COOLING
Cakes of ice from the mountains are floating down the Missouri river.

The recent railroad accident in Mississippi was caused by an official going to sleep.

"You lie like a tombstone," was once a common expression. "You lie like a cable dispatch," has superseded it and is more expressive.

A man lately jumped off the Clifton suspension bridge in England, height, 250 feet, in emulation of Sam Patch, and, like him, came to grief.

An observer of human nature reports that he has seen some people possessing the peculiarity of three hands—a right hand, a left hand and a little behind hand.

"Will you take sunding?" said a German teetotaler to a friend, while standing near a tavern, "I don't care if I do," was the reply. "Well, den, let's take a walk."

"Mamma, can a door speak?" Certainly not, my dear. Then why did you tell Anne, this morning, to answer the door?" "It is time for you to go to school, my dear."

Oil City, Pa., has christened a new baby Petrolia Ann. It is to you in this way we shall soon have Garysen, and then Benjamin Zenas will be shortened to Benzene.

It may not be generally known that sundews possess the power of purifying the air. A few rows of this plant have in Italy produced favorable results to the health of the neighborhood.

A playful and powerful man at work in the Kittery navy yard threw his arms over a companion's waist, and gave him such a hearty squeeze as to injure him internally so that the man died. No harm was intended.

On Holt Bridge, situated between Meriden and Yaleville, Conn., a woman was killed by a train. The woman was the wife of Nathan Fenn, aged 38, who died September 15—passed S. M. This inscription is undoubtedly a hoax.

Johnny Steele, an ex-oil prince, may now be seen any day in the oil regions on the high spring seat of a wagon loaded with barrels of oil. He drives teams for a living, his dress is suited to his business; he has no look of faded gentility about him, and is altogether more respectable than when he was a spendthrift millionaire.

The war having caused a paucity of hands for field work, the prisoners in Germany have volunteered to work on canals or landed estates, for which services they receive pay and lodging. Their labor gives satisfaction. The Turcos are too much akin to the kings of the desert to suit their hands with anything so vulgar as common labor, though strong as bulls.

This is from a Santa Fe paper: Death, with fleshless knuckles, rapped at the door of Mrs. J. N. B. and, obedient to the inexorable summons, the spirit of the loved woman floated up to its creator, leaving her husband, children and friends to mourn over the mortal casket. Such an obituary robs death of its terrors.

The sermon preached by the German Royal Garrison Chaplain of Berlin, the Rev. Emil Froumberg, on the day of the victorious entry, has just been published. It pays a warm tribute to the Queen of Prussia—"She hath done what she could." The audience were invited to "lighten by your demeanor the heavy lot which has befallen this city, and show that generosity towards a fallen foe is the finest ornament of the warrior."

A Christian was brought before a magistrate for an unprovoked assault on a Jew. "What did he do that you should knock him down?" asked the Judge. "Don't you know he is one of the bloody Jews that crucified our Saviour?" "But," retorted the magistrate, "that happened nearly two thousand years ago." "Did it? Why I only heard of it last night," answered the over-zealous convert.

A question has been raised as to the fate of aeronauts if captured—whether they should be treated as ordinary prisoners of war or shot for carrying news to the enemy. Their situation is sufficiently hazardous to be very exciting, and would almost have terrified Sir Charles Coldstream, in the play of "Used Up," who was so deplorably in want of a new sensation, and having been up a year and a half in the air, he was declared "that there" nothing in it. "There's something in hovering over the Russian lines amid showers of bullets."

The London "Church Review" says: "When we see a person we instinctively look at his neck, and we sum him up accordingly. There are persons with cravats and collars; there are a rule, Low Church; and there are persons with cravats and no collars; these are as a rule, Broad Church. We do not, of course, pretend that this is an exact classification, but the general principle is sufficiently accurate for general purposes."

A distinguished clergyman, of the Universalist denomination, was recently dragged by his wife from a revival meeting, and compelling her to go home with him. He replied: "First, I have never accepted to influence my wife in her views, nor her choice of a meeting. Secondly, my wife has not attended any of the revival meetings in Lowell. Thirdly, I have not attended any one of these meetings for my purpose whatever. Fourthly, for my purpose, I have never attended any of these meetings. And fifthly, I never had a wife."

BISMARCK INSISTS ON RETIRING FROM OFFICE!

A Protracted and Sanguinary Battle!
The Prussians have taken 1,500 prisoners!

A NEW AND TERRIBLE DISEASE!
WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, 5.—It is stated positively by a person in a position to know, that the English mission has not been offered to any person since Norton declined it.

NEW YORK.
WASHINGTON, 5.—The Tribune's correspondent at Versailles on the 1st instant writes: There was a serious quarrel between the Prussian division on the east of Paris, between the Seine and Marne, which resulted in leaving the French in possession of the villages about Briere-Marne. The Germans say they must retake these at any cost. The French occupied the line on the right and left of Ormeson; they were driven back, and had to support the investment line which had been broken.

The French merely gained a better foothold for their future spring. Their great want is space to deploy their forces. A very hard fight took place at the same time north of Paris. The French sailed out against the fourth Prussian corps. The attack was repulsed and prisoners were taken by the Prussians. The loss of the French was heavy including seventeen officers. Frederick Charles' operations, though not unsuccessful, are much hindered by the heavy roads. The army is fatigued by long marches. To-day all is quiet in the southern front of Paris. The first shell was fired into the city yesterday from the Bavarian batteries, near Brailion; it was accidental. The Prussians arrived yesterday to no more guns at present at such a range. If the French try more sorties there will probably be a sharp attack on the out-lying defenses of the city.

Odo Russell continues to receive most emphatic assurances of the neutrality of Prussia on the Eastern question. The Tribune's correspondent at Pesh, on the 1st writes: Constantinople advises say that the Porte is likely to accept the conference under conditions. The Tribune's correspondent, at St. Petersburg, on Sunday afternoon, says: Grandville's reply to Gortschakoff's second note was delivered yesterday. It insists that Gortschakoff admits by his answer that his position is wrong in law and comports to a conference, only on the understanding that Russia will withdraw her original circular and her pretension to the right of separate action, and the conference before the conference, and to be decided without previous pledges. Otherwise, the English think it a diplomatic victory. The position is still delicate.

The correspondent of the Tribune telegraphs from Berlin, on Tuesday afternoon: The King telegraphs to the Queen that no fighting occurred yesterday at Paris. The French are missing troops from Vincennes. During the night of December 2nd the French lost 800 prisoners, including one General and twenty superior officers. Besides seven guns. The bombardment of Belfort has commenced. Nothing new has been received from the army of the Loire. The military situation, among best informed circles, is deemed critical. Bismarck has been ordered to march to Paris.

It is stated on good authority that Bismarck insists that he must and will retire from office until the convention with the South German States is signed.

ILLINOIS.
CHICAGO.—There is great excitement in Chicago over the death, yesterday, of a lady in that city by a new and strange disease, after weeks of terrible suffering. A post mortem examination discovered an immense number of parasites, animalcules, filling every portion of the body. The physician decides that it is not trichinosis, the parasites not resembling these, and the patient not having been in any way exposed to having ingested food.

PORTUGAL.
LISBON, 2.—It is said the Queen has telegraphed to the Spanish minister at Madrid with the Spanish minister.

GREAT BRITAIN.
French and Prussian losses.
LONDON, 3.—The Prussians losses from the 26th to the 2nd are about 1,500 Four regiments, the 10th, 106th, 107th and 108th, lost fifty officers killed and sixty-three wounded. The French prisoners taken number 3,000.

BEFORT, 3.—The bombardment began at Versailles on Saturday night. The French before Versailles were reinforced on Friday. In the night the 10th division took seven guns and 1,800 prisoners, including one general and two staff officers.

LILLE, 4.—The Prussians in the north have retreated toward Rheims. Lyons, 3.—There was fighting all day on Saturday between Artois, Artois and Le Duc. General Cremer actively pursued the enemy.

TOURNAI, 4.—The second Prussians have captured Fermeux, Greilleville, Nonville, Ville Plain and Beulin. It is reported there was heavy fighting yesterday. The Prussians have lost three-quarters of a battalion. Charlotte is wounded.

Gambetta has gone to Orleans to consult with the officers of the army of the Loire.

A battle on Friday, in which the sixteenth and seventh corps were engaged, was protracted and sanguinary. The Prussians were on both sides. The army of the Loire will receive large reinforcements.

It is rumored that Ducrot is still near Paris and has been reinforced, and will speedily take the offensive.
