LOCAL BRIEFS.

Five applicants are taking the examination before the state board of pharmacy for pharmaceutical certificates.

Assistant General Freight Agent S. V. Derrah of the D. & R. G. returned today from an eastern business trip.

Part 25 of the world's fair portfolio has been received at the "News" office. Only two more remain before the issue will be completed.

Architect Nauenhaus is at Lagoon today, to begin active work in the construction of the fine new pavilion which Senator Bamberger is about to erect there.

Judge Morse has set aside the default decree of divorce rendered on Monday in the case of Robert M. Wilkinson against Theresa Wilkinson, and has set the case for trial on Nov. 19.

L. G. Richards has completed a life size portrait of Mrs. Butchaba W. Smith, president of the Relief societies, and which is regarded as a fine piece of work.

Winslow S. Pierce, chairman of the board of directors of the Western Maryland Railroad company has been elected president of the road, to succeed Joseph Ramsey, Jr., who declined re-election.

The appeal in the case of Ella J. Blake, administratrix of the estate of Edward Blake, deceased, vs. John W. Farrell, appellant, has been dismissed by the supreme court upon motion of the attorneys for respondent.

The three swans for some time on exhibition in the show windows of the Western Arms company, have been placed in the City Park lake. They were caught on West Hook lake, Montana, by H. C. Hoffman, and are valued at $100.

C. H. Rynearson of Elmwood, Ill., writes to Postmaster Thomas inquiring as to the whereabouts of George C. Charlton formerly of Elgin, Ill., but of late years a sojourner at Laramie, and afterwards in this city. Mr. Charlton is wanted at home.

The Utah Packing company is conducting full operations at the Union Stock yards where it will build in the spring, putting up a plant valued at $100,000. The company is shipping into town daily consignments of dressed beef in refrigerator cars.

State Food Inspector Keiser said today that half the lemon and vanilla extracts sold in this city, both by the grocery and drug stores were really nothing more than doctored alcohol and water. He proposed to make a move against the violators of the law, and if possible put a stop to this swindle.

The board of governors of the Commercial club and the club committees on transportation and railways held a prolonged secret conference yesterday afternoon, on the freight rate discrimination matter, and it was afterwards announced that no publication as to the findings of the meeting would be given out before Dec. 6.

A meeting of the Colorado-Utah freight bureau was held yesterday afternoon in the offices of C. H. Griffin on west Second South street to revise the local freight tariffs. There were present E. H. Wood of the Union Pacific, C. M. Moore of the Santa Fe, Fred Wild, Jr., of the D. & R. G., and J. A. Reeves of the Short Line.

A co-operative plan for caring for the sick is a scheme which a Michigan man is seeking to introduce in this city; and as it has been found to work well elsewhere, there is no reason why it should not work here. The doctor, who is at one dollar a month, and when a policy holder becomes sick, his dues cease and he receives medical attendance gratis.

The plasterers began today, on the interior of the Federal building, now that the steam and gas flatters have got out of the way. A large consignment of terra cotta partition work has been received from Denver, but the breakage has been so heavy that it will be cheaper for that reason alone to buy this class of goods here. Anyway, the Salt Lake terra cotta work is superior to the Denver product because the clay is much better.

Suit has been filed in the district court by John A. Ekman against Jane T. Harlow to foreclose a mortgage given by defendant, Jane T. Harlow, to secure a note for $250, executed in favor of Joseph Nelson and by him assigned to plaintiff. Judgment is asked that the other defendants be ordered to pay the balance of the note, and that their claims against the property involved, and that it be sold and judgment rendered for the full amount of the note, with interest and costs of suit.

President J. E. Cosgriff of the Commercial National bank said today, that while in Wyoming just preceding the election, it was as lively as any campaign he ever saw. But every county in the state went Republican, and no more "back counties yet to hear from." The Republican majority in the state is claimed to be 8,000. Mr. Cosgriff visited the world's fair, and was particularly impressed with the magnificent display of fine fabrics there, noticeably the display of rich silks.

Last evening a number of officers of the Pioneer state Mutual Improvement associations, visited the associations in the vicinity of Pleasant Green. At the inland salt works in the vicinity of Salt Lake beach they were greeted by a large attendance, who had met for the first time in their new hall, just erected by the company for their benefit. The visitors found the association in good condition, and were treated with every consideration during their short stay. Similar conditions exist at Ogurich and Pleasant Green.

The committees appointed at the Elks' club meeting Monday night, began this morning, securing signatures of business men to the petition for reduction of telephone rates by the Bell company. The sub-committee appointed to examine the books of the company, will do so tomorrow and Friday, and on Monday evening next a general businessmen's meeting will be held at the Commercial club, where the situation will be thoroughly discussed, and rates obtaining in other cities presented.

The new lieutenant colonel of the Twenty-ninth infantry is Charles W. Mason, promoted from major of the Fourth infantry, Col. Mason will probably be placed in command at Fort Bliss, four miles from El Paso, Tex., where the Third battalion of the regiment is now stationed. He was appointed to the army in January, 1903, as second lieutenant of the Thirteenth infantry, but was transferred to the Fourth infantry, with which regiment he has ever since remained. He is a graduate of the infantry and cavalry school at Fort Leavenworth, Lieut.-Col. Balance has been retired, as already noted in the press dispatches.

In a hearing before the Interstate commerce commission yesterday at Chicago, Freight Traffic Manager J. A. Monroe of the Union Pacific testified in regard to cattle and corn shipments: "A heavy drain is expected where the railroads have to compete with themselves on different lines of traffic. Either corn in the corn belt must be carried to the cattle on the western ranges or the cattle carried to the corn. Of course, we try to do the former as much as possible, for it cuts down the expenses, but the low rates that have been forced by competition make it so much more profitable for the cattlemen to bring the cattle to the corn than to find it practically impossible to carry much corn west. In this way we are competing with our line's low rate on cattle."

ODD FELLOWS MEET.

Elect Officers and Initiate New Candidates at Annual Encampment.

Yesterday the Odd Fellows of Utah met in grand encampment at their hall on Market street. About 50 delegates representing all sections of the state, were present. In the evening an extra session was held in which officers for the coming year were elected. A feature of the afternoon session was the presentation of a handsome gold jewel to the retiring grand patriarch, N. H. Beaver, the presentation speech being made by J. J. Thomas of the state board.

The encampment was called to order at 10 o'clock yesterday morning by Grand Patriarch N. H. Beaver. He read his annual report, showing a satisfactory growth in all departments. It was followed by the reading of the grand secretary's report by A. T. McCann. The rest of the morning session was consumed in listening to the reports of other officers and committees, and to discussing a new constitution which has been framed for the order. The work of adopting the constitution was not concluded till late in the afternoon.

At the evening session a number of candidates were elected into the Canyon branch of the society, and the following officers were installed for the coming year:

BROUGHTON LOOK ROUGH-ON-RATS.

Waiter Committed Suicide Last Night on South East Temple Street.

LOST ALL WHILE GAMBLING.

Becoming Despondent He Took Poison
And Fell Into the Gutter In Convulsions.

John Broughton, a waiter about 22 years of age, committed suicide last night by taking rough-on-rats. He took the deadly poison on East Temple street where he fell in convulsions. After being taken to the city jail he expired.

The young man had been gambling and drinking and became despondent. Last evening he secured a small bottle of rough-on-rats, and walking up East Temple street took the contents of the bottle. When in front of Siegel's clothing store he fell into the gutter. Officer Palmer hastened to the man's assistance and had him conveyed quickly to the station. Broughton was then unconscious although he had vomited a great deal of the poison out of his stomach. City Physician Wilcox was summoned and worked over the man for some time, and finally believed the man was out of danger. About midnight the man suddenly went into convulsions again, and before assistance could be rendered, he died.

Broughton came here from Olney, Ill., where his parents reside. He left his home several months ago and has not heard from his relatives since then. The authorities have notified his father, M. J. Broughton, and the remains will probably be sent to him.

DROWNED IN A TUB.

Infant Son of T. M. Herbert Met Death
While Playing in Yard.

The 18-month-old son of T. M. Herbert of 510 east Twelfth South street, was accidentally drowned in a tub of water yesterday afternoon. The child had wandered out into the back yard where a tub of water was standing, and while playing about it, tumbled in. The child had been missing only for a few minutes, when his sister started to hunt him up. As he was nowhere in sight, the sister thought to look into the tub, and there was her little brother in the water. The mother was on the spot immediately in response to the girl's cries, and rescued the baby. She hastily phoned for Drs. Raley, Baldwin and Kerr, and the three physicians worked for over an hour in trying to resuscitate the little boy. They were unsuccessful, however, as his lungs were filled with water, and life had speedily been extinguished.

BIGAMIST WIFE SUES.

Mrs. Chapman Seeks to be Divorced
From Erring Husband.

Another chapter in the Chapman bigamy case has been brought to light by the filing of a divorce case in the district court by Alice May Chapman against James A. Chapman, who now stands charged with the crime of bigamy. Plaintiff is the first and legal wife of the defendant, and alleges that she married him in this city on Sept. 30, 1903. She asks to be awarded a divorce on the ground of failure to support and that she be allowed alimony in the sum of $10 per month and attorney's fees in the sum of $25.

In last year after Chapman's marriage to the plaintiff in this case, he was married in this city to another girl and took her to live within a block of where his first wife resided. In a few weeks wife No. 1 discovered that her husband was married again, and after looking up the marriage records in the case in order to be certain of the matter, she had her mother swear to a complaint against her husband, charging him with bigamy. Chapman was arrested and is now in jail awaiting trial.
