FRAGMENTS.

A. L. WILLIAMS now has his office in the Seals & Burton building, No. 143 East Temple Street.

JAMES KELLY, a drunken man, was arrested this morning and placed in jail to sober up.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Athalia Hyde Schofield, of Nephi, will take place tomorrow.

JOHN THORNTON is to have a preliminary hearing on Saturday, on the charge of forgery.

On Saturday the Nationals and Silver Greys will play a game of base ball on Washington Square.

THERE were five drunks before Justice Poyer today. Their names were as follows: Wm. Evans $10, John Buckland $5, John McKean $5, John Halley $5, and George Holberg $5.

THERE was a very large attendance at the Battle of Gettysburg last night. At times the building was crowded. Preparations are in rapid progress to have the building opened in the day time.

In the Third District Court today the motion of the defense to dissolve the injunction of the plaintiff, and for an injunction in their own behalf, in the case of Wm. Hurd vs. H. P. Folson et al., was being heard by Judge Zane.

The regatta will be the absorbing attraction next week. Visitors will begin to arrive on Friday, and by Thursday it may be expected that the city will be crowded to overflowing, as special rates are given in all directions by the railroads.

FRANK ROBINSON'S trial yesterday afternoon, in the Police Court, resulted in his being found guilty of petit larceny, in carrying off C. F. Hamilton's watch. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $100, and not having the money, was committed to the county jail.

Last Tuesday night some burglars broke into the window of the D. & R. G. express office, at Ogden, in search of funds. They stole two C. O. D. packages containing clothing, and the value of $15 or $20. The wrappers were found next morning in the weeds some distance from the office.

"THE WIFE" will be played at the Theatre for the first time this evening. The engagement will continue until Saturday evening. The Lyceum Company is one of the best traveling organizations on the road, and the heavy sale of tickets for tonight's performance indicate that the patronage of the Salt Lake public will be large.

Held to Answer.

The result of the preliminary examination of Neamus Nielson, of Hunter precinct, before Commissioner Norrell yesterday afternoon was that he was placed under bonds to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. His wife was also required to give bonds.

The "Exponent."

A sweet, pensive, spirituelle tone pervades the poem "Shadows and Whispersings," by "E. B. W.," which appears in the last number of the Exponent. There are some exquisite sentiments and fine passages in this piece. A continuation of the report of the proceedings of the memorial anniversary of the Relief Society of Ogden is given, and occupies much of the space of the number. Some excellent selected and editorial matter, and a number of communicated articles are given. It is a good number.

Death from Blood Poisoning.

John, a son of James Warby, of North Creek, cut a gash about 1 1/2 inches in length just below the knee of the left leg, nearly three months ago. For about two weeks no particular attention was paid to the wound, but soon it became so painful as to demand attention. Dr. Wendesale was called in. He found pus channeled formed above and below the knee, which were opened. Blood poisoning had set in, and soon the young man was forced to his bed. The doctor has been untiring in his attention, but TEASDEL'S has taken the young man passed to his final sleep on Wednesday evening about 5 o'clock. -Beaver Union.

THE STAKE ACADEMY.

Its Increased Facilities for Instruction.

The ready response made to the notice regarding the Salt Lake Stake Academy already published testifies more strongly than words could do to the interest felt by our people in this institution. It is a school such as we want; in it the principles of thorough education are inculcated in connection with the precepts of true religion, and the principles of the Latter-day work. For the present school year a new and advanced department has been established, and the best facilities are provided for thorough teaching. The branches announced are Science, mathematics and language receive their share of attention at the hands of competent instructors. Prof. Jas. E. Talmage is the principal of the Academy and has special charge of the academic department, bestowing his chief attention on the scientific branches. His experience as a teacher, and the great success which has attended his labors in the B. Y. Academy at Provo, amply assure us of the careful management and efficient instruction here. For this department special arrangements have been made. The best apparatus is provided for instruction in physics, all of it new, and of latest design; and we are safe in saying that the collection will be one of the most complete and valuable to be found in any institution of similar grade in the west. Besides this, a most elaborate cabinet of rocks and minerals is provided, arranged with particular reference to thorough study of the geology and mineralogy of Utah. Practical instruction is offered in general and analytical chemistry, and a proper laboratory is fitted for the same.

Prominent among the apparatus for lecture illustrations are instruments for the study of the natural forces, sound, heat, light and electricity being most fully provided for. We may mention particularly a first class air-pump with all accessories; the latest form of electric machines, batteries, coils and all important and typical electric instruments; an improved microscope with fittings. Pumps, gauges, barometers, magnets, compasses, sonometers, mirrors, lenses, etc., etc., are there in ample number.

Charts, manikins, and natural preparations are arranged for the study of that important branch—human physiology. The other departments, preparatory and collegiate, are conducted as usual, and their past success is known to all the patrons of the school.

We confidently hope to see the classrooms of every department filled from the shores and we bid the Academy a continued and uninterrupted growth as a Latter-day Saint school.

Theft by a Small Girl.

This morning a 12-year-old girl named Lizzie Wilson was before Justice Poyer on a charge of larceny. She had gone into Simons' store in the Evening Ward, and while the clerk was engaged in the store-room had climbed over the counter and extracted about $8 from the till. This was on Tuesday. She was not under suspicion of the theft, but this morning was caught in the act of robbing the money drawer, and when accused confessed to having taken the money on Tuesday. She had spent part of it for a pair of shoes, which, with nearly all of the cash, were turned over to the storekeeper. When the child was taken before the Police Justice she told a pitiable story. Her clothing was scant and she was barefooted. Her parents live at South Cottonwood, but her home has been anything but a pleasant one. She has been almost entirely without parental care, and frequently ill-treated. She came to the city to live with her grandmother, but was permitted to run perfectly wild. She told how she took the money, and promised that she would not again be guilty. In view of her circumstances, sentence was suspended. An application will be made by the city to have the Probate Judge appoint a guardian for the child, as her parents will not care for her, and if possible she may be turned over to her waywardness. Her mother, Mary Wilson, came to the City Hall and took the child away. Mrs. Wilson was also there last night, but on a different errand. She was begrimed with dirt, her clothing torn and disheveled, and she bore every appearance of having been on a drunken spree. She said she had lost her cat, and the officers hunted it up for her. It had been tied back of a portable house that stands west of the Opera House, on Second South Street. The woman has been in the city jail several times for drunkenness.

Elder E. Z. Taylor Buried.

At 9:30 Tuesday evening the remains of Elder Edmund Taylor arrived at Ogden via the D. & R. G. The widow and relatives met the remains at the depot. They were taken from there to Undertakers Larkins & Lindquist's establishment and prepared for burial. Elder Taylor had been absent from home about eighteen months. During that time he labored in the Southern States as a missionary. The greater portion of his time was spent in Virginia. He was taken with dumb chills and fever, caused by exposure to which he succumbed on August 19th. The news was telegraphed to Chattanooga. A metallic coffin was once obtained by Elder A. J. Crocker, then at the office in Chattanooga. He left Elder Miles Jones, who had just arrived from the Territory of Utah, to have the coffin brought to the office. On the night of the 18th Elder J. C. Harper, of Payson, Utah, started for home in charge of the coffin, and arrived at Memphis, Tenn., where he was met by Elder H. Jones. Upon reaching Memphis they learned that the express office had refused to take the coffin, and it had been left at Chattanooga. This caused a delay of twenty-four hours. On the evening of the 17th the remains were forwarded, reaching Memphis on the 18th. Kansas City on the 19th. Burial on the 20th and Ogden on the evening of the 21st.

Yesterday the remains were taken to cemetery. Burial was held at Harrieville in connection with those over Mrs. Rawson. The procession left the grave of the latter, was closed up, and followed Elder Taylor's earthly tabernacle to the grave, where a impressive service was held. -Ogden Standard, Aug. 23.

The woman in McKean County, this State, who has been living in the same house for a number of years, and who should organize a mine and challenge some Chicago woman to a game of baseball. -Oil City Bitzer.

A DISTRESSING CASE.

That Appeals to the Benevolently Disposed.

RICHFIELD, Aug. 21st, 1888.

Editor Deseret News:

Enclosed you will find a card addressed to you, from Broder Cyrus E. Dunn, of Pittsburgh, Pa., stating the death of his infant and only boy, William Wallace Dunn, born at Richfield, Utah, August 12th, 1888, at 2:35 a. m. (cause not stated).

Brother Dunn lost a little girl about a year ago, has four little girls left, three of whom were sick at the time of the loss, and the loss of the boy was a poor circumstance, at times almost forced to put his family on the public support. He is an honest man and would be very thankful if some good brother, who is able, would advance him money to pay his emigration and he would head sheep or do anything to get it back. His address is Cyrus E. Dunn, 417 Cedar Street, South Ward, Pittsburgh, E. E. Pa.

Yours respectfully,

V. E. BEAN.

Webster Notes.

Last Tuesday a little six-year-old daughter of Mr. Heber White met with a very painful accident. She was climbing a pear tree when she missed her hold and fell to the ground, breaking her collar bone. Dr. Williams was summoned and set the bone.

While hauling hay at Harrieville last Monday, Edward Keyes aged 15, met with a severe accident. Going over a rough spot of ground the doubletires broke and the team started on a run. Clinging to the lines the boy was dragged from the load to the ground, breaking his arm at the wrist. The animal then chose its own course, running through a wire fence several times. Dr. John Driver set the broken arm and made the patient as comfortable as possible.

Last Monday while Mr. J. L. Phillips, an employe of the Southern Pacific Company at Terrace, was at work on the road, he was struck by a heavy weight which fell on his hand maiming it fearfully. He was sent to Ogden, where he arrived late Monday night. Dr. Brant met him at the Central Hotel and attended to his injuries. The doctor was unable to remove the weight, and it became necessary to amputate the hand, but it would be some time before he would fully recover the use of it.

A few months ago a widow with four small children, a team, covered by a tent and a few household articles arrived here from Iowa. She came to the Salt Lake River country, where she expected to get some land and seek a living for herself and her children. She failed, however, in meeting with the success she had anticipated and had now received a letter from her husband, who was in a fearful state of starvation. Some of the good people who live near the river, where the widow and her children pitched her tent, have given the children some clothing and food. Yet they had nothing but bread to subsist on. The unfortunate woman, bereft of her husband, with the care of four children heavily weighing upon her, feels disheartened. She is without any means of support, and is looking to the future very despairingly. She has friends in Oregon, but no way of getting that far. Here is a splendid opportunity for our philanthropists. Those who feel inclined can perform a good deed by sending her a letter to Ogden in a destitute condition. There should be no need for any to suffer the pangs of hunger in a country so well supplied with the necessities of life as this is. Let not the weak struggle alone while the strong are able to ease their trials. -Ogden Standard, Aug. 22.

Oroville, Cal., Aug. 18.—Ellis Ford is said to be a woman who has been an inmate of the Butte County lunatic asylum, August 18, 1888, Elizabeth, Scotland, April 6, 1846, and was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, April 6, 1846. The funeral took place at Brigham City on the 17th inst., and was largely attended by her friends.
