

COMMITTEE TELLS OF RELIEF EFFORTS

Report Shows What Good Work
Was Done for San Francisco People.

MONEY AND SUPPLIES GIVEN.

Many Tons of Provisions and Clothing
Sent to Sufferers, and Sum of $18,000 is on Hand.

A report of the executive committee of the local San Francisco relief organization has been submitted to Mayor Ezra Thompson. The amount of cash subscriptions, as turned over to Treasurer W. S. McCormick was $41,356.67. All of this, with the exception of $18,190.81, was used here in taking care of refugees, purchasing and forwarding of supplies and meeting expenses of the Utah headquarters in Oakland. $15,000 was sent to Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, and the balance, $3,190.81 will be forwarded as soon as the committee completes its labors. Following is the report, as sent to Mayor Thompson:

REPORT TO THOMPSON.

This committee is preparing to bring to an early close the organized relief work for San Francisco sufferers undertaken a month ago by the Elks' club citizens' movement, the governor's committee, the commercial club, the Deseret News and Salt Lake Herald, and other affiliating sympathizers whose contributions of money, food supplies, clothing and equipment have been handled by the California relief committee of Salt Lake. The list of the money contributions to date is $41,356.67. These have all been paid in to Treasurer W. S. McCormick. The figures contained in these statements must speak to you, as they have spoken to us of a community-wide sympathy and splendid generosity which we cannot refrain from commending upon in view of the fact that the money offerings represent less than half of the local giving to sufferers through the great disaster.

IMMENSE SHIPMENTS.

In the early stages of the work the local newspaper appeals for supplies and clothing seriously taxed, in the prodigality of responses made, both the ability of our shipping committee and the equipment department of the Oregon Short Line railway. Tons upon tons of bread and other edibles, collected by the school children at the suggestion of school principals, were forwarded daily, as well as tens of thousands of articles of wearing apparel, while definite information as to the needs of sufferers was lacking. It was impossible in the flood of giving to acknowledge or record such donations. They were received and handled with dispatch and their bulk alone is noted elsewhere here and the appreciation of the recipients is indicated by the following letter:

"Lafayette Park Relief Committee, 2220 Washington St., San Francisco, May 9, 1906.

"Dear Sir: We have been receiving from your city an immense quantity of provisions, including a large number of loaves of bread, with the names of the donors pasted on them. We have also received flour and canned goods. We cannot possibly thank each donor, but we trust you will see that all are properly cared for. All the goods from your city arrived in absolutely perfect condition, and there was not a particle of waste in the distribution. With the thanks of the committee, we are very respectfully yours,

HENRY J. CROKER."

Upon the receipts of appeals for particular supplies on April 20, this committee authorized purchases of staple food stuffs, clothing, blankets and other bedding, as well as some camp equipment, all of which were promptly forwarded. Throughout the movement of these supplies, which totaled 37 cars, we have been constantly advised, aided and assisted in every way by the general superintendent's department of the Oregon Short Line with unfailing courtesy, as to the transportation, condition and disposition of consignments carrying perishables.

Accompanying statements of coast officials indicate that our contributions arrived speedily in good condition and were distributed without waste.

Kindly observe from the accompanying voucher list that for every purchase made, as above stated, a bill has been rendered against this committee, which has been paid by a warrant drawn upon Treasurer McCormick, bearing a sequence number. No payment from the California relief fund has been otherwise made, and all bills and warrants have been numerically listed and are herewith transmitted for your examination, future reference and file.

Accounts payable to an aggregate of $23,190.76 have been presented to this committee and paid. All of these were for supplies forwarded, as shown by the accompanying list and vouchers, except $1,387.60, which was disbursed by the local relief committee in feeding 2,632 coast refugees and providing them with medicine and other supplies (and the latter unfortunately were also supplied with clothing and blankets to the value of $1,250), and the further sum of $730 appropriated by this committee for the establishment and maintenance of Utah headquarters in Oakland.

HELD BY TREASURER.

The unexpended balance held by Treasurer McCormick is $18,190.81. Additional contributions from outside cities, together with collections (related) of local subscriptions, will add considerably to this balance. This committee expresses the hope that the early closing of its work, as herein announced, will hasten rather than hinder future payments. It seems certain from coast reports that both supplies and money in large quantities and sums will be needed for some time to come by the authorities caring for those dependents. We have satisfied ourselves, however, through the telegraphic correspondence immediately following, that money remittances are at present most likely to prove helpful. The messages referred to read as follows:

"Salt Lake City, May 19, 1906. Mayor Schmitz, San Francisco, Cal.—After paying for supplies shipped your committee, have about $15,000 cash on hand. Shall we purchase additional supplies, as you direct, or send money."

"T. G. WEBBER, "Chairman Executive Committee."

"San Francisco, Cal., May 14, 1906. T. G. Webber, Citizens' Committee, Salt Lake, Utah.—Telegram received. Send money instead of supplies. Sincere gratitude from our people for your prompt and great kindness."

"SCHMITZ, Mayor."

REMITTED TO PHELAN.

Accordingly, we are sending to Chairman Phelan today $15,000, and will remit the remainder of the fund when outstanding collections and forthcoming contributions are all in, and final shipments of supplies have been sent out. Respecting the latter, but one car remains to be filled and forwarded. This will contain supplies bought by the citizens of Bingham with money contributions there, an invoice of substantialities donated by the good people of Willard, the final collection of clothing and garments made by the Women's Relief society and other supply offerings. It may be necessary to complete the loading of this car by purchase, and as scattering refugees are still a tax upon the relief committee for subsistence, slight additional drafts upon the remaining fund must be made.

Before closing this report, permit us to allude again to the broadness of the sympathy displayed in this community for the coast sufferers, as well as its depth, and to make specific mention of the commendable spirit with which all this relief work was undertaken and is being kept up to the end by the various committee workers. In the gathering of funds and supplies, and in the caring for arriving refugees, Salt Lake's best and busiest people, men and women, have borne prominent and continuous parts. The Women's Relief and the Red Cross societies of Salt Lake worked independently of the combined movement, forwarding their first supplies direct; but many of their subsequent large collections passed through the general shipping department, thereby greatly increasing the volume of the committee's consignments.

READY RESPONSES.

All collections of money made by the Salt Lake Herald and Deseret Evening News were turned over to Treasurer McCormick, and the fund in the hands of the latter was further augmented by the donations of nearby cities and towns, and their subscription lists, attached. The latter also show the money collections made by several men and women here in Salt Lake, whose important services the committee desires to acknowledge in this way for lack of a better one. Among these we beg to mention the collections of Mesdames W. S. Henderson and Moon, $44.25; Mrs. J. R. Walker, $142; Mr. W. Mont, $44.50; Mrs. Lafayette Hanchett, $252.50; Mrs. F. L. Hines, $78.75; and Mesdames Tom Pitt and Captain Reid, $1.61. In like manner we point out the services rendered by the transportation committee, and the local relief committees, which handled the supplies and fed and otherwise cared for arriving refugees. The labor entailed was enormous and it exclusively occupied the time of the leading members for weeks; but the work was completely, systematically and excellently done by Chairman T. D. Pitt, C. R. Cleaveland, C. S. Pulver, G. R. Hancock, Thomas Homer and a score of co-workers. Acknowledgment is also due many others who have rendered this and other commendable and able aid in this work. A complete list of these kindly hearted people, however, would greatly lengthen this report and extend it to undesirable bounds. It is therefore withheld.

With this partial report of the relief work to you and the generous public, we respectfully announce that the committee desires to close up its labors next Wednesday, submit a final accounting and ask for a discharge for itself and all reporting committees.

Faithfully yours,
T. G. WEBBER,
J. G. McDONALD,
J. C. LEARY,
Executive Committee.

Salt Lake, May 18, 1906.

ALLEN ON APPENDICITIS.

Well Known Surgeon Writes of it and Of the Case of Ray Williamson.

The Deseret News is in receipt of a communication from Dr. Samuel H. Allen, in which that gentleman writes on appendicitis and how it may be avoided in a very great many instances, and of the case of Ray Williamson in particular. During the week the local newspapers contained an account of his demise and made the statement that he had been ill at the L. D. S. hospital with appendicitis. He was at this institution some time but Dr. Allen says he did not have appendicitis. Commenting upon the case he says:

Here are the facts: I sent this man to the hospital one week before he died, suffering with severe abdominal pain, fever 104, and great prostration supposed to be due to inflammation of the liver, gall bladder, stomach and possibly appendix. After three days of rest and keeping his stomach empty save a little water, his pain left and his fever subsided. After this his good appetite seemed to be his worst trouble. Against his wishes and the wishes of his family he was kept at the hospital four days longer as it appeared to all the man was well. He went home Monday and on arriving there was seized with terrible distress in his chest, and died in a few minutes.

It being such a strange case the like of which I had never seen, I asked his wife and mother to allow me to make a post mortem examination to find the cause of death. They are very intelligent people and readily agreed to this. I examined the liver, gall bladder, stomach, appendix, kidneys, spleen and pancreas, but still found no cause of the fearfully sudden death of this big, apparently well man. I next examined the lungs and found them normal, but on opening the heart found the cause of death. It was a large, firm blood clot plugging completely the blood vessel which leads from the right chamber of the heart into the lungs. The liver, gall bladder and stomach showed evidences of inflammation, due to drinking liquor. Now from this inflammation a clot had formed in one of the large veins lead-

CHILD-WIFE BEING TRIED FOR MURDER.

New York state may soon again be confronted by the necessity of putting a woman to death.

Two months ago Josephine Terranova, a 17-year-old girl, killed her uncle, Gaetano, and her aunt, Concetta, in New York City, where she is now being tried for their murder. Since her imprisonment no dread of court nor the fate that may await her therein has seemed to trouble the young woman, for she is as blithe as she was on the day the news was taken to her that the doctors had failed to keep life in her aunt, upon which she rejoiced.

Giuseppe Terranova, the girl's husband, who drove her from his side when Gaetano Riglio told him the horrible story of the life that had been hers since her eleventh year, it is expected now, will stand by her.

ing to the heart. This clot had loosened and floated on into the heart and caused the sudden death.

Every man owes some duty to the age and community in which he lives. I deem it my duty to ally as much fear as possible. Your headline—"Appendicitis Fatal"—struck fear and terror into the hearts of many. I want to strike that fear out again because it will keep many a man from die from appendicitis. He was not even operated on at the L. D. S. hospital. Mr. Editor, if you could go this day with the three hundred and fifty thousand American physicians on their daily rounds among the sick, and if you could see the anxious, often frightened relatives waiting with bated breath until the doctor makes his decision; if it is not appendicitis, and hear the fervent thank God, you would use your pen every day to strike dead that terrible monster fear of appendicitis.

I want here to repeat what I said two months ago about appendicitis. The best treatment of this disease is to prevent it. Drink from three to six glasses of cool, boiled water a day, eat a proper amount of well cooked nourishing food, chewing it very thoroughly. Eat meat very sparingly. Take plenty of brown bread, fruit, grains, nuts, vegetables, milk, eggs and fish, leaving tobacco and stimulants including tea and coffee severely alone. This plan will keep the bowels regular and will prevent hundreds of cases of appendicitis every year. For a well developed case of appendicitis an operation properly done in the first 48 hours will save about 98 out of every 100 cases.

I will repeat again—when the first symptoms of appendicitis come on—right sided pain, tenderness and rigidity of the muscles, vomiting and fever with right leg drawn up, the proper thing to do is to keep the stomach empty—entirely empty—no food, no water, no medicine. After 24 hours sips of water are allowed. The physicians who give an opiate at this stage makes a grave error—he puts out the signal lights of nature which show the trained physician the exact condition of the sufferer. To give morphine or any opiate during the pain, makes the symptoms and often carries the patient along in a state of false security over into such a dangerous condition that in spite of the best skill in the world the case will prove fatal no matter what is done.

The doctor should see the case in the first 24 hours, and decide what is best to be done. If you are not going to call a physician, keep the stomach empty for nearly a week, give water through the syringe and allow a few sips by mouth if the stomach will retain it, but not otherwise. Give no physic until after the third day, and then only use the syringe, keeping the physic away until the pain and tenderness are gone.

DESPERATE EFFORT TO OBTAIN MONEY

Believed That "Americans" Will Sell City's Unimproved
Real Estate.

IN VERY SORE STRAITS NOW.

Faithful Who Voted Against Matter a Week Ago Have Been Whipped
Into Line by Bosses.

It is the general belief among those acquainted with the financial distress of the city, caused by the extravagance of the "American" administration, that a desperate effort will be made to sell practically all of the city's unimproved real estate not actually needed for municipal purposes so that the general fund of the city, which now has an overdraft against it of nearly $30,000, may be replenished. The mayor has approved the sale of real estate made on Thursday night to C. L. Rood so there is no question as to his stand in such matters. A week ago the council refused to adopt the report of the committee recommending the sale of the land to Mr. Rood on the ground that the rapid increase in the value of real estate would warrant the city in holding the land until some future time. The report of City Auditor Alf was submitted to the finance committee, however, after that time and it showed the city to be in very sore straits financially.

Upon the showing made in the report it was deemed advisable by the leaders of the "American" party in the council to sell the land and accordingly by those of the faithful who voted against the matter a week ago were brought into line and voted for the sale on Thursday night.

The report of Former Land and Water Commissioner Ben D. Luce shows that on Dec. 31, 1905, the city owned unimproved land not really needed for municipal purposes of the total value of $76,337.02. As the administration needs the money it will probably sell a large portion of the city's real estate and use the money for the general fund so as to make up the deficit in that fund.

By increasing the tax levy for the general fund to 5 mills, which is the limit by law, it is estimated that there will be a shortage of nearly $100,000 in the money required for the general running expenses of the city for the ensuing year. Hence with the sale of all the real property nearly enough can be realized to make up that deficit.

Mayor Thompson, during his previous administration, sold real estate of the value of $150,000, so it appears that he is heartily in accord with that method of raising money for city purposes.
