gate Cannon on the Mormon JAKE HEUSSER The Star this evening publishes an interview with Delegate Cannon, which contains the following very shrewd double-edged rejoinder to the question, "What would be the politics of Utah if it became a State?" Cannon is reported as saying: "It would be a democratic State. I am satisfied from my own tions that the feelings of the are in accord with the feellieve in home rule. I cannot say, however, what would be the effect should Utah be admitted by the republicans; then it might be a re-publican State. None of us intend to violate the law of 1862, but their is no law to forbid our faith in our principles. There is no inducement that could be offered that would lead the Mormons to shandon their faith. We will abandon their faith. We will cherish our belief, but as I have said, we will not practice it because that would be a violation of law. Capital | Notes. Secretary McCrary has found a way to reward the heroic conduct of Captain Dodge, of the Ninth Cavairy, who, with his company of colored soldiers, so gallantly went to the rescue of Captain Palue's beleagured command at the immi-nent risk of annihilation by the Ute Indians. Colonel Prince, of Pay's corps will soon go upon the retired list, and Captain Dodge is to be appointed major and pay-master to fill the vacancy which DEADWOOD, 6.—The case of the Golden Terra Mining Company vs. A. J. G. Mailer et al., batter knewn as the Golden Terra vs. Gopher Company, was decided in this district court by Judge Moody, to-day, in favor of the Gopher Company. Action was brought to recover about 200 feet of the Gopher Company's claim. Two locations were made, one inside the liness of the other. Plaintiff claimed that as many locations as was de-strable could be made upon any one vein, predicted upon the dis-covery first made, while defendant claimed that the second location was but a further development of the first. The property involved is probably worth $500,000. The case will be appealed.

difficult thing in the world to give sympathy to a man that has broken the law and that too after 2,000 years of the example of Christ. There will be in this instance an opportunity of showing how, if a Christian man, under temptation, stumbles and falls, there is the grace of God lelt to lift up the falling all efforts, as well as the rapid subsiding of the flood toward nighting all efforts, as well as the rapid subsiding of the flood toward nighting all efforts, as well as the rapid subsiding of the flood toward nighting. A letter from Gen. Grant to the New York legislative committee announces that he will visit New York on the 29th of December unless in the meantime he accepts the pending invitation to go to Havans, via Key West, starting southward about the 28th inst. In the latter case he will not visit New York until his return next spring from the West Indies.

Not Domestle, but "Littery."

Not Domestic, but "Littery." One of those incongruitles which Solomon referred to in Prov. 14-22, is sketched by a writer in the Boston Journal:

is sketched by a writer in the Boston Journal:

"The writer recalls a circumstance noticed in a popular hotel in Florida some winters ago. The outer air was somewhat damp and chilly, and the guests had congregated in the pariors. The central figure in one of the groups was a maiden from Philadelphia, the richness of whose apparel and the brilliancy of whose jewels far be it from the writer to attempt to describe. A circle of admirers was gathered about this fair and dazzling creature, listening to her words, and we drew medestly within the outer lines, to bask for a moment in her radiance. The conversation had somehow turned upon domestic matters, and these were the words which we heard fall from the lips of the maid of lace and diamonds: 'Well, I don't know much about housekeepin' and such things, but when it comes to anything litter'y, I'm there!'
