DEEP CREEK ROAD AGAIN TO FRONT

Representative of French Banking Syndicate Arrives in New York with German Engineer.

FOR UTAH & NEVADA RAILROAD

Dream of Three Decades by Mine Owners Bids Fair to Be Realized at Last.

A special dispatch to this city last evening from New York city says: "The representative of a French banking syndicate, which syndicate has underwritten the bonds of the Utah & Nevada railway, which will run west from Salt Lake City, arrived here from Paris today. He is accompanied by a prominent German engineer, who has been over the ground and upon whose report the investment is being made. The Utah & Nevada railway is an incorporation organized by New Yorkers, capitalized for $5,000,000, and was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey in May of this year. At the offices of the company, 158 Broadway, no other information than this would be given out."

A railway from this city to Deep Creek has for the last three decades been the dream of Utah and Nevada miners. The late S. H. H. Clark, when a civil engineer in the employ of the Union Pacific, made surveys from this city west to Deep Creek, and Charles Francis Adams, when president of the road, encouraged the idea. Had Mr. Adams remained at the head of the Union Pacific, the proposed line would no doubt have been built. But when Jay Gould secured control and ousted the Adams administration, the Deep Creek project was dropped, and until this year remained in a moribund condition.

But in February last, a number of French mining engineers made a trip from Salt Lake to the district in automobiles, traveling in all 200 miles. The investigation was evidently satisfactory as following their report the Utah & Nevada railway was organized, under the laws of New Jersey. Then surveys were run, and with the rapid growth of mining interests in that section, the outlook for the project seemed bright enough. It is promised that active construction operations shall begin in 20 days.

STOPOVERS TO BE CANCELLED.

The Denver & Rio Grande offices at Denver have decided to cancel the 10 days' stopover privileges on west bound tickets at this city and Ogden, as this has not been authorized by the Western Passenger association. However, stopover privileges on east bound tickets have not been changed.

"THE DESERT" WILL BE THE BIG NOISE

Inland Empire Exposition Next Month To Have Plenty of Amusements for Patrons.

An entirely new and original idea, in connection with the Great Inland Empire exposition to be held in Salt Lake City October 4 to 9, will be the "Desert." Other expositions have had their "midways," "streets of Cairo," and the Seattle fair has the "pay streak," but Utah will go them one better and have an entirely new and novel feature to be known as "The Desert." Contracts have been closed for a great many shows and special features for this avenue and it will make one of the big attractions of the exposition. Negotiations are under way with some of the largest amusement companies of the country and a great many hair-raising and breath-taking "stunts" are promised. The Inland Empire exposition is being advertised throughout the entire intermountain country and there is no question but that it will be one of the greatest attractions ever held in this state and it is certain that enormous crowds will attend. Every person connected with the affair is working in earnest and with the assurances of support already received there is every reason to believe that the exposition will be a distinct winner.

MORE BLEACHERS BUILT.

Nine Additional Tiers Being Erected For Race Goers at Fair Grounds.

Work has been started by the Utah State Fair association on the erection of nine tiers of bleachers 200 feet long which will be built on the west end of the present line. This will give a seating capacity of from 1,500 to 1,800 people in addition to about 2,500 who can be seated on the old bleachers.

A force of 25 men are at work at the fair grounds cleaning up and spreading cinders on the walks preparatory to the opening Oct. 4. Forty cars of cinders are already on the grounds and Secretary Keogh said this morning that 10 cars more would probably be needed to make a good job.

WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH THE NOMINEES

Probabilities Are That Democratic City Committee Will Not Change Ward Convention's Action.

The probabilities are that the Democratic city committee will not interfere with the decision of the ward convention in naming as its candidates for the city council John Holley and H. H. Walters in the mass convention of the Democratic party held in Labor hall Wednesday evening last. The nominations were made after considerable discussion in which the councilmanic nominating caucus first reported that they were unable to agree upon candidates, and then after reconvening the caucus, submitting the name of Mr. Holley, the present city councilman from the Third, as the candidate for the long term and that of Mr. Walters for the short term in the coming campaign. This result of the second deliberation of the caucus was submitted to the convention by the chairman of the delegation from the Third precinct, but was turned down by the convention and the city committee was authorized to call primaries and a ward convention in the Third to name candidates for the council.

The opinion now seems to prevail that the convention had no authority to disregard the conclusions of the nominating caucus; that the report from the ward caucus was equal in effect to the report of the ward convention had it been held separately from the regular convention, which of course the city convention would have no power to reject. Under this view the nominees will stand as the regularly nominated candidates for the position of councilmen, this view being taken by the leading members of the Democratic city committee and of the party.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Judge Charles C. Dey, who was nominated on the Democratic ticket for city attorney by the convention held Wednesday evening, has tendered his resignation to Chairman B. T. Lloyd. In his letter withdrawing from the ticket Judge Dey says: "It would be absolutely impossible for me to serve if elected. Considering the other nominations, there is no room for doubt but that the ticket will be elected."

There is strong talk in the Fourth of naming Royal W. Daynes, manager of the Clayton-Daynes Music company, for the council on the Citizens' ticket.

* * *

The latest political gossip from Murray is to the effect that old party lines have been abandoned for the coming municipal campaign in the smelter city, and two new parties known as the Independent and Citizens have sprung up in their places. Both parties, it is claimed, are urging U. G. Miller to become a candidate for mayor of Murray, but that Mr. Miller has refused to accept on account of failing health.

John A. Hendrickson, who made a strong fight as candidate for mayor of Logan on the Republican ticket two years ago, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Hendrickson says prohibition is the leading issue in the Temple city this fall.

William Archibald, member of the house from Summit county in the last legislature, was a Salt Lake visitor yesterday. Mr. Archibald says the game of politics is warming up over in the Park, and some interesting developments are expected.

Theodore L. Holman, member from Bingham in the house last session, came into town yesterday. He says there is more excitement in Bingham over the municipal campaign than if it were a presidential election.

The ward conventions to nominate candidates for the city council on the Citizens' ticket, will be in the various wards tomorrow night.

A social was given by the "American" club at the headquarters on Second South street last night, at which oratory and song formed the chief pieces de resistances. E. A. McKinney and Joseph Lippman were the "spellbinders" of the occasion, while musical selections were rendered by Miss Alice McLaughlin, Miss Andula Currie, Miss Rose Horan, Miss Lucy and Miss Marguerite Quinn.

HIGH PRICES FOR LAMBS.

J. S. Murdock of Heber Receives $7.80 Per Head at Kansas City.

Lambs are bringing higher prices at the packing centers than have been realized since 1906. J. S. Murdock of Heber shipped to Kansas City 1,164 lambs recently weighing 60 pounds each and receiving $7.80 therefor. It is stated that the so-called lip and lip disease consists of a sore mouth on young sheep caused by taking lambs away from the ewes before their gums are hardened. At the same time lambs put on green tender food are never troubled with the disease. A few buyers for next year's wool clip are reported in Idaho offering prices the same as paid this season.

O. D. BANKS FILES A WARM ANSWER

Charges Wife and Son-in-Law With Attempting to Ruin His Credit.

MILLINER ALLEGES FRAUD

He in Turn is Accused of Violating His Agreement by Going Into Rival Business.

O. D. Banks, president of the Banks Pattern Hat company, filed an answer and counterclaim yesterday in the Third district court to the suit brought by the O. D. Banks Millinery company, owned by his wife and son-in-law, L. R. Eccles of Ogden, charging them with attempting to ruin his credit and seeking damages in the sum of $10,000.

Banks declares that by fraudulent means he was ousted out of the millinery company, which he established and from which he secured immense profits. He was forced to sell his 120 shares in the company, he says, for $12,000 to his son-in-law and his father, David Eccles of Ogden. Banks says that the business affairs of the company have been mismanaged and that it is now heavily in debt. He says that the millinery company has ordered a stock of goods in his name to obtain credit, and sets up a claim against the company for $10,000.

In the suit against Banks, his wife and son-in-law charge him with violating his agreement when he sold out of the company. They say that he promised not to go into the millinery business again in Salt Lake City. As soon as he sold his stock, it is alleged in the complaint, Banks organized the Banks Pattern Hat company. The millinery company asks for damages and a restraining order prohibiting Mr. Banks from engaging in business.

Since Banks sold his interest in the old company, his wife has filed suit for divorce against him, charging him with desertion.

TEN ADJUDGED BANKRUPT.

Judge Marshall Passes on Petitions—Eldredge Owes $31,000.

Ten bankruptcy cases were passed upon by Judge John A. Marshall in the federal court yesterday afternoon, and in every case the applicants were adjudged bankrupts and given the benefit of the law.

With the exception of Frank M. Eldredge, recently the lessee of the Grand theater, none of the debtors were owing very large amounts. Mr. Eldredge owes $31,005.94, most of it being back salaries of actors and royalties for plays produced at the Grand. The value of his assets was given as $50 representing wearing apparel.

Mr. Lovejoy, who conducts the saloon and cafe in the Judge building states that his liabilities amount to $6,866.66, and his assets foot up to $2,580, of which $120 is exempt.

John O. Anderson, a former saloonkeeper, is also in financial trouble. He is now a bartender and owes $5,527 and has $100 worth of assets which are exempt.

John D. Rees, James D. Buckland and W. E. Hawkins, three teamsters, were also among yesterday's bankrupts. Mr. Rees owes $1,305, and owns $380 worth of property. Mr. Buckland was formerly engaged in the saloon business, where he contracted a debt of $1,916. His assets are only $120. Mr. Hawkins places his liabilities at $875.80 but his assets are said to be $1,655, all of which is exempt.

Two policemen, George Harris and Lynn Young, also claimed the benefit of the law. The former owes $756.03, his assets being $150, while the latter places his debts at $651 and his assets at $180.

Christian J. Rigorn, a gardner, owes $397.60, his assets being $35, and William J. Northey, a miner of Bingham, has debts amounting to $424.16, his assets being $129.50.

STRUCK HER WITH A PAN.

Mrs. Becky Ambush, Accusing Her Husband of Assault Seeks Divorce.

Alleging that her husband treated her cruelly, struck her on the side of the head with a frying pan, declared she was "no lady," and then deserted her, Mrs. Becky Ambush filed suit for divorce today in the Third district court against Jake Ambush.

The complaint alleges that the couple were married on April 19, 1900, at Byelostock, Russia. Mrs. Ambush alleges that they came here six years ago and that a year ago he left her and is now in New York. There are no children of the couple.

HURT IN DUST EXPLOSION.

Coal Miner Accuses U. P. Coal Company of Negligence, Seeks Damages.

Abel Dukti, 21 years old, filed suit this morning in the Third district court against the Union Pacific Coal company to recover $5,000 for damages sustained while working in the company's mine at Scofield, Utah, on Aug. 13, 1908. According to the complaint, the company was negligent in allowing coal dust to accumulate in the tunnel in which he was working. When a blast was set off, the accumulated gas and coal dust exploded, and he was buried several feet. His hands were badly burned and his face and neck.

$30,000 FOR A LEG.

Lawrence Bowbottom's suit against the Union Pacific Coal company was called this morning for trial in Judge Armstrong's court. He asks for $30,000 for the loss of his right leg following injuries sustained in the coal company's mines in Cumberland, Wyo. Bowbottom was employed as a miner when a cave-in occurred in the mine on Oct. 27, 1906.

LIVE WIRE KILLED HUSBAND.

Milosaha Trifca and her three children brought suit today in the third district court against the Telluride Power company and the Utah Consolidated Mining company to recover $25,000 as damages for the death of George Trifca, their husband and father, who was killed on Nov. 2, 1908, in Bingham Canyon. It is alleged in the complaint that while Trifca was working in the ore bins at the terminal of the mining company's tramway a high voltage electric wire fell on him, killing him instantly. In the complaint both companies are charged with negligence in attaching the electric wire on the tramway.

NEGRO FALLS OFF CAR.

A negro giving the name of Arthur Williams late of Oklahoma demonstrated this afternoon that he had an excessively hard skull. While standing on the rear platform of a depot car he took a high dive on to the paved street at the intersection of Second South and Fourth West. He landed squarely on his head. Later he was taken to the emergency hospital where the surgeon brought a needle and thread into requisition to close up the last cut at the back of his head.

Saturday Night Ends Great Piano Sale

Consolidated Music Co's Great Piano Sale Lasts Only Two More Days, and Buyers of Pianos at These Prices Must Act Quickly. No matter what Your Favorite, we can suit both you in quality and price.

TODAY'S BARGAINS FULL OF INTEREST

Carload of New Kimball Pianos Are put on Sale at Greatly Reduced Prices. Many New Pianos of Other Standard Makes Taken From Regular Stock and Prices Cut to Ridiculous Figures.

Easy Payments Make Buying Easy

Same Easy Terms as Are Always Offered Will Be Allowed During This Sale in Order to Give Every One Who Really Wants to Take Advantage of Remarkable Bargains an Opportunity to do so.

If you intend to buy a piano this winter, or even within the next year or two, it will be the part of wisdom and economy for you to visit the immense consolidation sale of the Consolidated Music company, now going on at the Beesley Music company's store at 46 South Main (West side), and at the Clayton-Daynes Music company's store at 109-111 South Main (the big store where the big "Steinway" sign is). The sale lasts only two days longer, and more real piano bargains will be crowded into these two days than you imagine is possible unless you visit the sale in person.

In a few words, the situation is simply this: The stores of the Beesley Music company and the Clayton-Daynes Music company, the two largest music stores in the State, are consolidating. Both stores carried pianos of a number of the best known makes in America, and both of them had large stocks on hand at the time the deal was made. In the first place, it would be a physical impossibility to put both stocks in one store, which means that a number of instruments must be sold before the consolidation could actually take place.

Then, again, it would be simply out of the question for one store to carry as many different makes of pianos as both houses have been carrying, so the only thing to do was to sell all the pianos of the lines that are to be discarded, regardless of cost. The fact that both stores ha large stocks on hand makes it necessary to go further than that and include a great many pianos from our regular stock, as we will not have room to carry them all. The store of the Beesley Music company must be vacated at once, as the lease has expired, so we must take drastic measures to move this stock in order to combine the stores. The somewhat unfortunate circumstances in which we find ourselves are certainly fortunate advantages for the person wise enough to seize them. To meet the emergency we have cut the prices on these pianos to the breaking point, and such values as we offer for tomorrow and Saturday are not likely to be heard of again in this city.

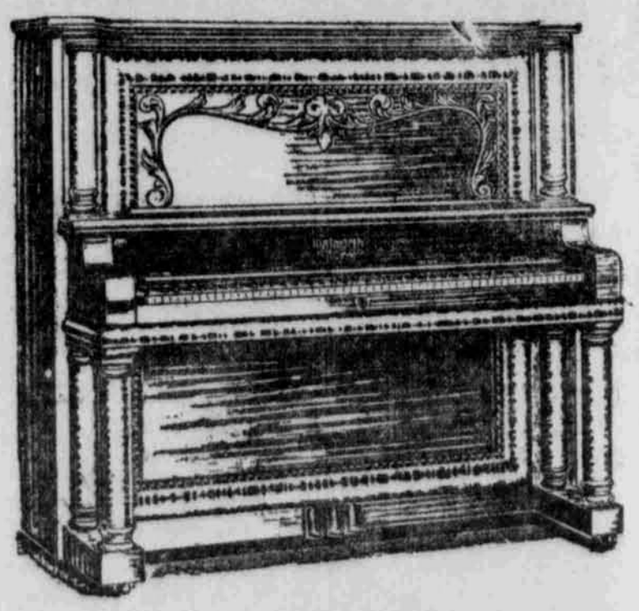
Regular Stock Goes, Too.

In order to make the sale as sweeping as possible we have made decided reductions on almost every piano in the store, including the well known makes that have made this store the greatest in the intermountain west.

Carload of Kimball Pianos.

A carload of Kimball pianos that came in Monday have been thrown into the sale at prices so much below regular that every lover of the Kimball, no matter in how modest circumstances, may now buy an elegant instrument. The saving offered by the sale prices for the next two days ranges from $115 to $185. Is it worth while? We leave the answer to you.

EXTREME SPECIAL—NOTE CAREFULLY.



$350 New Walworth Pianos Today, $187

We have three brand new Walworth pianos, a very popular make and a piano that is fully guaanteed for ten years. There are oak or mahogany cases and they are full cabinet grand size. The mouldings and panels are very handsomely done and the carving throughout is of a high order. These pianos have full improved scale and full bell metal plate with copper, wound bass strings. The tone is round and rich and in every way we consider these pianos as being among the best bargains offered at any time during the sale. You cannot fully appreciate the true merits of any piano without seeing it and hearing it, so we urge you to see these pianos today.

The regular price has always been $350 and at that price more than ordinary value was given. Now for two more days the price will be $187—that is, this price will last two days if the pianos do. We think they will not. If you think about it at all, you will come in as soon as possible and get one.

Other Exceptional Bargains.

Here are just a few of the other good things we have to offer today. Bring this advertisement with you and see if anything is misrepresented.

At the Beesley Music company's store are three brand new Haus pianos that sell regularly for $300 each. There are only three of this make in the store and we want to close them out. So today we price them at $187, and tell you to take your choice. Easy payments at that.

At the Clayton-Daynes Music company's store are four pianos of one of the best makes we carry. The regular price is $325, and at that price they are among our very best sellers. They certainly represent a great opportunity at $216—that's what they go at today.

Then we have five pianos of a certain make in a much higher grade—regularly sold at $450. These are the pianos that the wealthy classes buy as a rule. Now we put them within reach of all classes by making the price for the next two days at $267.50. Terms if desired.

When the sale started, we had nine pianos in one particular make that we decided to put on sale at a price away below actual value. Today there are only three of them left. The regular price is $425. They sell now for $267. Ask to see the "$267 special." It's one of the greatest things in this sale.

We might go on indefinitely enumerating the many good things we have to offer and might convince you that some one particular piano is the one for you, but you'll be better satisfied and so will we if you come to the store today and make your selection. Then you are sure of getting exactly what you want.

Store Open Evenings.

During the sale the store will remain open evenings to accommodate those whose time is occupied during the day.

Cash or Easy Payments.

Even in face of the remarkable reductions in price our plan of easy payments holds good, and after you have selected the piano you want, we can arrange terms to suit.
