

Richardson Charges That Murder Of Gov. Steunenberg Was A Part of It.

DENOUNCES MANY PERSONS.

He Goes for Orchard, Gov. Gooding, Senator Borah, Gov. Peabody and All Connected With Prosecution.

Boise, July 23 .- Forsaking the thery of vengeance, as Orchard's motive for the murder of former Gov. teunenberg, E. F. Richardson argued hat Orchard was in the employ of the Pinkerton detective agency when he diled Steunenberg and that the murer was a part of a conspiracy to hang Haywood. This sudden departure was wed by a tremendous denunciation of Capt. James McParland and the

of Capt. James McParland and the Pinkertons and passionate vituperation of Orchard, Gov Gooding of Idaho, Senator Borah, Gov. Peabody of Col-orado and in fact all who have acted on the side of the prosecution of Hay-wood came in for a share of the ava-lanche of Richardson's peroration. Richardson, having spoken for near-ly nine hours, denounced and charged the Pinkerton detective agency with a systematic plot to secure the con-viction of Haywood, Moyer and Pet-tibone as a means to the desired ex-termination of the Western Federation of Miners. of Miners.

expected that he will require two days to close for the defense. Dr. I. L. McGee, the witness for the defense, who was arested on the charge of perjury, was discharged from custody today by the magistrate before whom the preliminary hearing was held. The justice ruled that the evidence brought by the prosecuting attorney was insufficient to warrant him in holding McGee. Orchard was on the stand again this afternoon, as a witness in the McGee case preparations to assassinate Gov. Steu-nenberg. "Orchard's conduct at Caldwell be-fore the murder of Steunenberg," said Mr. Richardson, "leads inevitably to the conclusion that this man was de-termined to draw the attiention of the whole population on himself. Whether he was in the employ of the Pinkerton agency at the time or not does not appear in the record, but I think I can show before this argument is over, that both before and after the murder the purpose of Orchard and of others was to create evidence such as might lead to the arrest and conviction of Western Federation of Miners of-ficials."

ficials." Mr. Richardson traced the move-ments of Orchard at Caldwell and com-ing to the arrival of Fred Miller to ad in the defense he said: "The reason Miller was retained by the Western Federation of Miners to defend Orchard was that at the pre-liminary triat there was not sufficient evidence to convict of, or connect him with the murder of Steunenberg." After reading lengthy extracts from the Denver newspapers printed at the time of the arrest of Orchard, all of which, he said, showed the hand of the Pinkerton detective agency in an enand reversed the widespread impression that the first instance was not one of abdication, but of "imperial contor-tion." Ito's subservient cabinet, in an all-night engagement with the former emperor, wrung from him the verbal admission of the validity of his casual abdication, and secured his signature to a pacification proclamation to the people; also an acknowledgement of the mikado's congratulations to him as em-peror de facto which acknowledgement which, he said, showed the hand of the Pinkerton detective agency in an en-deavor to jink the name of the Western Federation of Miners with the murder-er, Richardson said that the governor of Idaho and the Pinkerton agency knew when Steunenberg was murdered and Orchard was arrested that he would make the confession. For years the Pinkerton detective agency had permeated the locals of the Western Federation with secret opera-

Taking up Orchard's life in the peni-tentiary at Boise, Richardson said the wile, loathesome creature had been pet-ted and coddled, fed from the warden's tables, visited by the governor of the state and called in familiar terms "Harry" by the governor and by the counsel engaged for the prosecution. "Think of this creature associating in a friendly way with a senator of the United States! I do not know that Or-chard calls Senator Borah "Bill," but I do know that the senator calls Orchard "Harry." do know that the senator calls Orchard "Harry." "Now, why did Orchard attempt to commit suicide after he had made his confession to Pinkerton McFarland? He says he confessed to clear his con-science and to make his peace with God. Why, then, after such a confession Why, then, after such a confession, should he have attempted to take his own life? There was no reason for "But, gentlemen of the jury," and Richardson's voice, which had grown extremely husky from his long dis-course, took on a tone of withering scorn as he crouched, with bended knee and back, and paced up and down before the 12 men, ever shaking the index finger of his right hand at them, "If Harry Orchard was in a scheme at the instigation of the Pinkertons or anybody else to swear away the lives of innocent men if he were a part and par-cel of such a conspiracy-well might his conscience have said to him: 'Out of your mouth you have condemned inno-cent men and that is a burden which cent men and that is a burden which should weigh heavy on your soul,' and well might this worthless creature have attempted his life. There is no other explanation for it."

Then the men, panic-stricken, ran for the shaft, and in running fell over each other. When they went half way to the shaft the water was at their waists. Screaming and fighting, the men wedged themselves into a helpless mass. Then Conners, who had led the way to the shaft, took a hand, and swinging an ugly club, threatened to brain every man of them if they did not obey him. COUNTY CLERK SAID TO

BE SHORT FIFTY THOUSAND

Continuing his scathing denunciation of Orchard, dropping the subject for a time to branch out upon some other line of argument, but returning ever to a new attack upon the confessing wit-ness, Richardson declared that none but this accursed criminal had been brought to court to defame the name of Haywood—a man who had always led an exemplary life and had always been an exemplary life and set always been an exemplary life and had always been an exemplary life and set always been during the trial. Concluding his address, Mr. Richard-son said he left the case with all confi-dence in the hands of the jury for such determination as it saw fit. Court, at 7:25 p. m., adjourned until 9 a. m. tomorrow. Mr. Richardson was held in the court-room for some time after adjournment accepting the congratulations of his friends and others in the big audience.
