine. The medicine has sold like wildfire wherever introduced. I knew it would be just as successful in New York as it was in the west. That is why I said, when I first arrived, that thousands would buy it before I left."

Statements obtained Tuesday from a number of Cooper's callers who have tried the medicine are very strong. Among them Mr. Oscar Dunnet, of 73 Nelson street, Brooklyn, was specially emphatic. He said: "I am a well man after four years' constant indigestion and stomach trouble. Anyone who has ever had indigestion knows what this means. I don't think anything about this Cooper medicine—I know. I know it had made life a different thing for me. I don't believe Cooper ever had a more skeptical man taking his medicine than I was when I started, because I had tried everything on the face of the globe trying to get relief. I naturally refused to believe the medicine was helping me the first few days. I had to admit it, however. Today I sleep like a log, have a fine appetite and can eat anything. The medicine has cured me of my ill-health almost at once."

Cooper's New Discovery is now on sale at leading drug stores throughout the United States. It has made a wonderful record. Ask your druggist for it.
