

Their golden wedding was celebrated by Hans Sorensen, a well-known citizen of Mariebo, and his wife.

Lieutenant S. Klausen, the principal of the Flakkebjerg co-educational college, is dead.

Diphtheria and scarlet fever, are raging epidemically in many of the parishes on the island of Fyen.

Few and far between were the Danes, who emigrated to America during the three first months of the present year.

On account of the illness of the Danish crown princess, King Oscar, her uncle is soon expected to Copenhagen.

Grand preparations are being made for the celebration of the silver wedding of the crown prince and crown princess.

The King of Denmark Hotel in Copenhagen has established connection by telephone with the Swedish telephone net.

More snow has fallen on the Haukelid mountains this winter than anybody of the now living generation can remember.

The subscriptions for the suffering families of the fishermen who perished during the severe storm (last November) off the coast of Jutland, amount to 127,857 kroner.

Information received at Copenhagen says, that the Czar will arrive here in the latter part of June or the first of July, and stay at Frederiksborg for at least three weeks.

A large annual grant has been assigned by the Diet for the topographic work of the staff of generals, exclusive of the salaries of the staff-officers, who are employed in topography.

Henry Bauer, the well-known literary critic in Paris, writes about Ibsen as follows: "Henrik Ibsen, the Shakespeare of the North, has conquered the Paris of art. He has passed into that crucible Paris where great universal art is tested, clarified, improved, and at present his name beams forth in all its glorious splendor."

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

The prospects for abundant crops in Davis county this year are excellent.

Sanpete county merchants have taken several loads of Provo pottery.

Another rich gold strike is reported from the Tickville district, west of Lehi.

A new town is being located between Emery and Ferron, Emery county.

A new grist mill is to be erected at Huntington, Emery county, this summer.

One shipment of five carloads of flour has been sent from Mount Pleasant to the Salt Lake market.

Kamas, Summit county, has put in an unusually large acreage of general crops this year.

Five citizens of Upton, Summit county, left last week on a general tour of observation to the Big Horn country.

On the Murray property, near Cannon's ranch, Tickville, there is a vein of magnesite that yields $80 in gold per ton.

Samuel T. Allplim, of Panguitch, Garfield county, is under arrest on a charge of burglarizing the postoffice at that place.

The dam of the Gunnison reservoir is to be raised five feet this season. The quantity of water stored will be increased considerably.

The Ephraim Enterprise says that the superintendent of the Sanpete Valley road has threatened not to hire any of the men of Ephraim to work unless the merchants make good their promises in relation to patronizing the road.

Manti merchants are reported to have been informed by Salt Lake wholesale houses that the Union Pacific will not receive freight for the capital of Sanpete. This is regarded as an attempt to freeze out the Sanpete Valley railway.

The first time a hearse was used in Mount Pleasant was on Monday last, at the funeral of Wellington Seeley, an old and highly respected resident of Utah. He came to the Territory in 1847, and was the first justice of the peace of Mount Pleasant.

Garner Thomas, of Coalville, who has been negotiating with Salt Lake men for the operation of his coal mine, says a company has been organized and will put in $30,000 to work the mine. The capacity of the machinery will be 400 tons per day, and it will work up the mine slack into lump coal, which is to be shipped to California.

The Manti city council has nearly a hundred men engaged in straightening and cleaning the creek, and building dams, flumes and aqueducts to prevent the destruction of property. The walls around the tabernacle square are being removed by those having that property in charge, and will be succeeded by a neat iron fence.

The Pioneer Water company, of Fillmore, has decided to construct a reservoir that will store sufficient water to irrigate 5,000 acres. The reservoir will cover an area of one and a half square miles, with an average depth of ten feet. There is a natural basin which can be made into a reservoir with the expenditure of about $2,000.

Last Saturday night Lewis Dorius turned his herd of 160 sheep into Henry Green's corral near Willow Creek, says the Ephraim Enterprise, and during the night they were attacked by a band of dogs. Every sheep in the herd except two were severely bitten. Over fifty of them are dead and it is thought many more will die. This is the third time this spring that a number of sheep have been killed by dogs.

John J. Carroll, whose case was before Justice Thomas Culpit, of Park City, today, will have an opportunity of answering before the grand jury to a charge of assault with intent to murder. The crime committed was of a most diabolical character, and if the intent of the perpetrator had been carried out would have resulted in the death of several persons. The evidence implicating Carroll is purely circumstantial, but presents a strong case against him. His bonds were fixed at $1,000 to await the result of an investigation.

The crime for which Carroll was arrested is exploding giant powder under the steps of John Bogan's residence on Main street, Park City, on the morning of May. On that occasion a terrific report startled the town, breaking the windows in houses along the street and creating consternation in the locality. The actual damage done was not very great, owing to several sticks of giant powder failing to explode. As it was, however, the long flight of steps was partly demolished, four large panes of glass in the front of the house were shattered to atoms, and several articles in the house thrown down. The people in the locality said the explosion caused the earth to shake as though there was an earthquake. Had the powder been rightly used and been all exploded, it is likely that all the occupants of the house would have been killed.

The connection of Carroll with the outrage is believed to be due to domestic troubles. He has been addicted to drunkenness and to ill using his family. Some time ago Mrs. Carroll left him and went with her children to live with Mrs. Bogan. Then Carroll's two daughters were persuaded to go back and live with their father, but in a drunken spree he acted as violently toward them as he had to his wife, and assaulted them with a knife, they having to flee into the darkness and storm to save their lives, and remained out all night. Afterwards they again obtained refuge with Mrs. Bogan.

Recently Carroll has endeavored to persuade his wife to return to him, but her former experience deterred her from doing so. On Thursday night he tried to get her to go up the canyon with him, saying he had rented a house there and wanted her to see it. He said he was going to take the temperance pledge. She refused to go, however, feeling that her life would not be safe, and subsequent events indicated that her fears were well grounded, as the giant powder outrage points to the fact of an attempt to murder her.

The circumstances connecting Carroll with the affair are: He should have been at work Thursday night, but was not, being at Bogan's at 10 o'clock, when he came to see his wife, and because she would not go with him cursed and swore like a pirate; he was seen in the Union tunnel, where the Ontario company keep its powder, about midnight; just as the explosion occurred he went into a saloon near by; his past record as a powder user is against him, as on a former occasion when his wife left him and took refuge at the residence of a Mr. Winn, Carroll exploded giant caps on the roof of Winn's house; at another time, when the Union concentrator was being built, Carroll had a quarrel and began throwing powder into the boiler room, causing the men to rush out of the building, but fortunately none of it was ignited.

LADIES' MEETING.

Sisters Zina D. H. Young and E. B. Wells returned Wednesday, May 2 from Utah county, where they have been attending the meeting of the sisters. On Monday, April 30, the Relief society conference of Utah Stake was held at Lehi, Mrs. Mary John presiding. There were two meetings, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. as usual. The Lehi meeting house was filled. Bishop Cutler and a num-