

The Roman Wrestlers—A Great Match.

New York sporting circles are having a genuine sensation in a contest between two of the famous Greco-Roman wrestlers, Professor William Miller, the champion of Australia and the Pacific coast, and Mr. Andre Christol, the champion of France and Spain. Professor Miller, since his debut as a professional wrestler, has not met with a single defeat, and his herculean proportions fairly forbid the idea of seeing such a man stretched upon his back by another human being; but Mr. Christol, the famous "masked man," who competed with such wondrous success against all comers at the Hippodrome, Paris, during the season of 1867-8, is also claimed to be invincible in this sport and the contest is therefore anticipated with more than ordinary interest. The exact date and place of the match will be definitely fixed at the next meeting; but as both men are in excellent condition and eager for the fray, the date will not be later than the first week in October, and the place one of our best halls—either Irving or Tammany. At the meeting held at the office of the Turf, Field and Farm, yesterday morning, the following articles of agreement were drawn up, and $100 put up as a forfeit:

Articles of agreement entered into this 15th day of September, 1875, between Prof. William Miller, champion of Australia, and Andre Christol, champion of France and Spain, to wrestle in the Greco-Roman style for the championship of America and $500 a side (total stakes $1,000), the match to be decided under the following rules:

1. No hold shall be allowed lower than the waist.
2. The wrestling to be with open hands.
3. No striking, scratching or gouging shall be allowed.
4. Clasp hands shall not be allowed. (Clasp hands means that the wrestlers shall not clasp one of their own hands within the other, nor interlace their fingers, but they are allowed to grasp their own wrist to tighten their hold around their opponent.)
5. The wrestlers must have their finger nails cut close, and they must wrestle either in soft shoes or socks.
6. A fall shall be declared when either man has been fairly put upon his back, with two shoulders on the ground at the same time.
7. In the event of the wrestlers rolling over each other, the one whose shoulders shall touch the ground first, as under rule 6, shall be deemed to have lost one fall.
8. Fifteen minutes' rest shall be allowed between the bouts, and either man failing to appear when time is called, shall be considered to have lost the match.
9. This match shall be decided by either party to this agreement winning three fair falls out of five.
10. Each wrestler shall appoint one judge; the judges in the event of disagreement to submit the question to the referee, who shall decide between them.
11. Mr. Fred J. Engelhardt is hereby mutually agreed upon as referee, and all questions of fair hold or fair fall shall be submitted to him, and his decision shall be final and without appeal.
12. Fifty dollars a side is hereby placed in the hands of F. J. Engelhardt as a forfeit, to be transferred to the hands of the final stakeholder, who shall be chosen on Friday, September 24, at 10 a. m., when the time and place of the match shall also be agreed upon, and $200 a side be put up, the remaining $250 to be posted the evening prior to the match.—N. Y. Times, Sept. 16.

A PUNCTUATION PUZZLE.—The following article forcibly illustrates the necessity of punctuation. It can be read in two ways, making a very bad man or a very good man, the result depending on the manner in which it is punctuated: "He is an old and experienced man in vice and wickedness he is never found opposing the works of iniquity he takes delight in the downfall of the neighbors he never rejoices in the prosperity of any of his fellow creatures he is always ready to assist in destroying the peace of society he takes no pleasure in serving the Lord he is uncommonly diligent in sowing discord among his friends and acquaintances he takes no pride in abhorring to promote the cause of Christianity he has not been negligent in endeavoring to stigmatize all public teachers he makes no exertions to subdue his evil passions he strives hard to build up Satan's kingdom he lends no aid to the support of the Gospel among the heathen he contributes largely to the evil adversary he pays no attention to good advice he gives great heed to the Devil he will never go to heaven he must go where he will receive the just recompense of reward."

HOW TO RESCUE A DROWNING PERSON.—A child may be easily managed by an expert swimmer; but if the drowning person is strong and powerful it is often imperative necessary to keep out of his reach until he is partially exhausted; otherwise he will clutch his rescuer, and both may go down together helpless. Calmness and caution are invaluable in the water. The sufferer will clutch anything extended toward him at first—an oar, branch of a tree, a neck-tie, or a sleeve of jacket, and if the other end of the article can be held in the mouth the rescuer has the use of his arms. But still it is needful to keep out of the reach of the drowning person. Go behind him and push him along, but never attempt to reason with him. If he becomes insensible a good swimmer can easily bring him to the shore or to a place of safety, and then the proper means of restoration should be immediately used. Impulsive recklessness, even though inspired by the most generous feeling, will not be so likely to save a drowning man as thoughtful caution. It may be well to mention that in case one feels cramp coming on while in the water it is best not to stop, but to strike out faster than before; a sudden jerk of the limb is often an effectual relief.—Rural New Yorker.

A new vine disease has excited much uneasiness in Rheintal, Frickthal, and Thurgau in Germany. Vines which are apparently flourishing in the morning wither in the course of the day, without, however, turning yellow, and in a short time die. The symptoms have no resemblance to those of phylloxera.

Notice to the Public!

THREE YEARS' EXPERIENCE HAS TAUGHT US THAT WE CANNOT DEAL IN TWO different makes of wagons with satisfaction to the manufacturers, ourselves and the public.

Therefore, we shall hereafter only buy and sell the

FISH BROTHERS WAGONS.

They have been so steadily and deservedly growing in favor, that we find it next to impossible to sell any other wagon. Ask any person who has bought one for the last two years, and he will tell you he has never had a tire or spoke loose, or a wheel broken or out of repair. He will tell you that the Fish Brothers Wagons run the easiest, and are the best in all respects.

The balance of our stock of Mitchell Wagons on hand we offer for sale at cost.

We thank the public for its generous patronage in the past, and shall try to deserve your kind favors in the future. We know from the letters written us, and the thousands of words of commendation received from purchasers, that in offering you the FISH BROTHERS WAGON we offer you

The Best Wagon on Wheels!

NOTICE TO AGENTS.

We sell no wagons on commission. Fish Brothers' Wagons don't need to go round the country begging for purchasers. We can sell outright all the wagons the manufacturers can furnish us and supply their other demands, and when a wagon leaves our yard, it is sold.

Yours very respectfully,

JOHN W. LOWELL & CO.
