PIONEER DAY IN JUNCTION CITY

No Public Celebration—Resorts Have Record Breaking Crowds.

BOLD HOTEL ROBBERY

Lone Robber Enters European Hotel—Batteries Fined for Vicious Assault—Action for Damages.

Ogden, July 24.—Citizens generally are observing Pioneer Day in a fitting manner. Travel to all of the resorts has been exceptionally heavy and many picnic parties have been formed. All of the leading grocery stores closed for the entire day and many of the other business houses closed at noon.

At Glenwood park, the attendance is exceptionally large, breaking all records for the season. The local camp, Woodmen of the World, took advantage of the holiday to hold their annual outing at the resort and a big program of interesting sports and the usual diversions are proving highly entertaining to the "Jolly Choppers" and their numerous friends.

At the fair grounds, horse racing proved an enjoyable feature this morning and this afternoon a baseball game between the Salt Lake and Ogden state league teams is in progress, on the fair grounds diamond.

Many of the older residents, who are remaining at home, are spending the day happily in the relation of the early incidents in the rugged life of the pioneers.

EUROPEAN HOTEL ROBBED.

behind the counter, rifled the cash drawer and started out.
He was met by Walter Smyth, son of the proprietor of the hotel, D. A. Smyth, who asked if he had business there. The thief said that he had just come on duty, as the night clerk had taken suddenly sick and offered to rent young Smyth a room.
Smyth immediately recognized that the man was a fraud and grabbed for him with his hands. The robber made his escape through the back door, displaying great nerve by walking coolly through Mark Murphy's saloon adjoining the hotel, dashed through the front door and down Twenty-fifth street where he became lost in the darkness.

In all, over $25 was taken from the till. There has been no clue, other than young Smyth's description, to the identity of the thief, but the police department is working hard upon the case.

BAR TENDER FINED FOR ASSAULT.
Because he lost his temper at the words of a patron, who was under the influence of liquor, F. J. Parker, a bartender in the St. Louis saloon on the corner of Twenty-fifth street and Grant avenue, yesterday assaulted a customer, beating him up to so serious an extent that Atkinson appeared in police court, with both eyes so badly bruised as to be swollen completely shut.

From the story of eye witnesses, the bartender became angered because of abuse heaped upon him by Atkinson and assaulted the latter, knocking him to the floor and striking him several times after he had fallen. Both men were charged with disturbing the peace, and Judge Murphy sentenced Parker to pay a fine of $50 and Atkinson a fine of $5.
