The Favorite

Medicine for Throat and Lung Difficulties has long been, and still is, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It cures Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and Asthma; soothes irritation of the Larynx and Fauces; strengthens the Vocal Organs; allays soreness of the Lungs; prevents Consumption, and, even in advanced stages of that disease, relieves Coughing and induces Sleep. There is no other preparation for diseases of the throat and lungs to be compared with this remedy.

"My wife had a distressing cough, with pains in the sides and breast. We tried various medicines, but none did her any good until I got a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has cured her. A neighbor, Mrs. Glenn, had the measles, and the cough was relieved by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have no hesitation in recommending this to every one afflicted."—Robert Horton, Foreman Headlight, Morrillton, Ark.

Cough Medicine

"I have been afflicted with asthma for forty years. Last spring I was taken with a violent cough, which threatened to terminate my days. Every one pronounced me in consumption. I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Its effects were magical. I was immediately relieved and continued to improve until entirely recovered."—Joel Bullard, Guilford, Conn.

"Six months ago I had a severe hemorrhage of the lungs, brought on by an incessant cough which deprived me of sleep and rest. I tried various remedies, but obtained no relief until I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. A few bottles of this medicine cured me."—Mrs. E. Coburn, 19 Second st., Lowell, Mass.

"For children afflicted with colds, coughs, sore throat, or croup, I do not know of any remedy which will give more speedy relief than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have found it, also, invaluable in cases of Whooping Cough."—Ann Lovejoy, 1257 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

THE PATENT

Wire Gauze Oven Door

IS THE LATEST IMPROVEMENT ON THE

It Produces Practical Results in Baking and Roasting never before attained in any Cooking Apparatus, and will

Revolutionize the Present Methods of Cooking

ITS THEORY

Is that all Food Bakerd or Cooked, should be cooked in fresh air freely admitted to the oven. This is done by discarding the close oven door heretofore used, and substituting for it a door containing a sheet of Wire Gauze nearly as large as the door itself.

Through this Gauze Door the air freely circulates, facilitating the process of cooking, and producing food that is an equalled in flavor and nutrition, and actually cooked with less consumption of fuel than in an oven with a closed door.

It makes a far enormous saving in the weight of meat.

It also produces larger Loaves of Bread, requires less attention from the cook, and promotes the health of the family by the SUPERIOR QUALITY OF THE FOOD COOKED IN IT.

OPINION OF AN EXPERT.

MRS. MARY B. WELCH, Teacher Domestic Economy, Iowa State University, says: "My deliberate judgment is that the oven of the Range, as compared with others, is not only more equally heated in every part—front and rear—but as a result of its superior ventilation the food placed therein is better cooked, while retaining a sweeter flavor, and a larger proportion of its best juices. I find, also, the consumption of fuel in this Range is much less than any other of same work.

THE LEGAL LEGION.

An Address from Gen. R. B. Hayes—Other Points.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 19. — At 6:30 o'clock the charter members of the new Indiana commandery met at the Bates House, and with Commander-in Chief Hayes presiding, the new commandery was duly created and inaugurated. Major General Lew Wallace, of Crawfordsville, was elected commander. General Harrison was among the members present and participated in the formation of the new commandery.

THE BANQUET

tendered the visiting members of the Loyal Legion at the Bates House tonight, by the newly created Indiana Commandery, was one of the most successful entertainments ever given in Indiana. The dining hall was decorated in the national colors. General Lew Wallace presided as the toast master of the occasion. To his right sat ex-President Hayes, to his left Colonel W. H. Howe, commander of the Loyal Legion of Missouri. After spending an hour discussing the choice and select menu, interspersed with stirring songs by "Chicago and Missouri visitors," the programme proper was entered upon, the first being an address of welcome by Major General Lew Wallace delivered in inimitable style. Following the address the presiding officer announced the toast "The Loyal Legion" to which General Rutherford B. Hayes, commander in-chief, responded.

beginning his address spoke briefly of the history of the Loyal Legion and reviewed its formation and the Society of Cincinnati which he said was the unquestioned prototype of the Loyal Legion.

What will be the future of this order, said he. What will be its influence on its members and our countrymen and especially on the young who are growing up to take our places. It is not and will not be a political organization. The Loyal Legion is essentially to maintain the memory of our comradeship in the sacred war. Our honored companion, who so largely at this time and this place is in our thoughts, in his terse and emphatic way gave the whole pith of the question when he said "politics cannot break the bond of comradeship." In this the general made no mistake. The links that unite us were welded when we stood together on holy ground, fighting for

ETERNAL RIGHT.

Where is holy ground? If anywhere, it is where a man freely dies for his fellow-men. That sublime privilege was the crown of Lincoln's fame, and we of the Loyal Legion and our comrades of the Grand Army can reverently thank God that we are permitted to stand by Lincoln and our nation's history. What shall be the teaching which the Loyal Legion will give to the companions of that order? To their countrymen and to posterity it goes without saying that the ideas we fought for are the principles of the Loyal Legion. Those principles are without regard to sect or the party of our choice. We hold to our faith, which is, that the American republic, in the language of the Supreme Court, is an indestructible union of indestructible states. The general government was threatened by the doctrine that the allegiance of the citizen was due only to the state. Our faith is that the

is to the United States, and that the United States is in authority and duty, in the fullest possible sense, a nation. The contention of our adversaries was that slavery was of perpetual and divine origin. Our faith is that no statute nor law can make the false phantasy true that man can held property in man. The corner stone of the slaveholding system was the impious dogma that might makes right. The trail of this serpent is over all human society, and is found where the footprint of a slave was never seen. The faith of the Loyal Legion is that universal suffrage is essential to liberty, and that there can be no fitting exercise and no full enjoyment of the suffrage without the universal education of the weaker nations around us with whom we deal—the Indians, the children of misfortune, of poverty, of evil habits and of crime, who are at all our doors. We learned in the school of war with respect to them that they are the offspring of our

and that the social distinctions of wealth were of little avail in that bloody trial, and that everything deferred to manhood. Therefore we would inculcate sympathy with manhood wherever it is found. Above all, our faith is in America and American principles. We have no quarrels with Europe or any foreign people, but we prefer that their nation's follies and vices shall remain on the other side of the Atlantic. We have enough vices, follies and perils of our own. We import from Europe altogether too many. We believe in the American home and in the character and virtue of the American women, which make the American homes happy. When the great trial came and the calamity was to be met, Mr. Lincoln said, "If all that has been said by the orators and poets since the creation of the world in praise of women were applied to the American women, it would not do them justice for their conduct during the war." God bless the

AMERICAN WOMEN.

Finally, the last fatal mistake the South made was its doctrine of state sovereignty. They thought each would represent a separate government, and all of them would weep hopelessly and miserably over states discordant, disserved and belligerent. The faith of the Loyal Legion is the reverse of all this. We believe in the whole of the American Republic, and that every state and every acre in the state belongs to one flag, the old flag, the Stars and Stripes, the flag of Washington and Lincoln, the flag of the United States. It represents a people great, prosperous and happy, whose heritage will be as long as they are guided by wisdom and justice, the enjoyment of unbroken harmony and perpetual peace.

AT THE CONCLUSION

of General Hayes' speech the banqueters stood and drained their cups to the health and longevity of the Loyal Legion. Other toasts were responded to by Lieut. James S. Ostrander, Captain Eugene Cary, of Chicago, Col. D. W. McClung and Col. D. P. Dwyer, of St. Louis.

The attendance of distinguished soldiers from all over the country was very large.

Perished at Sea.

ROCKLAND, Maine, Dec. 19.—Captain Smith, Mate Smith and Cook Daron, of the steamer Almira, have been brought here. On December 14th their vessel took fire at sea. They are the only survivors, being picked up in a boat a few days afterward. The captain's wife, two children, and twelve sailors perished.

The Almira sailed from Birmingham, for England, December 3rd, with a cargo of red wood. There were on board twelve sailors, Captain Smith, his wife and two children, the cook and two mates. On the night of December 14th, when eighty-five miles off Halifax, one of the crew carelessly threw down a lighted pipe in the forecastle. Instantly the floor took fire and the flames soon spread beyond control, owing to the combustible condition of the woodwork, which was saturated with oil. The captain, two mates and the cook took to the boats, and were picked up three days later (with the exception of the cook, who died from exposure) by a schooner and brought here.

Criminal Cases.

FLORENCE, Dec. 19.—Countess Costa was stabbed to death in her carriage here today by a captain in the army, who then committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 19.—Early this morning White Caps tore down the saloon of John Messamore at Lawson, Hancock County, pouring the liquor into the gutter. They left a warning for the saloon-keeper not to resume business.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—The Daily News' special from Cairo, Illinois: Last night at Paragould, Arkansas, as Officer Bryan attempted to serve a warrant on John Williams for illegal liquor selling, Williams resisted arrest and a fight followed, in which Williams, Bryan and two other officers were mortally wounded.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

The following statement from Mrs. Emeline P. Misner of Burr Hill, Ohio, will be of great interest to those who suffer from Bright's Disease or Gravel.—"I having resolved that I would apprise you of the deep sense of obligation which I feel. There is nothing which I now enjoy that I do not owe to the happy chance of having used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy at a time when I was suffering all that a human being could endure. My troubles began in my Kidneys over nine years ago and from which

I Never Expected to Recover.

I was compelled to use a cane when I walked, and I finally got so weak that I could not stand alone. In a few months my physician said I had Bright's disease, which was indeed alarming information. To add to my affliction after I had been ill about two years, I had a bad attack of Gravel. Six years ago, last June, how well I remember the day, I saw Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy of Rondout, N. Y., advertised in our paper. After using one bottle I threw away my cane and went to New York on a visit, and three bottle cured me, this was six years ago. I have never had a return of gravel, nor of the pains or weakness in the back, and though I am over sixty years of age

I am Now Vigorous and Strong as I was in my prime. I do all my own work, and rarely know what it is to be tired. I keep the medicine in the house and give it to my grandchildren, and recommend it whenever I can. What physicians and all of the many remedies I had taken could not do, Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy did; it stayed the disease and made me a strong, vigorous woman.
