brilling Experience of Engineer Wayment in the Troy Loundry-Ogden Tabernacle Services.

Ogden, Jan. 27 .- Engineer Benjamin utting of Evanston, Wyo., met his eath yesterday afternoon just east of forgan, on the line of the Union Pano by his head striking against the de of a bridge over the Weber river. According to the information brought o Ogden, Gutting was engineer on nion Pacific passenger No. 1 westound. When the train neared Moran a hot box was discovered on one the wheels of the engine. He thought e could pull the train into Morgan efore having it attended to and was noving along at a much slower speed han usual. The engineer got down nto the step to watch the hot box ist as the train was pulling into the ridge; he did not observe the bridge, is presumed, and was struck on the de of the head and knocked from the ngine into the river. The fireman uickly reversed the engine and with thers went back to the bridge where icy found his body lifeless. It is premed the coming in contact with the ridge broke his neck. He was placed h the train and taken to the Morgan ation, and notice of the sad accident nt to the railroad officials, who orderi his body sent back to Evanston on ie next train.

Engineer Gutting has been in the ser-ce of the Union Pacific for many ars and was considered a most care-il man in his work. He had been rung between Evanston and Green Riv-or several years. Among his fellow oloyes he was very popular, and a ng of universal sorrow is felt at his ending. A wife and large family of s and daughters reside at Evanston. was about 45 years of age.

Special Correspondence. Huntsville, Weber Co., Jan. 23.— Tuesday evening, a large audience was pleasantly entertained by Prof. Mosfah Hall of the state university. He dis-cussed in 'a very interesting way the "New Education." His talk was il-lucrated by pictures of the "Old Schoolhouse," and the new, also of the educational work of the university in all departments. The pictures of the works of art were highly appreciated by the audience. The journey of the pioneers from Nauvoo to Utah was ably explained and illustrated by the speaker.
