

ILLEGAL VOTERS TO BE ARRESTED.

Committee Appointed to Investigate Residence of a Long List of Alleged Bogus Citizens.

WARRANTS TO BE SWORN TO.

County Attorney to be Asked to Take Immediate Action in the Matter—Who Culpable Are.

There have been very many charges in circulation the last two days with reference to running in of numerous bogus citizens at the Republican primaries. That a great deal of it was done is true beyond question. The proof is forthcoming in several instances. And in one case at least a strong affidavit to that effect has been made. It is signed by J. P. Wessing, who runs a roominghouse at 254-6 west South Temple.

It appears that H. Adams, Thomas Williams, J. J. Chapman, P. A. Williams, H. A. McDonald, John Macken, Thomas McDonald and A. P. Lewis, or men representing themselves as such, attended and voted at the Twenty-eighth district primaries. They swore that they resided at Mr. Wessing's lodging house. Investigation proved the contrary to be true. The same kind of work was indulged in in wholesale fashion throughout the city with the result that an open rebellion has been arrayed against the practice.

WARRANTS OF ARREST.

A committee on investigation was appointed today, in the persons of ex-Congressman George Sutherland, D. H. Wenger, W. H. McCrea, Sheriff Frank Emery, O. J. Salisbury and Allan P. Sanford. One session was held this afternoon, and the committee is meeting again this afternoon. At this afternoon's meeting it was decided to wait on the county attorney without delay, and secure warrants for the arrest of the man who was reported to have been in the Twenty-eighth district. There are several more of them in addition to the names already given.

CONTEST COMING.

There will also be a contest in the Third precinct convention tonight, and in the convention tomorrow over the election of the delegates from this district. These consisted of A. P. Doremus, H. R. Hancock, F. A. Olsen, J. D. Harrison, J. D. Hagman, J. R. Morris, J. Howard Garrett and Tony Wheeler, the latter a saloon keeper. They all went through on a crooked state. Messrs. Doremus, Hancock and Garrett declare they were not parties to the procedure and know nothing of it.

TREMENDOUS SINK.

Reported That 1,000 Feet of the Lucin Cut-Off Has Gone Down.

Word was brought to this city today by a thoroughly reliable man who says he has seen with his own eyes that concerning which he speaks. His declaration is that on Sunday last 1,000 feet of the completed grade work of the Lucin cut-off, immediately east of Promontory, sunk for an average depth of seven feet, or pretty nearly half-way from the surface to the water level. This, he says, was at a point heretofore considered absolutely safe and unshakable.

OGDEN KNOWS NOTHING.

Inquiry at the Ogden office of the Southern Pacific this afternoon brought out the information that nothing had been heard of the reported settling there. However, such things are not always reported immediately on their occurrence, as means of communication between the cut-off and the Ogden office are not the best. Besides, there has been so much settling in the cut-off of late that such an occurrence is regarded as merely ordinary.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not be without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." Miss Ada Dorr, Sidney, Iowa.

"Rheumatism affected my right knee so I could hardly walk and I suffered four years. Medicines did not give relief and the disease grew worse and penetrated all through my body. I got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it did me so much good I got two more. When I had taken them I was cured and can now do my work with satisfaction." Wm. A. Carr, Edgewood, Md.

JONES MUST SHOW CAUSE.

Brigham City Attorney Cited Before the Supreme Court.

The supreme court has issued a citation to Attorney Rice L. Jones of Brigham City, ordering him to show cause on Wednesday, Oct. 23, why he should not be disbarred for alleged unprofessional conduct, charges of which were preferred against him by the Utah State Bar association. The order was mailed to the sheriff of Boxelder county yesterday afternoon by the clerk of the supreme court for service upon Mr. Jones today.

The court has sustained the motion to dismiss the appeal in the case of Joseph Doregaard, appellant, vs. Louis M. Olsen and has ordered the same dismissed.

MORTENSEN CASE AGAIN.

Certificate of Probable Cause of Appeal Will be Argued Friday.

The motion for a certificate of probable cause of appeal in the case of the state vs. Peter Mortensen was filed in the district court this afternoon by Attorney B. J. Stewart and a copy was served upon District Attorney Eichnor. The motion will be argued before Judge Morse on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock or as soon thereafter as it can be heard. It is asked by the attorneys for Mortensen that the certificate be issued and the execution stayed, so as to enable defendant to appeal his case to the supreme court, for the reason that there is probable cause for appeal because of the misconduct of the jurors which was prejudicial to the rights of defendant.

District Attorney Eichnor will oppose the issuing of the certificate of probable cause and it is expected that the arguments will be very interesting. Should the certificate be granted, defendant will have six months within which to perfect his appeal. Mr. Stewart stated today, however, that he has everything in readiness in regard to the appeal so that should the certificate be granted, it can be filed in the supreme court at once. Should Judge Morse refuse to issue the certificate then the judges of the supreme court will be asked to issue it. Falling in, the attorneys for defendant will have to give up the fight and Mortensen will have to be executed on the date set by the court, namely, Nov. 20.

WAGNER AND HIS RARE WORK.

"Parsifal" and the Controversy That Has Arisen Out of It—A Semi-Religious Production.

Madame Lillian Nordica, the greatest of American singers, arrived in the Pullman car Pilgrim this morning, from Denver, over the Union Pacific and shortly after reaching this city she was waited on by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Newhouse with their automobile, and with her manager and Mrs. Katharine Plisk were treated to a ride about town and shown the principal features of the local attractions. Madame Nordica was delighted with the ride, and said she noticed many changes along the line of public improvement since her last visit to Salt Lake, some nine years ago.

The distinguished singer and party were taken to the Newhouse mansion on east South Temple street where they were entertained at lunch, and later at Wagner struggled during his lifetime, and how poor he was in the earlier part of his career. It was then that many of his works sold for small sums of money—for instance, the Meistersinger being disposed of for $50. And it was only towards the end of his life that Richard Wagner began to realize his great ambition. During all of this time the great world enjoyed the advantage of his compositions.

He wrote the "Parsifal" especially for Beirut. The work is of a semi-religious character, to be listened to with great reverence. Richard Wagner expected it would remain at Beirut, and it does seem that at least while his widow survives it would be courteous and kind to allow the wishes of the composer to be carried out. If it had been a question of money, Frau Wagner could have sold "The Parsifal" for many millions of marks, and of course Mr. Grau could at any time have taken advantage of the situation to produce it whether Frau Wagner was agreeable or not. But Mr. Grau did not do so.

As to the legal aspects of the case, involving the question of international copyright, Madame Nordica said she could not give any opinion; she could speak only on the general qualities, the moral right or wrong of the matter. She further observed that owing to the semi-religious character of the "Parsifal" it hardly seemed suitable for presentation before the average New York audience. Mr. Conrad had offered her the role of "Kundry," the leading character in the coming production of the great operatic work, but she said there was no agreement reached up to date.

THE STONECUTTER DID IT.

J. T. Trowbridge, the aged author, is writing his autobiography at his home in Arlington, Mass. Mr. Trowbridge was born in Ogden, N. Y., and the other day he said:

"From Ogden I went to school at Lockport in my boyhood, and there was a Lockport stonecutter whom I used to take to, for he had a mind as simple as a child's."

"I remember a job that he once undertook—the job of cutting a stone from Scripture over the door of a little stone church. The committee on the part of the church didn't comprehend his childish, unselfish nature, or they couldn't have heeded their order in the terms he did."

"They wanted, they said, the sentence, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer.' He told them they had better write it down for him. But they said it would only be necessary to write down the chapter and verse, and he could copy the sentence right out of the Bible."

"Well, our Lockport stonecutter copied the sentence, but he didn't end where he should have ended; he went right on to the sentence's conclusion. The result was that the legend over the church door read:

"My house shall be called a house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves."

The case of diphtheria reported today is that of Mrs. James Hogle, aged 45, residing at 378 east South Temple street.

THREE CHANGES IN O.S.L. DIRECTORATE

Messrs. Thorne, Hyde and Warburg the Men Elected Today.

REASONS GIVEN FOR THE CHANGE

Harriman Concentrates His Board in New York so That a Quorum Will Be on Hand.

Three new directors were elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Short Line Railroad company, held in the board room in the Deseret News building this morning. They were: W. V. S. Thorne, James H. Hyde and Paul Warburg, all of New York, vice T. J. Coolidge, Jr., Boston, and F. S. Bangs and W. E. Glynn, of New York, resigned.

Secretary Millar, after the meeting adjourned, stated that there was no significance to be attached to the change, and the only reason that it had been made was that with the board as it now stands it would be easier to get a quorum.

The meeting adjourned until Nov. 20, when all stockholders and directors of the Oregon Short Line are invited to come out to Utah and be present at the opening of the famous Ogden-Lucin cut-off, the twentieth century engineering feat that is now rapidly nearing completion across Great Salt Lake.

In all there were 273,323 shares voted at the meeting. That number being voted for each of the following directors by Vice President and General Manager W. H. Hancock, Secretary Alex Millar of the Harriman lines, and Parley L. Williams, counsel for the company.

Oliver Ames, Boston; H. G. Burt, Omaha; Samuel Carr, Boston; W. D. Cornish, New York; Edwin Gould, New York; Geo. J. Gould, Lakewood, N. J.; E. H. Harriman, Arden, N. Y.; James H. Hyde, New York; Otto H. Kahn, Morristown, N. J.; Gardner M. Lane, Boston; W. S. McCormick, Salt Lake; Oliver W. Kirk, Boston; W. S. Pierce, New York; W. V. S. Thorne, New York; Paul M. Warburg, New York.

HARRIMAN'S CHANGES.

The resignation of T. J. Coolidge from the directorate of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Pacific coast line, and the Oregon Short Line now leaves but one Boston man on the Union Pacific and four on the Oregon Short Line. Prior to the segregation of the two companies the directorate was very strongly made up of capitalists from the Hub, in fact, Boston could almost be said to be the home of the Union Pacific. The first break came when E. H. Harriman, Jacob H. Schiff and George Gould came into the directorate shortly after the re-organization. From that time on the Boston interests have been slowly pushed to the background and they one by one have dropped from the directorate until the New York interests are now in decided control.

Another interesting feature of the meetings of the past two days was the election of Joseph F. Smith as resident director for the Union Pacific. This policy was carried out in the old days, after the death of Hon. George Q. Cannon, Mr. Harriman did not continue the policy until yesterday.

DOWN AT CALIENTES.

H. M. McCartney Returns and Tells of The Work Being Done.

H. M. McCartney, assistant chief engineer of the San Pedro, Los Angeles Salt Lake road, returned this morning from a trip down the Meadow Valley Wash, where he has been looking into the work that is now in progress there. He stated this morning that to all intents and purposes the yards at Calientes were complete; steel is now going down to the front and ties and material being stacked up prior to track laying which will be commenced as soon as the tie platting machine and rail bender are received. He says that there are now construction camps scattered along the route through the Wash for the distance of 40 miles.

Those camps nearest Calientes are troubled over the labor question, while the one most remote from civilization is working full shift. This state of affairs is explained owing to the habit the tramp element has of packing up and moving on to the next place at stated intervals. Whenever they get to the last camp, however, there is nothing in front but the desert, and they remain in consequence.
