DALY'S CASE. NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Addie Stanton, Ella Hammond, Edward Meredith and Henry Herrmann were today arraigned Henry Herrmann were today arraigned in a crowded court-room charged with having attempted to rob and kill Phill Daly, the sporting man, in a Fourth Avenue flat last Monday. Herrmann has made a full confession. The other prisoners Mrs. Stanton, Mrs. Hammond and Meredith were held without bail to await the action of the grand jury. Added to the interest in the court scenes was the fact that during the morning Mrs. Anna Herrmann, the aged mother of Henry Herrmann, attempted suicide after hearing of her son's disgrace. She was brought to with difficulty.

Just before the hearing opened, a

Just before the hearing opened, a dramatic scene occurred in the ante-chamber of the court. Phil Daly was escorted into the room on the left, where Meredith was scated. THE PHISONER was told to stand up. He did se. "Put on your hat," ordered the detective as he threw a white pocket handkerchief over his face. The order was obeyed. Now say "Throw up your hands," said the detective, Meredith refused to obey this command and stood silent and motionless before his accuser with his face covered. "That's the man who shot me, I'm sure," said Daly. Daly was then taken to the antechamber on the other side of the court room, where the same scene was reroom, where the same scene was repeated with Herrmann. Daly after close ly scanning the prisoner said: "He is just the build of the man that was with the other fellow."

At length the complaint and affidavit
had been prepared, and the two men

At length the complaint and amusely had been prepared, and the two men and women were called up on the little platform so they could face Judge Gorman. Daly stood near them and within one arm's length of the man who came so near being HIS MURDERER.

The prisoners were then called upon to answer. Herrmann said: "I de-cline to answer any question until I Meredith, as cool as ever when ad-dressed, said: "I refuse to answer every question." This was all be would say.

Ella Hammond said she was thirty years old, did plain sewing for a living, and was not guilty of the charge.

Herrman in his confession to Inspector Byrnes says he is a hotel butcher.
He met the Hammond woman about two years ago on Sixth Avenue, and two years ago on Sixth Avenue, and they at different times lived together since as man and wife. He met Meredith, the CHIEF CONSPIRATOR, a couple of weeks before the election. He introduced him to Addie Stanten. The outcome of the matter was that about Nov. 28th Meredith told Herrman he had fixed it all with Addie Stanton for a big strike and would give Herrman $15,000 to take a hand. The scheme was to write letters to men of wealth and entice them into the plot. The first one who fell in and was "any good," or had any reputa-tion or money to lose was to be chlo-roformed and robbed. They calculated refermed and robbed. They calculated to get about $30,000 from Daly by threats and blackmail. Herrman was assigned the task of tying and torturing the prisoner. Daly, one of the chosen victims, came once and the chance was allowed to pass. Meredith repreached Herrmann for the slip. The Hammond woman, who is a sort of silent partner in the scheme, was out of the flat when Daly passed through the ordeal. She did not wish to be present at the time. The two democrats and thus formed an affirmative majority on the proposition. In view of the protest made against the adoption of the motion by members of the finance committee in charge of the tariff bill, the vote has been held by some to be significant of the measure before the Senate, and some concern has been expressed by the friends of the bill. To an Associated Press reporter today, Senator Plumb, who is one of those who voted for adjourncance and could not be so construed. SENATOR SHERMAN, in speaking today of the report of the result of the vote in the presidential election in the several states transnitted by the Secretary of State to the senate yesterday under the terms of the law of 1879, said his objection to receiving the report was based on a conviction of the uselessness of the proceeding. If it was not constitutional it was extra-constitutional.

He said he had opposed the bill all the way through, on this ground. It it was intended to be an expression of power by the Senate to control in any way the right of the State to declare its vote in its jurisdiction, it was clearly unconstitutional. If it were merely to have the result published or declared, it was extra-constitutional, in that the same thing was otherwise provided for. It was on this ground that he decided. The report was referred to the com-mittee on privileges and elections, in order that it might be there decided low to dispose of the document. A SENSATION. The testimony of Thomas Terrill be-fore the aqueduct military court of in-quiry today created something of a sensation. He had worked in the tunnel as journeyman bricklayer, and later had been employed for some time as a fore-man, and later still as foreman for Pal-mer & Brennan. In answer to a question mer & Brennan. In answer to a question as to how the packing was done, witness said it was just thrown in dry, just stones, and once in a while a bucketful of plaster "was slobbered" over the top. Witness said that inspector Lucas was present, and not only saw the dry packing thrown in but ordered it to be done. "At one time," said witness, "Lucas said he was not getting enough money out of it as he had to divide with his superior officers." Witness said he had done this work deliberately when Inspector Lucas was standing ever him and ordered him to do it. He had seen Lucas watch the loads of muck which were supposed to be removed from the tunnel, dumped in as packing and smoothed over.

A.Trust Patie. CHICAGO, Dec. 6 .- The Daily News asserts that the real object of the meeting of the druggists of Chicago, St. Louis and Peoria and other points in this city Tuesday was to form a drug trust, but that it failed through the failure of a Chicago wholesale drug-gist to enter the combination. A mem-ber of the firm in question is quoted "Overtures were made to us to go in the combine, the secret purpose of which was to control the drug market and raise the prices. We believe in the freest competition, and the manipulators knew if we did not join them the scheme would fall, for the retail druggists would boycott any firm known to have favored the formation of a trust to infiste prices." Continued on Fourth Page.

A Safe Investment Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of fallure a return of purchase price. On this saie plan you can buy from our advertised druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption, Isfammation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthms, Whooping Cough, Croup, etc., etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon.
