

ANENT BARLOW'S LES MISERABLES

Chief of Police Once More Comes
To the Bat With a
Denial.

NEWS AGAIN CORROBORATED.

Trusty Sticks to Story When Cross-
Examined by Two Officers at Police Headquarters.

When asked Tuesday night whether an investigation was to be made into the charges set forth in The Deseret Evening News regarding the alleged cruelty of the guards to the prisoners in the chain gang, Chief Barlow said:

"The idea of an investigation is a good one and I have made one with the result that I find that the story in The News is wrong. When any of those persons are asked if they have seen the brutality charged they all answer that they would not go on a witness stand and swear that they saw it. I find nothing but kind treatment to the prisoners and I am not going to bother my head about the charges in The News."—Salt Lake Tribune, Wednesday, Dec. 22.

The statements in The News were again corroborated, Tuesday, when Dan Simpson, now a trusty who works in the barn at the city prison, on being questioned by members of the police force, in the booking room at police headquarters, regarding Harris' abuse of the prisoners of the chain gang, said, in the presence of two patrolmen and a representative of The News: "The story in The News about Harris mistreating chain gang prisoners are true. I know it, because I have seen these things with my own eyes. When I was on the chain gang, young Anderson tried to run away. He stumbled and fell while crossing a lawn, and Harris caught him. Harris then handcuffed Anderson, tied him to his saddle, and dragged him up and down the hill until the boy bled from the nose and mouth. Harris also tied Anderson to a telephone pole and kept him bound that way in bitter cold weather for more than three hours. I have seen Harris string other prisoners up to a pole in just that same way."

If Chief of Police Barlow cares to call for a public investigation, he can summon the two patrolmen and Dan Simpson, the trusty, to ascertain whether The News is telling the truth in this case.

Cocaine which dulls the nerves never yet cured Nasal Catarrh. The heavy feeling in the forehead, the stuffed up sensation and the watery discharge from eyes and nose, along with all the other miseries attending the disease, are put to rest by Ely's Cream Balm. Smell and taste are removed, breathing is made normal. Until you try this remedy, you can form no idea of the good it will do you. It is applied directly to the sore throat, and in five minutes you can breathe freely. Ely Bros., 65 Warren Street, New York.

ONE DAIRY SCORES LOW.

City Food and Dairy Commissioner
Busy in Summit County.

Walter J. Frazier, city food and dairy commissioner, has returned from a visit to the dairies in Summit county and has found most of them in an excellent condition, except one dairy, which is conducted by Sam Redding. He was informed that his dairy would have to score 40 points by the first of the year or that his permit to sell milk in Salt Lake would be revoked. The result of the second score of these dairies is as follows:

	1st	2nd
Score	Score
Dahl Bros.	46
W. M. Williams	47
C. H. Stoven	58	64
Sam Redding	24	48
R. R. Fletcher	24	67

How One Doctor Successfully Treats Pneumonia.

"In treating pneumonia," says Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., "the only remedy I use for the lungs is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. While, of course, I would treat other symptoms with different medicines, I have used this remedy many times in my medical practice and have yet failed to find a case where it has not controlled the trouble. I have used it myself, as has also my wife for cough and colds repeatedly, and I most willingly and cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other cough remedy to my knowledge." RANGES OPEN FOR LEASE.

Notice Issued by Secretary of Land Board.

W. H. Farnsworth, secretary of the state board of land commissioners, issued the following notice Tuesday afternoon:

"The contract between the forest service of the United States and the state board of land commissioners will terminate on the first day of January, 1910, and all state lands in the forest reserves will be open for lease to the highest bidder after said date, the minimum price being 10 cents per acre. All leases will be subject to the rules and regulations of the forest service. Bids will be opened Feb. 2, 1910. All applications must be made to the state board of land commissioners, accompanied by check for first year's rental and fee of $5."

Under the present arrangement the government leases the state lands in the forest reserves for about $1,600 a year. The new policy adopted by the state board, leasing the ground on bids, will bring about $30,000 a year. The cattleman and sheepmen will be allowed to range under the supervision of the forest service.

SEE FOR YOURSELF.

There is more genuine pleasure and recreation in roller skating than in any other form of amusement. The exercise is wholesome without being severe, a fact that many prominent Salt Lake are learning. At the Auditorium rink on Richards street every precaution is taken by the management to prevent accidents to the patrons, and they are benefited physically, morally and financially. The place is free from intoxicants. Children and young boys and girls are not admitted to the evening sessions unless properly chaperoned. For 35c you can have an evening of enjoyment on the little wheels.

CARMEN SURPRISE TWO YOUNG THUGS

I. C. Neve Quick to Act With His Gun on Would-Be Holdups.

MAN A PRISONER IN THE CAR

Conductor's Capture May Be Means of Landing Man Police Have Been Looking For.

Two would-be hold-ups got the surprise of their lives when they tackled Motorman Jack Thompson and Conductor Joseph C. Neve on a Warm Springs street car last Sunday night. Instead of holding up the crew, they were themselves held up, and the street car men had all sorts of fun with the young thugs in front of a large and appreciative audience of passengers.

The would-be hold-ups boarded the car down town, and rode out to Warm Springs. One fellow stood on the front platform, and his pal remained on the rear platform. Thompson soon became suspicious of the man in front, and Neve felt that the young tough riding with him in the rear was there for no good purpose.

On reaching the end of the line, the man made a sudden reach for his right hip pocket, in the motion of pulling a gun, but Neve was too quick for him. The conductor threw his revolver down on the man like a flash, and he was a surprised hold-up.

"Say, partner, I guess the laugh's on me, all right. But I don't think that iron'll work," calmly said the robber.

"Get your hands up, and keep 'em up, or I'll drill you," said Neve.

"Mop it up, mop it up! That gat won't go off," jeered the robber, who nevertheless kept his hands in the air. "I'll show you whether this gun will work or not," said Neve, and putting the action to the word, the conductor threw his revolver barrel toward the floor and shot through the platform.

HIS HANDS SKYWARD.

"The next time I shoot, you'll be elected," said Neve, and the robber's hands at this juncture instinctively grabbed for the highest holes in the air, and the wide grin suddenly disappeared from his jeering face.

Motorman Thompson, hearing the shot, though unarmed as that time, turned instantly on the man standing on the front platform and, shoving him into his overcoat pocket, pushed violently against the man and said: "If you move a hand I'll put a hole through your stomach." The man became frightened and begged to be released.

Thompson opened the front sliding door and, running back to where Neve stood with the other would-be hold-up, said: "Well, they've got your pal, kid, and I guess it's all up with you." The robber turned a pale sheet, and lost all of his familiar bravado.

Neve and Thompson took their captive back down town with them on the street car. All druggists, Ely Bros., Ely Bros., 65 Warren Street, New York.

The police have several jobs on the follow-up of the hold-up, but refuse to divulge the exact charges as yet. Neve and Thompson refused to discuss the matter.

HULL'S NAME SENT IN.

Surveyor General Selected to Succeed Himself in Office.

The name of Thomas Hull was sent to the senate Tuesday by President Taft for appointment to the position of surveyor general for the district of Utah. It is probable that the nomination will be confirmed shortly after the holidays. The secretary of the interior speaks in the most laudatory terms of Mr. Hull's work since his appointment by President Roosevelt in 1906.

During Mr. Hull's term of office much work of the highest character has been done. At the present time the one great undertaking is the survey of the old lands in the southern part of the state, which will not be completed for another year.

Mr. Hull was born in England 54 years ago and gained his education there. At the age of 19 he came to Utah and for 15 years acted as accountant for the Z. C. M. I. For four years he was in Ogden in charge of that branch of the company's business. Before his appointment to his present position Mr. Hull was deputy city recorder.

HARD COLDS.

People whose blood is pure are not nearly so likely to take hard colds as are others. Physiology goes into the reason. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure, causing healthy action of the mucous membrane and giving strength and tone to all the organs and functions.

This great medicine recovers the system after a cold, as no other does.

BIG M. W. A. ENTERTAINMENT.

Elaborate preparations for a big entertainment to be given Dec. 30 are being made by the Modern Woodmen of America. There will be a dance, a fine program of vocal and instrumental music, and refreshments while the degree team give an exhibition drill.

Four additions were made to the membership of Great Salt Lake camp No. 10,007, at a meeting held in I. O. O. F. hall, Tuesday night, when one new member received a strenuous course of initiation, and three transfers were made to the local camp. It will be a big night for the degree team, Jan. 17, when its members will journey to Ogden to take charge of the initiation of a large class there.

"Be sure you're right," said David Crockett, "then go ahead." In this canvass for funds to complete the new Church Teachers' college, the teachers of the Brigham Young university made themselves absolutely certain of the first proposition, and hence are acting vigorously on the second.

We believe that every man and woman who has examined the situation already shares our conviction; but there may be some who are not conversant with the facts, and to these a brief statement will not be out of order.

Why do we need a university in the Church school system? The answer in brief would be, because the very genius of our religion lies summed up in the aphorism, "The glory of God is intelligence," and in that other saying of the prophet, "We are saved no faster than we gain intelligence." To stop our educational growth with high schools, is to make ourselves very capable servants, perhaps, but not aggressive leaders, in the affairs of the world, to say nothing of the greater question of eternal salvation.

But why not let the higher work of education be done by established universities all around us? The answer is, "No, do not put new wine into old wine-skins" without disastrous results—the precious vintage, necessary perhaps to the life of the world, bursts through and is lost. The strength and fervor of Latter-day Saint ideals cannot be conserved and promoted under the world's systems of thought. To the man with the Latter-day Saint point of view, the universe is as new and fresh as it was to Adam. He can, moreover, make use of all the truths men have discovered, but only by thinking them into a new perspective. The whole of God's glorious plan for regenerating the world, as revealed to Joseph Smith, lies bound up in this perspective as to the meaning of life. To cut off the study of this transcendent view of the world and its significance, with the glimpses gained of it in the Latter-day Saint high

BARLOW WAKES UP AND ARRESTS WOMEN

Street Cleaning Order Posted and Two Names Are Registered by Chief and Sheets.

At last Chief of Police Barlow has awakened to the shocking conditions that exist upon the principal streets at night, when the sidewalks are lined with women of the underworld, and has issued an order to the patrolmen to keep the women off the streets.

Barlow set the example about 10 o'clock Tuesday evening when he marched a young woman to the station and ordered her locked up. Detective Sheets also made an arrest of a similar nature but these two were all, despite the fact that Second South and State streets were thronged with these creatures.

For weeks there have been protests on the part of respectable citizens about these conditions, but the police paid little or no attention to them. Monday night there were 18 women walking along Second South between Commercial and State streets, stopping and accosting men and they did it in plain sight of two policemen who stood on the corner watching the proceedings. There were four women standing in a saloon in plain view of passersby, at 9:30. This is in violation of the law but they apparently cared nothing for that and neither did the proprietor or the police.

BOARD SELECTS NEW INSPECTOR

Eli A. Folland Chosen to Succeed
George M. Bridwell at Session Last Night.

WAS FORMER COUNCILMAN

Fourteen Applied for Position—His Predecessor Resigned, His Resignation to be Effective in January.

Eli A. Folland, formerly a member of the city council was chosen on the third ballot by the board of education Tuesday night as superintendent of buildings and grounds of the city school system. He succeeds George M. Bridwell, who resigned, and his salary will be $2,500 a year. He will assume his duties on January 1, 1910.

Mr. Folland was elected out of a field of 14 applicants. The balloting was done in a "star" chamber session before the regular meeting. He was chosen by the process of elimination, the contest being between James Devine, A. L. Hamlin and Folland. The other 11 candidates were: F. M. Ulmer, J. N. Melton, William D. Finney, E. H. Baker, T. C. Wattenstiel, John Vetterli, E. H. Evans, Charles Cusworth, J. B. Walkley, Henry Mickel and Calvin S. Price.

Mr. Folland was born in England and came here with his father when he was quite young. His father, a wheelwright in England, engaged in the furniture business when he came here and Folland entered his store when he was 11 years old. Mr. Folland engaged in the foundry business several years ago, and is now foreman of the Silver Bros. pattern shop. He served in the city council while the city and county building was being erected. He was clerk of the board of health for several years and for 13 years was clerk of the state board of medical examiners. He is 54 years old.

Ill Health is More Expensive Than any Cure.

This country is now filled with people who migrate across the continent in all directions seeking that which gold cannot buy. Nine-tenths of them are suffering from throat and lung trouble or chronic catarrh resulting from neglected colds, and spending fortunes vainly trying to regain lost health. Could every sufferer but undo the past and cure that first neglected cold, all this sorrow, pain, anxiety and expense could have been avoided. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. Use it and the more serious diseases may be avoided. For sale by all druggists.
