in the district court H. O. Harkness, through his attorney, A. G. Horn, filed an application for a writ of mandate on J. W. Guthrie, A. R. Heywood, Henry Connant, Edward Connant, Patrick Healy, Richard T. Hume and O. M. Healy, Richard T. Hume and O. M. Runyon as officers and directors of the commercial National Bank of Ogden. The affidavit of Mr. Harkness sets forth that the bank, of which defendants are officers, is organized with a sapital stock of $100,000, divided into 1, applial stock of $100,000, divided into 1, and the control of the new value of $100,000, and capital stock of $100,000, divided into 1,000 shares of the par value of $100 each, that the affiant is the owner of 183% shares of the capital stock of the said bank; that on or about Feb. 1, 1903, and mant made a demand upon said directors and officers of the hank for conors and officers of the bank for per-mission to inspect all books, accounts and loans of said bank, claiming such tates that he seeks the inspection for he purpose of ascertaining the value of s stock in the said bank, also for the urpose of finding out whether the busias affairs of the bank have been conucted according to law. He further tates that loans have been made to a avored few of the patrons of the bank of more than one-tenth of the capital stock, to each of said patrons, which is contrary to law; also that he believes the directors and officers of the bank been guilty of other irregularities which affiant cannot state at this time, and which can only be stated after an pection of the books, loans and acnspection of the said bank. FREE POSTAL DELIVERY.

U. S. Postal Inspector Sharp was ir final arrangements for the putting in o a free delivery system here. He rode over the city, accompanied by Post master Robert Murdock and laid the town out in the districts to be covered by the carriers. Mr. Sharp states that Logan is certainly a "city of magnifi-cent distances," as it covers enough ground for a city of a quarter of a mil ion inhabitants. At Mr. Murdock' suggestion, the sites were determined pon for the 22 mail boxes, where th tizens may deposit their mail for colection by the carriers. It is expected hat Mr. Sharp will recommend the em loyment of two mounted carriers, and ne foot carrier, on account of the dis

Postmaster Murdock expects to re eive official authority to have carrier xamined and employed within next few days, and it is hoped to have the system in order within six weeks. The free delivery will be a great benfit to our citizens and one which the have looked anxiously forward to for some years. It was found that some of he remote avenues of the town canno he covered as they contain no outlets entire remainder of the city will be fully covered. SCHOOL CONTROVERSY CLOSED. The Cache county commissioners have decided the long continued Cove Mountain Home school district contro versy. It was decided to take a stri

COWLEY, WYOMING. BIG HORN COLONIES,

Farming Operations Now Under Way -Completion of Shoshone Bridge. Special Correspondence.

Cowley Big Horn Co., Wyoming, April-10.-Cowley is the most important place in the Big Horn stake. It has two stores now in full blast. All the houses so far in the town are built of logs. New houses are going up in every direction. Fences are being built and people will have to keep the streets instead of cutting across lots. The land is fast being put in shape and seeding has begun. The water is now running in some of the ditches. The canal is now finished and the people are turning their attention to farming.

The canal was a big undertaking and required a united and continuous effort to complete it. The faith of the Big Horn colony is shown in their works. The people have passed through trials of pioneering with admirable patience and forbearance, now it looks as though they were about to be rewarded for their efforts. Presidents J. W. by and C. A. Welch are located in Cowley and have been a tower of strength to the people. President Sessions of the Big Horn stake, makes his home at Byron. Bishop W. C. Partridge presides in Cowley and has the love and confidence of the people. He is a grandson of the first Bishop in the Church. The town of Cowley is pleasantly lo-cated on a bench up next the canal. The mountains in Montana to the north are about 10 miles away, while to the northwest is an opening where the ever-lasting wind comes from. On the northeast is the Big Horn range and on the southeast is Lovell and the Big Horn heights of the Rocky mountain ranges, forming the continental divide, where rise the streams that water this vast
