WASHINGTON, 20.—Charles H. Moulton, real estate agent in this city, has left here, leaving debts estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000.

Cabinet Meeting.

The cabinet was in session for two hours, to-day. The principal subjects of discussion were the reports from southern officials in certain States made to the Attorney General. A number of other matters of a routine character were under discussion. Secretary Cameron was not present. The State and Interior departments were represented by Messrs. Cadwallader and Gorham respectively.

The South Carolina Troubles—The U. S. Marshal's Account.

The official report of R. M. Wallace, United States Marshal for South Carolina, addressed to Attorney General Taft, was, among other papers on the condition of the south, read at the cabinet meeting to-day:

CHARLESTON, Oct. 17.

Hon. A. Taft, Att'y Gen'l:

Sir—I have delayed giving you a report of the recent unfortunate political riot near Cainhoy, in this county, until I could get a correct statement of facts. It is one of the legitimate results of the intimidation policy on the Mississippi plan, adopted by the democratic party in opening their campaign, for the purpose of breaking down the republican majority in this State. The first meeting in this county at which the democrats put their shot-gun policy into practice, took place over a month ago on Cooper River, some ten or twelve miles from the scene of the late riot. The republicans had called a meeting, and the democrats in the city chartered a steamboat, taking about 150 well armed men to the meeting. They formed their men in line near the stand and demanded that they should have half the time for their speakers. The republicans did not relish this kind of peaceful political discussion, but the request was backed up by 150 Winchester repeating rifles in the hands of men who knew how to use them, and they consented to a division of the time. Other meetings followed this with a similar display of arms, and in order to avoid the collision which was imminent to each meeting, the executive committees of each party arranged to have a series of joint discussions, and agreed that their people should not come armed to the meetings. The discussions in the county had been mainly going on with more or less bitterness and animosity, mainly growing out of the fact that the democrats carried a large force of men from the city to every meeting, who irritated the republicans by their violent denunciation of their leaders and their party. The meeting at the brick church, near Cainhoy, was called by the republicans, and was largely attended by men who were present at the first meeting at which the democrats had enforced their demand to speak, but had not attended all of the joint discussions, and many of them being suspicious of the democrats, carried such guns as each man had at his home, consisting of old muskets, shot guns and fowling-pieces, but not a militiaman went there with state arms and ammunition as the democrats claim, and the best evidence of that fact is that all the dead were shot with buckshot, and not rifle balls. When these colored republicans were at the place of meeting, their leading men told them that they were violating the agreement by coming armed, and that they must deposit their arms at some place away from the grounds. The colored men complied with the request, and some guns, say fifteen, were placed in an old dilapidated building some fifty yards from the stand, and others were placed across the ravine in the woods. About 150 democrats accompanied their speakers from the city on a steamboat, and soon appeared at the meeting. The first speaker was a democrat, a candidate for prosecuting attorney of the circuit. He was heard through very patiently. He was followed by W. J. McKenly, colored delegate to the Cincinnati Convention from this State.

Soon after McKenly commenced speaking a commotion was observed in the crowd on the side next to the dilapidated building, and McKenly jumped off the stand and said, "Those white men in that house have guns, and are going to shoot." Colored men raised the shout, "The democrats have seized our guns," and made a rush for the other guns. The white men who had secretly slipped into the house and seized the guns, then fired, and the first shot killed an old colored man about seventy years of age, who was standing leaning on a stick, and this is the only colored man who is known to have been killed. The colored men returned with their guns very soon, and attacked the party at the old house, and commenced a general fire on the democrats, who were generally armed with pistols, but they had to retire rapidly toward the boat under a heavy fire. The colored men became furious when they saw that some of their arms had been seized and one of their old men killed. Sheriff Rowen, whom they recognized as their personal and political friend, rushed among them and tried to stop the firing, but they did not cease until all the white men were driven away from the church. Six white men were killed, or have died, and one colored man. Several white men are wounded, but none seriously. It is not yet known how many negroes are hurt.

As soon as the fight ceased the steamboat returned to the city for reinforcements, and over 100 men went back on her on two hours' notice, with arms for themselves and for the hundred men already there. Next morning about 200 more armed men went up on the same boat, which had returned. These armed men were the military companies, or a portion of the companies which Governor Chamberlain ordered to disband two weeks ago. On the night of the riot I telegraphed to Sommerville to the officer in command of the troops for a company to go to Cainhoy. He replied, next morning, that he had only one artillery company, which had no small arms. I then telegraphed to Governor Chamberlain to know where I could get troops, and he referred it to General Ruger at Atlanta, who has ordered a company from Columbia which will arrive to-morrow morning, and I will proceed with them at once to Cainhoy. I will require the armed men there to disperse, and will see that no further rioting takes place.

Troops for the South.

RICHMOND, Va., 20.—A detachment of United States troops from Governor's Island, numbering 120, composed of a battalion of the third artillery and a part of the 11th and 23rd infantry, commanded by Lieut. Col. L. L. Livingston, arrived here to-day, en route for Columbia, S. C. They were compelled to lay over on account of delay at Wilmington, Del. Soon after their arrival a number of the Richmond military called on Livingston and asked permission to entertain the men, which he deemed expedient to decline, but expressed great pleasure at the compliment. Several officers, however, were entertained at the Exchange Hotel. They leave to-morrow morning. Eight other companies will pass through at the same time.

Mysterious Movement of Troops.

ST. PAUL, 20.—A Bismarck special says General Sturges, with eight companies of cavalry, three of infantry, and a section of artillery, moved south, to-day, on the east side of the Missouri.

Gen. Terry, with four companies, moved south on the west side. Their destination is not generally known.

Wool Market.

PHILADELPHIA, 20.—Wool—Colorado, washed 22 @ 28, unwashed 18 @ 22, extra and merino pulled 33 @ 36, No. 1 and super pulled 34 @ 36; California, fine and medium 25 @ 30, coarse, 20 @ 28.

Shipment of Arms for Central and South America.

NEW YORK, 20.—We learn that the steamship Colon, of the Pacific Mail steamship line, on her last trip, took out nearly a full cargo of Remington firearms, destined for various points in Central and South America. There was also a large consignment for Mexico, all the combatants there appearing to be desirous of supplying themselves. The number of weapons of all sorts sent in that direction within the last few months, only excite wonder as to what can be done with so many.

No Reduction.

The Times and Tribune make no reduction in their price this morning, as was generally supposed they would. The Herald charges newsmen about as much for the papers as before the reduction. It is reported that many heavy newsdealers will refuse, after to-day, to handle the Herald, as the profit will be infinitely small.

Escape of Prisoners.

JOLIETTE, Ills., 20.—Six prisoners escaped from the penitentiary to-night by tunneling under the walls.

The Russian Minister on the Situation.

CHICAGO, 20. — The Tribune's Washington special says: The foreign legations have no further news concerning the European troubles, or if they have they do not acknowledge it. The Turkish Minister is absent. The Russian Minister will only discuss the question in the most general way. He did not think Russia was preparing for war, and said, "I do not believe the story of Russia's moving such a number of troops as reported. Our people certainly have a feeling of sympathy for the Servians, and doubtless many may, on this account, flock to their standard and assist them. We have a very large frontier, and one that is impossible to guard in this respect. When a man comes with his passport, if he wishes to go across the border we cannot prevent it; but nothing of this kind has been done with the official sanction of the Russian Government. Everything has been reported as very amicable in all their international relations between Russia, Prussia, Austria and Italy; even England was said to be very friendly disposed. However things may turn out, all will go well with Russia, and she will not resort to war unless driven to it. While I was in Bulgaria, as political governor, and I have been all over Turkey, I saw how badly things were managed, and anticipated trouble. The condition of affairs was such as to shock civilization, and Christianity must, sooner or later, do something to remedy it."

Troops For South Carolina.

LOUISVILLE, 20.—One hundred soldiers from Columbus, O., under Col. Corwin, passed through here this morning, their destination being South Carolina.

Lottery Sharpers Arrested.

CINCINNATI, 20.—U. Y. Seddom, Alex. Hart, and M. Moses, managers of the Covington lottery, claimed to be drawn under the Frankfort grant, were arrested today, on affidavits accusing them of illegally conducting the lottery. The parties were released on bail to appear on Thursday next. The lottery wheel and other implements of the office were seized. The drawings will probably cease for the present.

FOREIGN.

GREECE.

Preparations.

ATHENS, 20.—The Greek ministry has submitted to the Chamber of Deputies a bill authorizing a general levy and the re-organization of the forces. Additional taxation and settlement of the old debt of Greece are also proposed.

BRITISH AMERICA.

Fishing Schooners Wrecked and Loss of Life.

QUEBEC, 20.—A loss on the north shore of six fishing schooners is reported. In one instance a crew of seven in number perished.

GREAT BRITAIN

The Situation Critical.

LONDON, 20.—A Times dispatch from Vienna confirms the report of Germany's rejection of the proposed six months' armistice, and its acceptance by the other four Powers. The correspondent thinks Germany throws her influence with Russia in order to force the other Powers to agree upon a compromise which Russia can accept. He sees in this a prospect of peace, but nevertheless regards the situation as most critical. The report that 250,000 Russian troops were ready to pass through Roumania is undoubtedly an exaggeration, but the correspondent has trustworthy information that the three army corps of Kiliu, Kharkow and Odessa are under orders of mobilization, and there are other signs of preparation in southwestern Russia, but there are indications on the other hand, that the eventuality against which this preparation must be made, is not looked upon as immediately impending. The force which these three southern corps might put in the field is estimated at 100,000 men.

GERMANY.

The Russian and Italian Alliance Denied.

BERLIN, 20.—The Italian design of depriving Austria of her semi-Italian districts is unanimously opposed in Germany. The mediating Powers are actively negotiating for an armistice until December 31st. Its acceptance is considered probable. The reported alliance or understanding between Russia and Italy is denied by well-informed persons.
