SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

Mr. Horace Cummings of the Utah Educational Exhibit at the St. Louis exposition, addressed the students of the West Side High School last Wednesday morning. After a piano solo by Miss Maud Williams, the gentleman gave a thoroughly interesting description of Utah's quarters at the fair, and spoke of the many praises and compliments extended to the state's display. Hardly a day passed without the presence of distinguished visitors at the exhibit and representative men of Europe and America were surprised to find such laudable work as was on exhibition from Utah. The fact that Utah stands second only to Argentine Republic among all states and nations of the world in its amount expended per capita for educational purposes, seemed in a measure to account for Utah's prestige. The High School ex-

LEAVES FROM OLD ALBUMS.

THE STEAMER GARFIELD.

Something of the Proud Old Craft That Once Plied the Great Salt Lake.

The old boat "Garfield" whose picture is given above was burned some months ago by the San Pedro railway management to get rid of her, as her days of usefulness had fallen into days of utter uselessness, and now the once noted craft is solely a fragment of the memory. The boat was built at Corinne where the local imagination, easily enfevered, had come to believe that the shipyards of Corinne were destined to be one day, the admiration of the maritime world. The object of the enterprise was to haul ore from old Lake Point, the seaport at the southwest shore of the Great Salt Lake, to Corinne for shipment away via the railroads. So in 1871, local promoters and a boat builder named Fox Defendorf, built the craft, the patriotic and enterprising citizens of Corinne putting up $30,000, and Defendorf and his backers furnishing $24,000, the total cost being $54,000. The boat was named "The City of Corinne," and her dimensions were 28 feet beam, length over all 123 feet, and fresh water draft three and one-half feet, less nine inches for salt water. San Howe was the first captain, and I. M. Barratt of this city was the first pilot, as those two men were among the few persons in the territory who really knew how to navigate a boat. "The City of Corinne" sailed proudly down the Bear river into the great salt sea like "a thing of beauty and a joy forever," and amid the huzzas, bravos and hip-hip-hoorays of an excited populace and a waving from the steamer of the Stars and Stripes. For a short time, everything went beautifully, but somehow local expectations failed to pan out as anticipated, and the boat lost money steadily until 1874, when Defendorf and his syndicate sold her to the Utah & Nevada railroad of which W. W. Ritter was superintendent and S. F. Fenton general freight and passenger agent. Then the boat was used entirely for excursions, moonlight and otherwise, and for pleasure purposes generally under command of Capt. Douris, and on the occasion of the visit of Gen. Garfield to Salt Lake, the name of the boat was changed to "The Garfield," a name it ever retained. But even as an excursion steamer, the old boat was not a success, and in 1887, the machinery was taken out and sent to the coast where, at last accounts, it was being used to good effect in a Puget sound craft. Then Garfield was sold to the Union Pacific road when the Utah & Nevada passed into U. P. hands, and later became the property of the San Pedro people by whom it was burned to get out of the way.

hibit was incidentally mentioned by the speaker and highly complimented.

The Anti Cigarette League may not receive the formal support from the teacher body as the promoter, Mr. Brown would desire. The opinion is held that no pledge should be signed by the youths, while they are in the fever of enthusiasm, created by the new movement. The pledge binds the signer to abstain from the use of cigarettes or tobacco in any form at least until he reaches the age of 21 years, and further obligates him to use his influence against its use by others.

For the third time in the last 13 years the college has been this week called upon to mourn the death of one of its students—William H. Gumbel of Sharon, Ida, passed away early on Tuesday morning, from the effects of brain fever, which followed an attack of measles, from which he had been suffering for only a few days. The young man was a second year student, and was far above the average in ability. He was of a deeply religious turn of mind, studious in his habits, and was a general favorite. The news of his death came as a shock to the school, as well as to his family, none of whom were able to reach his bedside before the end came. He had, however, every attention, and was surrounded by devoted friends and fellow students. The young man's face shortly after his death had died, and on Wednesday he accompanied the remains to Idaho. Previous to the departure, memorial services were held in the college. Unwilling remarks were made by President Linford, Prof. Chamberlin and Sister Zina Y. Carroll, and a beautiful solo, "I Shall See Him Face to Face," was sung by Prof. Robinson. The end of the school was then dismissed to follow the remains to the depot. About 500 students were in line to pay their last respects to the departed one. Some beautiful flowers were laid on the casket by the students. The deceased was twenty years of age, and was a true and faithful member of the Church.

On Monday President Isaac Smith occupied the devotional hour in speaking of important incidents of missionary life and encouraging the students to make diligent use of present opportunities. His remarks were faith-promoting and interesting.

On Sunday, there was a special humane day exercise in the college Sunday school. Miss Edith Bowser read an excellent paper on the value of birds, and was followed by Prof. Wolfe, who spoke interestingly of the companionship of the animal creation and the worth of man. The exercises were prepared by the college Nature Study club.

Miss Virginia Bush, formerly a member of the college faculty, was a welcome visitor on Wednesday.

Prof. Wright lectures today before the Beacon Light society on the subject of art.

President Linford was in Salt Lake yesterday attending a meeting of the Church board of examiners.

Miss Ivy Blood, who has been visiting for two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Linford, returned home to Kaysville yesterday.

WEBER STAKE ACADEMY.

Ogden, Utah, March 3.—The basketball contest, last Saturday, between the U. Y. university of Provo and the Weber stake academy was the fastest and most exciting game yet played in the Church school league. The critical moments kept the spectators in suspense from beginning to end, and seven minutes longer for the second half closed in a tie. The final score was 16 to 14 in favor of Ogden.

The school had the pleasure last Tuesday morning of welcoming home one of her old students, Brother Henry Anderson, who recently returned from Germany. Elder Anderson occupied the time in devotional.

Prof. Terry's subject Wednesday morning was "How to Take Notes." The talk given before the entire student body was a profitable one.

President Shurtliff paid the academy an encouraging visit Wednesday afternoon. The presence of members of the board tends to unite all forces working for the advancement of the school. Board members, faculty, and students are one in saying, "Our school must grow."

The domestic arts class of the State School for the Deaf and Blind inspected the domestic arts department of the academy last Wednesday afternoon, and seemed to be interested in what they saw. While the girls of the two institutions could not talk to each other in words, the language of interest and welcome is common to all of them. Girls, come again!

The special theology classes held Friday morning were among the interesting sessions of this week's class. Mrs. Evans and Miss McKay took charge of the girls, and Prof. J. G. Lind, Thos. E. McKay and W. M. McKendrick, the boys. The subjects given the boys were respectively, "Habit in Morality," "The Power of Example applied to School Life," and "Respect."

Tonight the R. Y. college boys and the academy took part in a basketball game in the Church school league. It promises to be a hotly contested game. Mr. Basset will be referee. The crowd of students that accompanied the team to Logan will do its part to win.

Mr. Harry Nelson and a missionary companion, Elder Chamberlain, Friday afternoon called on Prof. Thomas E. McKay and visited the latter's German class. The three were old cronies in the German mission.

The fine weather during the last few weeks has had a tendency to cause spring fever among some of the students. The teachers have proved themselves good physicians, however, in countering the disease by enforcing strict discipline and applying interesting lessons. The only two cases have proved serious, and there is still hope of recovery.

Prof. S. H. Clark, University of Chicago, will appear in the Tabernacle this week, in a series of dramatic recitations. The series of dramatic recitations of the academy, which will give the following program: Stephen Phillips' Romantic drama, "Ulysses," Thursday evening; Hawthorne's "The Scarlet Letter," Friday evening; cellaneous readings, Friday evening; children's program, Saturday afternoon; "Richard III," Saturday evening.

The committee has arranged the price of tickets so that everybody can hear this eminent lecturer and literary interpreter.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The second in the course of Saturday dinners given by the domestic science department each week was given last evening. Miss Bybee and Miss Barstow acted as hostesses. They entertained some of their relatives and friends. The picturesque of the play are charming. The rehearsals of the play are well advanced, the costumes have been received, and the scenery and everything indicates a successful performance.

Prof. Robert Northrop of the department of horticulture addressed the farmers of Providence on Monday afternoon in the growing of apples and peaches. The talk was given in the evening, and was very timely and practical. The latter giving a practical talk on dairy work.

After the performance in Logan of "She Stoops to Conquer," the dramatic club will give the same play in Smithville and Pocatello. Arrangements are being made to give it in Ogden, Salt Lake and other cities of the state.

Out of door drill was resumed last Wednesday with the monthly battalion inspection. The military ball was so successful that after paying all expenses $5 were left to be used for the benefit of the college fund.

Mr. E. G. Peterson was elected president this week of the college tennis club. It is hoped that tennis would be made for a state college tournament.

"Let the other man do most of the talking, he will have a better opinion of you."

DRUNKENNESS A TERRIBLE DISEASE.

In every large city the mission superintendents are brought close in contact with the terrible results of drunkenness. They realize what a fearful curse it is to humanity.

W. C. McMichael, superintendent of the People's Mission in Washington, says: "I am superintendent of the People's Mission, a recognized Christian organization that is doing a world of good. One of our people who had been drinking a pint of whiskey every day for great many years was put on Orrine and I am happy to say he is now a sober man within ten days from the time the first dose was given, and he is now restored to perfect sobriety. I have no way to thank you for the valuable advice for this terrible disease, drunkenness."
